COLLEGE RADIO TO OPEN FRIDAY

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Sept. 29.—Friday evening, October 2, has been selected as the time for the opening of regular programs over the new 500-watt college radio station KPJD. At that time regular broadcasting three times a week will be started, to continue each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. For a week at least, the old wave length of 254 meters will be used, but present plans call for the final inspection of the station by federal officials in the near future and the formal dedicatory program to inaugurate the new call letters and long wave length—about the middle of October.

Programs as now arranged are designed to be primarily educational, but varied enough to appeal to a wide diversity of radio fans. Monday night will be agricultural night, when a weekly market summary dealing more with interpretation of the market trend, rather than actual quotations will be given. This and a brief farm reminders will open the program at 7:45 after a musical introduction.

October 5, the first lecture in a series on bookkeeping, "Winter Management and Preparation of Bees for Winter," will be given by Professor H. A. Seulen, of the college staff. The first lecture in a series on potato production will be given by Professor G. R. Hyslop—"Potato Grading and Labeling." Boys and girls club work will also be given attention on this program. H. C. Seymour, state club leader, will give the first of his regular monthly talks on "Oregon Junior's Successes at Fairs."

Ill and cross last night—DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN brought vigor by morning

How to Keep a Child Healthy

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. The secret is in the food the mother allows the child to eat, and in watching that elimination occurs regularly two or three times a day. Mrs. Lester Townsend, Corvallis, Mo., keeps her children in perfect health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Mrs. G. W. Bird, Aromas, Calif., says it has worked wonders with her two children.

A Substitute for Physics

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific compound of Egyptian Senna with pepsin and suitable aromatics. The formula is an overy package. You will find you do not have to force children to take it, and it is much better for them than Castor oil, calomel or other far drugs like phenolphthalein even if covered with sugar or chocolate. Syrup Pepsin is mild and gentle in action and your child will have an easy passage without crying or straining. It does not contain narcotics, and you can give it with absolute safety to a nursing infant.

"Magic" in a Teaspoonful

Every store that sells medicines sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give half a teaspoonful to any ailing baby or child at night when you put it to bed and you will find a happy, laughing youngster in the morning. Take Syrup Pepsin yourself when constipated, and give it to any member of the family, young or old, for any ailment due to constipation, such as biliousness, headache, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, bad breath, canker, fever sores, indigestion, and to break up fevers and colds. Stop that first sneeze or sniffle and you will have a healthy winter.
