Elks Plan For Comfort Of Guests

Salem women are interested in the opening of the new Elks Temple on the corner of State and Cottage not only with a supplementary interest to that of their father, brother or husband Elks but because the new building contains women's quarters that for convenience, spaciousness and sheer beauty rival the most exclusive eastern clubs.

Every feature to add to milady's comfort, please her eye, or contribute to her ease has been installed without a thought of expense. The ladies' corridor leads from the ladies' entrance on south Cottage street, entirely apart and separate from the main entrance and the main club rooms to an exquisitely beautiful ladies' parlor. One is struck at the first glance of the ladies' parlor with the attractiveness of the walls of Tiffany gold — almost a bronze with tints of green. At the win dows are drapes of orinco silk damask, harmonizing perfectly with the walls, and underfoot is a thick Admore Wilton carpet which also blends with the bronze and gold of the room. The furniture is Italian period of brown mahogany upholstered in mohair velour. There are tall straight backed chairs, easy chairs, and against the south wall a long davenport. An attractive telephone table, the intercommunicating telephone with a dream of a bridge lamp furnishing just the proper amount of light, are other features. Adjoining are completely equipped lavatories of white tile and marble.

Opening off the ladies' parlor is the main dining room which has another entrance through the Cottage street corridor leading from the main lobby. A number of large windows curtained with fibre silk figured net, stippled walls shading from the orange to pink, and a most attractive block dado cornice tinted with the deep orange centers and shading to the light, dark oak floors, combine to make a most beautiful background for the women who will be guests of Elks at luncheon or dinner. Every woman will want to see the pantry and kitchen adjoining — complete from steam tables to refrigerating system.

The domain of mere woman in this man's club extends farther than the ladies' parlor and the dining room. On the second floor, in the northeast corner, is the ladies' retiring room connected by a corridor with the auditorium and dancing room. At the end of the ladies' corridor directly opposite the ladies' entrance from Cottage street, is a short flight of stairs and a heavy mahogany sliding door which when pushed back opens directly on the main staircase. Both ways are beautiful vistas. Looking toward State street one has an unimpaired view of the main lobby with its floors of heavy rubber blocked tiling laid diagonally, its walls of a soft shade of mauve, with a frieze and cornice of deep ivory, green and gold, with side lights of bronze, the most beautiful drop lights of wrought bronze with orange and old gold bowls, its woodwork of Philippine mahogany, and deep armchairs of Spanish leather placed about. At the foot of the staircase, one on each side, are two statues of pure white marble sculptured by Baldeel in Italy. One represents the goddess of Darkness who was also the mother of destiny and supposed to control all destinies. The other is the Roman goddess of dawn. Each holds above her head a ball of light.

From this staircase also can the women who are guests at the club obtain views of the main reading room on the northeast corner of the building. One gets glimpses of subdued lights from the six reading and bridge lamps about the long rooms. Huge arm chairs of Spanish leather, a heavy Bundahr Wilton carpet laid on Calla Felt, a fireplace of Batchelder tile, and harmonizing drapes of Jacquard silk damask at the windows on the east and north walls, form a tantalizingly beautiful room. Cloak rooms, card rooms, and on the west side of the building the billiard room, and complete buffet, each equipped with the very best that could be purchased and arranged with an eye to beauty, are other parts of the main floor seen from the main staircase but which, after all, are not as interesting to the women guests as their own quarters.

Ascension of the main staircase leads one on the second floor to a large square hall. On the west side is the lodge room which in its beauty and spaciousness defies description. On the north are the auditorium, and the women's retiring room adjoining. As in the ladies' parlor on the main floor, neither money nor thought was spared in the furnishings and equipment. Furniture of fibre covered wire—newer, more beautiful and much more durable than wicker—with upholstering of damask, stippled walls, lamps and heavy carpet on the floor—these are only a few of the auxiliaries of the big room. On the south wall will be a twenty by sixty mirror with reflected light on the baseboard that will permit milady to obtain a perfect view of her feet. One is attracted greatly by the four little Italian lamps suspended from the ceiling. Each is a poem in craftsmanship. The drapes are of gold and blue silk damask. Tile and marble lavatories and a cloak room adjoin.

