BORAH SAYS FRENCH ABLE TO PAY DEBT

Concessions Not Necessary In Face of Big Private Loans Being Negotiated, Claim.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee today asked Secretaries Mellon and Hoover of the American debt funding committee for full information concerning recent loans made in this country to European nations.

The Idaho senator said he had been informed that foreign nations were obtaining loans in this country at six and eight per cent interest and that the amount of such private loans to foreign countries and industries during the last year had reached one billion dollars with one billion more in the progress of negotiation.

Press dispatches, the letters to the cabinet officers stated, declared that prospective settlements will pave the way for a flood of loans to Europe.

Senator Borah holds that if European governments are negotiating large loans in this country at this time at six and eight per cent interest, giving security acceptable to American bankers, the foreign debtor nations can afford to pay the terms the same as were imposed in the settlement of the British debt to the United States economically and financially. France is able to pay her debt on that basis, Senator Borah holds.

ASCELLSON SHENANDOAH PROBE TOPIC

Witnesses Disagree As To Whether Chambers Burst Before or After Ship Broke Apart.

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Conflicting testimony as to whether any of the helium gas coils gave way before the airship Shenandoah broke up was given today before the naval court of inquiry.

Chief Rigger Arthur E. Carlson testified that so far as he had knowledge, all the gas bags were intact up to the time the ship broke up. Only one cell came under his personal observation, however.

Storm Very Severe. Questioned by Commander Rosendahl, Carlson said he heard farmers at the scene of the wreck say that the storm had blown down trees and leveled corn in the field. He testified also that he saw the electric lights in a nearby town go off. This was while the Shenandoah was fighting the storm.

While the ship was plunging downward, Carlson testified he saw the effects of control wires running from the control car back to the rudders cutting through the framework at the keel, spars were flying from the points where the wires cut through.

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Re-examined today before the naval court of inquiry, Colonel C. G. Hall, United States army observer aboard the Shenandoah on her fatal flight, said his statement of yesterday that the failure of two engines of the ship furnished a possible contributing factor to the disaster was more in the nature of an assumption than a statement of fact.

"Do you know at what time the engines failed?" asked Lieutenant Commander Rosendahl, senior surgeon.

Man Who Tipped
Booze Ring Off
Killed in Auto

New York, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Police headquarters today received information that David Brand, alleged pickpocket, narcotic peddler, and rum runner, who was found dead in a sedan in the upper east side this morning, furnished a tip that led to the raiding of the bootleggers' headquarters in the Knickerbocker and Longacre buildings in Times Square Wednesday by federal agents.

The Times Square raid, conducted by more than a score of department of justice agents and police uncovered what was later described as the "biggest bootlegging agency in the country."

Ten arrests were made, among them Max Greenberg, who, United States Attorney Buckner declared was the brains of the illicit organization.

From bank checks and vouchers the raiders found indications of unusually large financial operations which they said indicated nationwide activities.

REDS GAMBLE WITH FUNDS; WIN MILLION

Radicals Speculate With Money Contributed "To Fight Capitalism" And Reap Rich Harvest.

New York, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—Radical organizations receiving assistance from a fund created by Charles Garland of North Carver, Mass., "to fight capitalism," have made more than $1,000,000 in Wall Street in the last two years. The American fund for public service has increased from $500,000 to $1,500,000, Morris Ernet, counsel for the foundation, revealed today, despite the fact that $500,000 has been given away to various radical organizations and publications.

Gain 2000 Per Cent. "Some of our securities rose in value 2000 per cent in two years," Mr. Ernet said. "A large part of our capital was stock in the First National bank which increased more than $1000 a share. It shows that radicals are conservative when it comes to handling money on a large scale."

Dr. Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for mayor, described the fund's success in making money in Wall Street as one of the greatest jobs of the season. "It's not a joke on us," he said. "It's a joke on George F. Baker, chairman of the board of directors of the First National bank."

"Baker came of the richest men in the country making money for the radical movement."

"Tainted Money." Garland, Harvard graduate and socialist, established the fund in 1922 with the $500,000 he refused to accept as his share of the estate of his father, James A. Garland, Boston millionaire. He is now living on a farm near Easton, Penn.

"Private property is the main cause of unhappiness," Garland said at the time. "The longer you have money, the harder it is to see straight."

MAJOR LEAGUE
STAR VISITING
FRIEND IN CITY

Kenneth Williams, teammate of Roger Hornsby of the St. Louis Nationals, is a Salem visitor for a few days where he is visiting Victor McKenzie. Williams played regularly until a few weeks ago when he was hit on the head by a pitched ball which knocked him out and forced him out of the lineup for the rest of the season. The count at the time he was hit by a rookie hurler was three balls and no strikes. Williams was standing a distance from the plate at the time and was not thinking of anything but a walk.

"Ken," as he is known to most of the baseball followers, has been playing great ball with his club. He is a good hitter and has been at or near the top of the home run sluggers in the National league for the last two years. Williams has been spending a few days at his home in Grants Pass and may possibly go to Newburg in the near future where he has relatives.

"Priced" Edwards, manager of the Salem Senators, was making efforts to get Williams to play in the outfield for him in the game next Sunday. Williams might play but it is thought he will be unable to get into the game on account of his injury and his contract with the major league club. There is some talk of his unimpaired in case he does not play with the Senators.

Eugene, Or., Sept. 25.—All attendance records for the Lane county fair were broken here yesterday—Eugene day—when 17,000 paid admissions were recorded. An address by Governor Pierce was a feature of the day's program.

