Autumn Tea Opens Season

The autumn and winter social season in Salem may well be said to have opened yesterday with the autumn tea at which Mrs. T. A. Lively was hostess in the beautiful Lively home on Lincoln hill, one of the show places of Salem. More than three hundred of the most prominent matrons and maids of Salem, and a number of guests from Albany and Portland, called between three and six o'clock.

The affair was more than a formal and staid tea. It was almost a garden party with the guests wandering about the beautiful gardens enjoying both the beds of zinnias, asters and other fall flowers at their zenith now, and the matchless view of the river and hills with all their gorgeous autumn coloring seen both from the garden and from the veranda.

In the hall, drawing room and library were placed great colored jars of marigolds, Michaelmas daisies, and helenium arranged to harmonize with the perfect appointments of each room. Mrs. Lively received her guests in the drawing room. Assisting about were Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. R. M. Hofer, Mrs. D. W. Eyr, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. J. Sheller Saurman, Mrs. Curdie Cross, Mrs. B. O. Shuckling, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Clifford Brown and Mrs. Chester Cox.

Zinnias, delphinium and Michaelmas daisies were combined in an attractive centerpiece on the tea table arranged in the dining room. Pale colored candles in silver holders shed a soft glow over the attractive room and blended the colors of the beautiful frocks worn by the younger matrons who assisted.

Mrs. Henry Meyers and Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., presided at the urns during the first hour. Mrs. George P. Rodgers and Mrs. John McNary took their places later. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. John H. Carson, Mrs. Allan Carson, Mrs. Hollie Huntington, Mrs. Oris Fry, Mrs. Clifton Irwin, Mrs. Paul Hendricks and Mrs. Donald Young.

The first meeting of the new club year of the Woman's Progressive club of Salem Heights will be held in the Salem Heights Community club house on Friday afternoon. The "Know Your Town" study course will be taken up at this meeting with Mrs. Lucy Souder acting as leader.

Club meetings are held regularly on the first Friday of each month but the first meeting was postponed one week because of the state fair.

Mrs. Alice E. Edmundson is president of the club. Other officers are Mrs. Clara Reese, vice president; Mrs. Hazel Hayburn, secretary, and Mrs. Jennie Bartlett, treasurer.

The following standing committees have been named for the year: flower, Mrs. Stella Caldwell; Mrs. Ploy Huley; Mrs. Hazel Van Eaton and Mrs. Laddie Campbell; child welfare, Mrs. Jennie Bartlett; Mrs. Grace Craig; Mrs. Nina Browning; Mrs. Mary Robinson; Mrs. Irene Burnside; Mrs. Gladys Washburn; Mrs. Hazel Van Eaton and Mrs. Janet Leigh; publicity, Mrs. A. M. Chapman.

Mrs. T. S. Roberts motored to Portland yesterday to attend a morning session of the teachers of the "Dunning System of Improved Music Study" club, which was held at the beautiful residence studios of Prof. and Mrs. Gaskins. The main address of the meeting was given by the founder of the system, Mrs. Carrie Louise Dunning of New York. After the program an informal reception was held, followed by a luncheon which was given in her honor. Thirty eight members of the club were present to enjoy the session and meet Mrs. Dunning.