The auditorium is fully as beautiful as the smaller rooms of the club. Stippled walls, a cove ceiling with indirect lighting, a frieze of garlands in the natural colors, tall arched windows with their drapes of monk's waffle cloth banded with deep green velour, and a curtain of heavy green velour at the stage at the end of the room, are only a few of the beautifying factors. The heavy English linoleum will be waxed for dancing.

A survey of the entire building shows complete harmony. Discordant notes are lacking and there is an attention to detail that can only please the most discriminating of women.

Miss Dorothy Pearce, who returned recently from New York, and Franklin B. Launer, who has just completed a year's study abroad, both prominent Salem musicians, were honor guests in the H. T. Love gardens last night when Miss Iva Claire Love and Miss Lucille Rose complimented them at an eighteen cover dinner.

A group of well known Salem musicians and music patrons were guests. Summer flowers in shades of orange and bronze centered the long table spread beneath the trees.

Cauthorn Family Has Reunion

Fifty descendants of A. Cauthorn who came to the Willamette valley from Mexico, Missouri, in 1864, gathered at Helmick park on the Luckiamute river on Sunday for the annual reunion of the Cauthorn clan. They came from Portland, Albany, Corvallis and Salem. A. Cauthorn was one of Corvallis' first merchants and Cauthorn hall on the O. A. C. campus was named for his son, Thomas Cauthorn. The family is one of the best known in the valley.

Special reunion guests were Mrs. Theo Williams and her sister, Miss Emma Cauthorn of Mexico, Missouri, who are spending the summer with Oregon relatives.

Picnic dinner was served at noon and various amusements were arranged for the afternoon.

Included in the group were Mrs. Williams and Miss Cauthorn of Missouri, Mrs. F. L. Cauthorn and Miss Mamie Cauthorn of Portland, Mrs. Anna Williamson of Albany, Mrs. Maude Keady and two children, Betty and Gertrude, of Waldport, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Williamson of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. John Buchanan of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Buchanan and children, Ruth, AlleeLee, Maurice and Gordon, of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Williamson of Albany, George H. Currey and Martha Jean Currey of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCallister and Doris, Allen and Marjorie McCallister of Salem, A. W. Cauthorn of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Cauthorn of Eugene and three children, Clayton, Malcom and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gray of Corvallis and daughter and son, Madeline and Joe junior, Mr. and Mrs. Judd Smith and son Loren, of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Glass of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cauthorn of McMinnville, Mrs. Martha Evans of Portland, Miss Caroline Evans of Portland, Mrs. Mary M. Cauthorn and Miss Florence Cauthorn of Salem.

Miss Mary Erickson entertained members of the Grax club in her home on Wednesday evening. The group included girls who attended the Y. W. camp at Taylor's grove and during the evening a number of prints were made of pictures taken at that time. In the group were Miss Marian Wyman, Miss Mabel Savage, Miss Elizabeth Fairchild, Miss Loretta Varley, Miss Ruth Stover, Miss Valleda Ohmart, Miss Bernice Mulvey, Miss Lucille Davis, Miss Irene Breithaupt, Miss Imogene Gardiner, Miss Myrtle Smith and the hostess, Miss Mary Erickson.

Club Women Lend Aid to Health Work

Marion county club women will give their hearty cooperation to the health program, they will equip "loan closets" with all the supplies necessary for the doctors and nurses examining children in the various centers of the county, they will accentuate the positive side of health and they will attempt to teach the mothers of the county to think health instead of sickness. These resolutions were reached by the clubwomen of the county, who are members of the health committees of their various clubs, at a meeting in the Marion county health demonstration headquarters yesterday which was called by Mrs. E. E. Fisher, appointed chairman of the county child welfare committee by the president of the Marion county federation of women's clubs, Mrs. W. W. Allen of Mill City.

