

RECORD YIELD FOR CRANBERRIES EGGS HIGHER

Portland, Aug. 28.—With the cranberry harvest at hand in the lower Columbia river basin, growers now place their total yield at approximately 50,000 boxes. This is the largest crop that has ever been in sight for the coast and it will not only set up a new production record, but will also see the realization of dreams of pioneer growers, who years ago thought that some time the crop might reach 50,000 boxes.

There is little doubt now but what the 1925 crop will reach the above figure, as danger from insect devastation is now past, with the pests well controlled throughout the growing season.

The size of the crop this year indicates a lower opening price. Indications are that the market will open at least $1 a box less than last year or around $2.50 a box.

Bag prices are higher again today with extra and outlets advancing one cent on the dairy exchange at 41 and 35 cents respectively. Current receipts were posted a half cent higher at 31 cents. Other grades unchanged. The market is firm.

The local butter market continues to maintain a steady tone. Both prints and cube prices are unchanged with current market sufficient for all requirements.

Country dressed hogs are slightly easier along the coast. Receipts are showing a small increase and the demand is not so brisk, that of stuff moving at 18 1/2 to 19 cents although real fancy hogs still bringing 19 1/2 cents. Choice light veal unchanged at 16 to 16 1/2 cents.

Live poultry market steady with all lines moving out in a healthy fashion. Prices, while generally unchanged, are showing a firm undertone.

WOOL MARKET BARELY STEADY MOHAIR QUIET

Boston, Mass., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: Although there has been a fair demand for wool on the whole, the course of the wool market in this country has been rather aimless and prices have been barely steady. More attention has been given to medium wools this past week, with prices down a cent or two in the greater for domestic descriptions from recent quotations. The foreign markets, especially Australia are in rather sharp contrast with the domestic markets. Brisbane showed an advance of a good five per cent on a wretched selection this week, due chiefly to French buying. Bradford is feeling better and has marked up top prices. The manufacturers seem to be having a fairly good business on worsted lines and fine millinery cloths, especially seem to be in good request. Manufacturers almost without exception want very quick deliveries when they purchase wool. Mohair is quiet but generally steady. Sourced basis: Oregon eastern No. 1 staple $1.25 and $1.23; fine and fine medium combing $1.13@1.20; eastern clothing $1.19@1.15; valley No. 1, $1.19@1.15.

PRUNE CROP IS SPOTTED; SOME ORCHARDS GOOD

Dallas, Aug. 28.—The near approach of the 1925 prune season has uncovered the fact that numerous favored localities have orchards with a fair crop of prunes, notwithstanding the fact that many of the best orchards in the district are too light to figure much in the market this year.

Frank Zumwalt, who lives a short distance this side of Perrydale reports that his young orchard of about 4000 trees will yield him between 3000 and 4000 boxes—a very good crop considering the size of the trees. There seems to be a strip of some length through that particular locality where prunes are good, but the orchards are mostly young.

East of Dallas there are a number of young orchards with good crops. E. A. Gwin is one of the lucky growers. George Gohrke will also have a fair yield of prunes. One grower declared Wednesday that he probably would begin picking next week unless conditions changed. This is chiefly because it is feared dry rot may develop under present weather conditions, but prunes are ripening rapidly too. No particular locality has been reached among growers as to picking prices. In orchards with a fair yield it is thought the 8-cent price of last year will prevail, while in orchards with light crops the pickers and owners will get together after they find how the work pans out.

GLOVER SEED THRESHING ON

Rain delayed threshing of clover seed which was being resumed today, although showers may have caused another delay. According to reports, however, S. H. Robinson of Rickreall threshed out six bushels to the acre and John Sigmund of Gervais did as well with his crop this year. Three or four bushels to the acre is considered a pretty good average yield, four bushels being considered excellent. So few reports have come in it is difficult to tell yet what the general results will be on the crop, but the two reports indicate extraordinary yields for these farmers.

WHEAT AND CORN BOTH GO DOWN

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Wheat opened 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, with September $1.56 to $1.56 1/2, and December at $1.53 1/2 to $1.54, but the rally sent September to $1.57 1/2 and December to $1.57. The selling orders at $1.57, however, caused a slump of half cent and the market steadied at this figure.

Corn opened 1/2 down to 3/4 up, with September at 94 1/2 to 94 1/2, and December at 94 1/2 to 94 1/2. Provisions were slow and slightly higher.

Wheat closed 1 to 1 1/2 cents down with September at $1.55 1/2 to $1.55 1/2 and December at $1.53 1/2 to $1.53 1/2. September corn closed at 92 1/2 @92 1/2 a new low mark for the season.
