BEARCATS OPEN GRID PRACTICE HERE NEXT WEEK

The Willamette athletic field will be put in readiness this week for football practice, which is to start Tuesday, September 15, it was stated today by Guy Rathbun, athletic mentor at the university.

"There should be seven or eight letters men back in suits this fall," said Rathbun, "but it's impossible to tell just what kind of material will be on hand until the men get here. Grades and tuition are raising hob with some of them."

A tentative lineup includes Faehnest, Koolstrom, Fletcher, Harting, Rhodes, Stolze and Swelling, all of last year's aggregation. Rathbun is keeping quiet about what new men are expected to appear. Post, Isham, Findlay and Cramer, all of last year's team, will not be back, Rathbun states.

The first game of the season will be against the University of Washington, at Seattle. The game will take place Saturday, September 26. Registration at the university here begins on September 21, or Monday of the same week. The remainder of the Willamette football schedule will be as follows:

October 3, O. A. C. at Corvallis; October 10, Oregon State Normal school, at Salem; October 17, alumni; October 24, C. P. S., at Tacoma; October 31, Whitman college, at Salem; November 7, Linfield, at Salem; November 14, open; November 21, Pacific university, at Salem. The Pacific game will close the season in all probability, Rathbun states, although there is some possibility that a Thanksgiving day game may be arranged.

The game with the University of Southern California, which was tentatively scheduled last year, will not be played. "We could have had the game if we had wanted it," Rathbun says, "but nobody seemed to want it very badly. It would have meant a long trip into a hot climate."

Die—Col. Alvin C. Baker of Portland has been placed in charge of the headquarters of the Oregon national guard here during the absence of Major Thomas E. Riley, who left Saturday for a two weeks vacation. Adjutant General White is absent in the east.

H. H. Brown, who lives near Halls Ferry, was hurt this morning as he was coming to Salem to work, when the light roadster in which he was riding turned completely over, catching him underneath it. The accident was caused by a bolt working loose from the steering gear, causing Mr. Query, who was driving, to lose control of the car. The roadster ran into a quantity of loose gravel at the edge of the road, resulting in the accident. When Brown attempted to eat this noon he found that the food pained him. It is feared that there may have been internal injuries. Query was not seriously injured.

"Then this unreserved land is almost worthless for homesteading unless it is improved by reclamation?" said Senator Stanfield. "Yes," was the reply.

E. T. Allen, forester in charge of western forestry and conservation association was the first person called.

He asked that the government appropriate funds to aid in maintaining fire patrols and in fighting fires in the timbered public domain in the western states. He said that now private owners and the states are paying the government's share for this work.

"These sections of the public domain form a great fire hazard to all surrounding property," said Allen, "and they must be cared for as best we can. The danger of the spread of fire is as great from poor lands as from the better timbered tracts."

Allen thought the government's share for the work of safeguarding the public domain outside the national forests and other tracts cared for now, would be from $50,000 to $75,000 annually. The committee will be in Pendleton Thursday and Friday and in Baker Saturday.

Three Vital Questions Every Advertiser Should Ask

Most advertisers today protect their appropriations by demanding complete information on circulation—with the three following questions answered in the affirmative the advertiser is absolutely sure of adequate returns.

- 1.—Does it reach the field desired?
- 2.—How much net paid circulation has the publication?
- 3.—Are the publishers' claims verified and corroborated by an Auditor's report from the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

We are proud to be in a position to qualify to every demand of the advertiser, as our records are regularly examined by the A. B. C.

Our last audit report is available and open for inspection and is full of facts that the advertiser should know in the placing of his appropriations.