Mrs. Fisher presided at the meeting and Dr. Walter H. Brown, head of the county program, Miss Eleanor Thompson, who has charge of the nursing service, Dr. Estella Ford Warner, one of the assisting physicians, spoke to the thirty five club women from all parts of the county, on the work of their organization. They stressed the fact that their work is diagnostic rather than medical and that theirs is not entirely a charity service. As head of the health work among the federated clubs Mrs. Fisher outlined activities for the clubs, both singly and collectively.

House guests for several days during the past week of Mrs. C. F. Emmett were Rev. and Mrs. J. York of Washington, D. C., and Mr. York's brother whose home is in Florida.

An interesting and thoroughly delightful visit was terminated on Wednesday when Miss Marie Emge who was the house guest for several weeks of Mrs. W. H. Byrd, returned to her home in Austin, Texas. She will visit a brother in Billings, Montana, and her mother and sister in Fairbault, Minnesota. She will return to Austin where she is director of the schools at the Texas children's training school. At this time Miss Emge will assist in the opening of a new $50,000 school building which has just been completed there by the state, for its defective children. During her Salem visit Miss Emge was a guest of Mrs. Byrd on numerous motor trips to all points of the state and was entertained at the Byrd summer home at Newport.

Younger Girls Guests At Dinner

A group of the younger girls who are planning to enter college in the fall were honored at an attractive dinner at the Gray Belle last night when five alumnae members of Alpha Xi Delta entertained for them. The hostesses were the Misses Myrtel Palker, Odile Matthews, Ruby Drager, Mildred Hansen and Danta Robbine.

Snap dragons, delphinium and astere, in shades of blue and old gold arranged in a large crystal bowl formed an attractive centerpiece on the dining table laid in the Chinese room. Yellow favors completed the color plan.

Covers were laid for Miss Edith Brotherton, Miss Janice McAese, Miss Genevieve Elkins, Miss Ethelva Elkins of Eugene, Miss Fay Waseom, Miss Mary Drager, Miss Doris Loveland, Miss Dorothy Baker and the hostess.

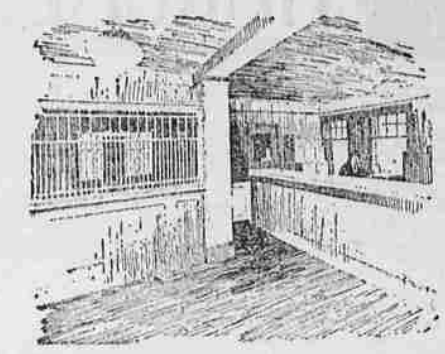
CHILDLESS HOMES

Read Mrs. Benedict's Letter Praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kewanee, Illinois.—"When I was married about a year and a half I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because of ill health. I did not have any children. I now have two healthy little girls and I am sure I would not have had them had it not been for your medicine. Last spring and summer I got all run-down, irregular, and I had awful headaches, and my back and side hurt me so that I could stay up only a short time. My limbs would get so tired and ache till I could cry. I started to take the Vegetable Compound again and used the Sanative Wash, and it was not long till I was relieved. Now I do all my own work and help others. I sure praise Lydia E Pinkham's medicines to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles. I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger. People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my 'teens and until I started taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Mary R. Benedict, 313 Payson St., Kewanee, Ill.



Gambling Is NOT Investing

Investment means money placed in profitable channels where safety is considered of paramount importance. Where the element of gambling occurs, speculation is the only term that can be applied.

Hawkins & Roberts have eliminated gambling from investing for nearly ten years in the Salem community. We have never been the cause of the loss of a single dollar to any investor. Naturally, then, many are making their investment headquarters with us.

You can always be assured of our cooperation in making your money grow to the best advantage.

Cuticura Heals Blisters All Over Body And Hands

"My trouble began with little blisters that appeared all over my body and hands and after a couple of days would break and form large, sore eruptions. They had an itching sensation that was almost unbearable at times, especially upon retiring and arising in the morning. The breaking out was unsightly, especially on my hands, and when I got warm in bed the irritation used to keep me awake.

"I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Mary M. Mingis, 5124 Maple Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Keep your skin clear and your pores active by daily use of Cuticura Soap. Heal irritations and rashes with Cuticura Ointment.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass." Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.