Few Hubbies Seek To Keep Wives In Dark As To Income

Publication of income tax returns for Marion and Polk counties by The Capital Journal has brought but few protests and practically no requests for the suppression of names.

SENATORS SURE OF PENNANT; CAN LOSE ALL GAMES

New York, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—The American league pennant flew on-challenged at the Washington mast today for the second consecutive season.

Clark Griffith's Senators made certain of meeting the Pirates in the world series by sweeping both ends of a double header against Cleveland yesterday 4 to 1, and 6 to 2, while the Athletics were out of the playoffs in an 11 inning contest, 6 to 4.

Nine games ahead, Washington can lose all its remaining games and still take the flag.

Linning the Tigers to four hits, Ruffing pitched shutout ball for the Red Sox yesterday, 5 to 0, reducing the chances of the Colts, men finishing better than fourth. The Tigers' defeat coupled with the St. Louis victory over the Mack men put Detroit two and one half games behind the third place Browns.

Rube Roth beat the White Sox by a homer in the ninth with the bases filled, making the score 6 to 5.

Roth's twenty-first homer of the season marked the sixth time in his career that he had delivered a four-ply smash with the sacks filled.

Pittsburgh, with the National pennant already won, could afford to suffer a shutout, four to nothing at the hands of the Giants, but New York had the satisfaction of clinching second place in spite of a 2 to 2 verdict scored by Cincinnati over Brooklyn in 11 innings.

Bob McGraw, Brooklyn recruit from St. Paul, allowed only eight hits. Eppa Rixey was his own game with a single which drove home the deciding tally.

Selection of Site
For New Linen Mill
Rests With Experts

With interest in the new Oregon Linen Mills now centered on the question of the site, directors of the corporation state that this is a matter which will hang fire until two experts arrive from Canada to have an opportunity to go over the field thoroughly and pass on the desirability and advisability of the various sites selected. A number of such sites are in view, some of them having been offered on the market for the purpose, and others taken under consideration as being possibly available for the development of the mill. But no consideration, whatever, will be taken of any of them until men well versed in the industries and its location needs have an opportunity to pass on the various sites and telling just why they are or are not available for the purpose.

Also, nothing can be done in regard to the question of a site until money is available.

Final selection of the site it is expected will be largely in the hands of the manager, who undoubtedly will be imported from Canada and a man who has had long experience in the linen mill game.

Last night notices were sent out to all stockholders advising them of the action of directors in levying a 10 per cent assessment on the capital stock, this to be paid on or before October 10. These notices should be received today by all stockholders residing in the city and it is expected that the first payments on the subscription will begin coming in today, and that by October 10 the first 10 per cent of the subscriptions will be virtually all in the hands of the secretary-treasurer.

The directors adjourned their meeting yesterday afternoon until Friday, October 2. At that meeting it is expected progress will be reported and general plans further discussed.

FRENCH TOLD OF AMERICAN DEBT TERMS

Principles of Settlement Laid Down In Statement; Trading Looms As Likely Result.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—The American viewpoint was given to the French debt mission today in a meeting at the treasury between the negotiators of the two nations seeking a basis for settlement of the French war debt of $4,000,000,000.

Hardly more than 10 minutes was required for the second joint conference between the debt missions, which was described as "having made progress usual in such negotiations."

"The Americans talked to the French today," was the description given at the treasury after the meeting.

There are always proposals and counter proposals in such negotiations. Under Secretary Winston of the treasury, secretary of the American debt commission, said.

It was indicated that the American commissioners had pointed to the French points on which the original French offer could be made more acceptable. This was in line with the apparent feeling that the exchanges would devote into a trading proposition.

Immediately after the joint session was adjourned, the American commission went into separate session and the French mission will meet later in the day to go over the suggestions it received.

Another joint session probably will be held tomorrow, but the French wishes in this regard will be respected.

The French commissioners refused to comment on the results of the session or the progress of the negotiations and treasury comment was limited to the brief statement of Mr. Winston.

GERMANS PLAN TO CARRY ON PRIVATE CONVERSATIONS

Berlin, Sept. 25.—(A. P.)—The German delegates to the security conference invitation to which was accepted by the cabinet yesterday, are expected to carry on important private conversations with the allied statesmen while the negotiations for the security pact are proceeding.

In fact, interest in political circles here centers quite as much in these private talks as in the formal conversations on the security issue.

It is recalled that the value of the London reparations conference lay as much in the gentlemen's agreements reached between the German and allied delegates as in the adoption of the Dawes plan.

The Germans at the forthcoming meeting, the date and site for which are yet to be fixed, will stress privately that hand in hand with the security pact must go the following:

Reduction of Germany's burden of maintaining occupational forces.

Immediate evacuation of the Cologne bridgehead held by the British.

Advancement of the plebiscite in the Saar valley to a date earlier than provided in the Versailles treaty.

Rescinding of the league of nations' decision to conduct investigations in Germany from time to time in which Germany sees merely a perpetuation of the military control commission idea.

The pre-government organs are declaring that permanent renunciation of Alsace-Lorraine constitutes such a heavy sacrifice that Germany had been compensated by these concessions.

A fourth occupant of the car, Trevor Spiller, swam out. The three bodies have not been recovered.

The men were on their way to Eugene, and it is thought that they did not now the ferry existed at that point. Their car plunged through the ferry chain at the approach and plunged into the water. Stevens was driving the car, which was owned by Spiller.
