

SENATOR WALSH SAYS ANTI-DRY SENTIMENT LAX

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Opposing views as to popular sentiment against prohibition are held by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university and Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.

President Butler in declining a challenge to debate the subject with Representative William D. Upshaw of Georgia said his voluminous correspondence indicated the present prohibition policy would lose five to three in a national referendum.

Senator Walsh, who returned from an European tour yesterday says that while there is much hillyhooing in New York, not a wet whisper is heard in the corridors of Washington. "If the elected representative is eager to reflect the opinions of his constituency," he said, "then there is no sentiment against prohibition."

Dr. Butler in a statement published today says that Representative Upshaw "shows no realization of the fact that an enormous number of Christian men and women who are opposed to the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act and who do not intend to repeal until they obtain their repeal, have no interest in the use of alcoholic liquors. They are, however, profoundly concerned for preservation of the 'bill of rights.'"

FREE BUSES LOSE AT GERVAIS

For a second time in two weeks, at a hot meeting at Gervais last night, opponents to free transportation for school children of the Gervais union high school district won a victory. Two weeks ago an effort was made to put over a $1500 appropriation charged against the district for transportation of children from the North Howell section to Gervais. The vote was 79 against to 57 for the proposal.

It was brought up again at a meeting at Gervais last night and lost by a vote of 64 in favor to 62 against. Opponents of the plan say had it carried they would have protested it on their round that people not authorized to vote at

A single teaspoonful of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN Will restore good humor

Mothers! Apply Common Sense

THIS is the era of the prevention of disease and sensible people do not wait until sickness has actually come before remedying the trouble. The crowded hospitals everywhere are sad examples of the results of neglect. Be especially watchful of children. Restlessness, lack of normal appetite and feverishness usually indicate constipation. Stop it that instant with a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will have prevented real sickness. Mrs. Bewie Conklin, Kingsport, Tenn., and Mrs. Avila Carrigan, Laconia, N. H., avoid illness in the family through their prompt use of Syrup Pepsin.

A Great Family Laxative

It may be difficult to decide just what medicine to use out of the many that are offered, but it would not be if you knew the facts. There are laxatives, cathartics, purgatives and physics, and they vary in their reaction on the system. Naturally, the stronger the medicine, the more it shocks the system, so wise parents never give anything but a laxative to children. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative, a vegetable com-

Three Rules of Health

Always keep a bottle of Syrup Pepsin in the family medicine chest. Give it to any one from infant to grandparent, for it is safe, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give it for constipation, torpid liver, indigestion, biliousness, headache, colds and other evidence of bowel obstruction. Dr. Caldwell, who was a practicing physician for 47 years and who originated this formula, had three rules of health that he found very effective among his patients, which you can follow with great benefit: Keep the bowels cool, the feet warm and the bowels open.
