Washington, Sept. 30.—(A. P.)—Rear Admiral J. K. Robison, a storm center in senatorial oil investigation, concluded his four-year term as chief of the navy bureau of engineering today and reverted to his regular rank of captain. He had requested permission to retire before relinquishing his bureau post but this was refused by President Coolidge.

Had the permission been granted, he would have retired as a rear admiral, the rank he held as chief of the bureau. Although in line some time ago for promotion from captain to a permanent rear admiral, his name was passed over by selection boards. He will retire automatically in a year under the age limit law.

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calms without soreness or irritation.—Adv.

A. R. Shumway of Milton, congressional representative, will speak to the boys and girls in their club building Thursday at noon.

Thomas W. Brunk, veteran exhibitor and judge in the livestock division of the Salem fair, yesterday received from officials of the Spokane Interstate fair, a handsome, gold-headed cane, in appreciation of his services as judge in the swine division at that fair for the past 12 years. This is the greatest number of years that any judge in the entire United States, as far as anyone knows, has served as a judge in one department at any single fair. Eight youngsters who began entering swine under Mr. Brunk in Spokane at the beginning of his work there have not, with the exception of two, ever shown under any other judge.

FLORAL EFFECT ON GROUNDS IS BEST EVER SEEN

Hector Adams, local florist in charge of beautification of the state fair grounds again this year, has eclipsed all past efforts along these lines. This is no individual sentiment, but one expressed by virtually every visitor to step into the grounds.

The beds in the central plaza of the fairgrounds are a gorgeous sight. Two enormous beds of salvia near the old pavilion are worth a trip to the fair in themselves. The zinnias this year in massive beds are in the prime of condition, with flowers as large as saucers and in a bewildering array of flashing colors. African and French marigolds, canna, and an almost countless array of other flowers of various normal blooming seasons are all seemingly at their best, brought to bloom at this particular time by some miracle of the landscape artist.

These pictures will be given to the agricultural college club department as part of the scenario contributed last summer to explain and encourage club work. This enterprise is sponsored by the company under the auspices of Superintendent E. L. King.

CROCHETED RUG 9X13 FEET WINS MUCH COMMENT

A wonderful hand crocheted rug, nine by thirteen feet, is one of the many unique and interesting exhibits in the textile department of the fair this year. This is entered by Mrs. Alfred Malm of Portland, who has refused an offer of $1200 for it.

Another item of great interest is the spinning wheel, entered by Mrs. H. J. Yenne of Salem. This wheel was brought from Germany fifty years ago. A hand woven wool spread over one hundred years old, is the entry of Mrs. Eliza Plank of Woodburn. Another spread, equally attractive, entered by Mrs. J. C. Jenks of Salem. This was made by her mother Nancy Ann Young, and has the figures, 1842 woven into one corner. Two hand woven wool sheets are shown by Mrs. Havorsen of Salem.

The Markham Studio, photographer, of Portland, acclaimed at the recent Pacific International Photographers' association convention, as the best specimen of artistic photography, is one of the many interesting pictures shown in the state fair art department. This photograph is of Charles Butterworth, well known Portland artist.

Over 250 pictures are shown in the loan exhibit, aside from the very large exhibit made by amateurs. None of these are entered in competition, this phase of the department being abolished for all time here this year. It has created a splendid feeling of good will and friendliness among photographers and owing to it the Salem show will receive hereafter much finer work than previously entered.

Intense interest is shown in the photographic section, one of the high lights being an autocomo, which took first prize over everything in the autocomo class in

CHESTER WHITE LITTERS WIN IN TON LITTER RING

Although the Chester White litters won first and second places in the ton litter contest closed at the fair yesterday, the other breeds are finding loyal champions. There were twelve pigs in the first prize litter and eleven in the second, a fact which is boasted by the Chester White fanciers. However, Berkshire breeders, who find their type taking third place with thirteen pigs, point out that this herd was hauled eleven miles to a railroad, shipped three hundred miles and was obliged to lay over seven hours on the railroad track through extremely hot weather.
