To the Editor: The courage that defends a seemingly innocent man's life, is not blah. I am defending Elsworth Kelly, because I know of no actual crime, that he has committed. If he really did kill Guard Holman, I have nothing to say, as far as I know it has not been proven that he actually did, unless it is proven, not circumstantially, but possitively (an excited indictment doesn't really make it true). If the state hangs him for something he did not actually do, then it is the state, that actually becomes a murderer, not only of Kelly, but through its inefficiency of its noble employee Mr. Holman. I have been told that the state did murder one man innocently an African nobleman of nature. Kelly's only crime was to try to release persons from some county jail, (He did not keep within the law). In trying to escape from the pen he risked his own life from the guns of the guards, who knows that he intended to kill or that he did kill. Of this he may be as innocent as you or I. I don't blame him for trying to escape, I blame those who left it possible. Oregon's honest majority, defeated capital punishment. The June election swung in when few people go to vote kept within the law, a law, that was not justice to the state's full vote. 'Twas thus, the blood thirsty won. If Kelly didn't actually kill, and Governor Pierce is afraid to interfere, let him write a pardon, and then send for me, I will present it to Kelly. I ask for his freedom.
