

MATHEWSON FUNERAL HELD AT HOME TOWN

Lewisburg, Pa., Oct. 10.—(A. P.)—This little college town which 23 years ago sent Christy Mathewson forth to win undying fame on the baseball diamond, today claimed him in death as its own. Sorrowing townfolk set aside the afternoon to accompany the body to its last resting place in the little cemetery on the outskirts of the town.

It was here, as a student at Bucknell university, that the baseball idol of other years first gained fame as a pitcher.

His body, accompanied by his sorrowing widow, was brought back last night from Saranac Lake, where he died Wednesday night.

Banked high with floral tributes, the body lay in state at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank C. Stoughton. Crowds began to gather in front of the house early in the day, and from the time the doors were opened until near the funeral hour, a steady stream of persons filed past his bier.

Thousands sent messages of condolence from all parts of the world. Flowers sent from other cities filled two baggage cars.

In accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Mathewson, the funeral services were arranged to be simple. During the services, business in Lewisburg was suspended.

Flags were at half staff on the campus of Bucknell university where Christy Mathewson Jr., is a student and on many business houses.

SALEM DEFEATS WEST LINN BY SCORE 67 TO 0

Olinger intercepted a pass in the first quarter and scored the first touchdown. Becke hit the line for the second touchdown in the second quarter but a wild pass from center prevented a try for the goal. Bob Drager crossed the line within another touchdown. A pass from Lyons to Olinger with Temple converting gave the locals seven more points. Another pass Olinger to Temple closed the half. The score being 34 to 0.

In the third quarter Bob Drager crossed the line but Temple's kick was blocked. Lyons followed with another touchdown. Davis picked up the ball after it had rolled 19 yards from the kick off and raced across the field for a touchdown. Lyons scored twice in the final quarter, once early in the quarter and again following a long run just before the game ended.

The locals were handicapped by the absence of several first string men. Only two substitutes were made during the game as the rest of the team was out of condition. The locals have not arranged a game for next week as yet but are making efforts to schedule a game with the Chemawa Indians. The lineup for yesterday follows:

Salem Position West Linn
 Temple LER Brandt
 J. Drager LTR Lalone
 Query LGR Charles
 H. Lyons C Morarity
 Davis RGL Morarity
 Jackson (Capt.) HTL Ewing
 Ecker REL Mootry (Capt.)
 R. Drager Q Hedes

ENCHANTING FILM OF SOUTH SEAS AT HEILIG

"Never the Twain Shall Meet," Peter H. Kyne's enchanting story of the South Sea islands, opened a four days run at the Heilig theatre today. This picture, a metropolitan production, directed by the best French director, was picturized by the comedy situations. Bert Lytell plays opposite Miss Stewart in the role of Dan Pritchard.

The production is lavish in the extreme, and as the picture develops on the screen there is a breath and freedom, a tropical magic and a pictorial panorama of loveliness never before visualized with a moving picture camera. In addition to a wealth of scenic beauty there is an equal beauty in the exotic interior setting, designed by the masterful hand of Joseph Urban.
