

PHEZ DAMAGE SUITS ORDERED AGAINST GROWERS

PROCEEDINGS AUTHORIZED IN PHEZ LITIGATION

In two orders issued by Circuit Judge Kelly in connection with the case of the Phez company against the Salem Fruit Union, C. M. Miall receiver for the company, is authorized to commence proceedings against numerous growers to collect for non-delivery of berries at the rate of 10 cents a crate, and also all notes and accounts receivable of the old fruit union are turned over to the Northwest Fruit Producers company. The notes and accounts aggregate $11,381.34 on their face, but are taken by the Northwest company at a valuation of $5000, which is credited against the judgment held by the Phez company against the union. The shrinkage in value is due to deaths, the statute of limitation running against a number of claims and for other reasons.

Action against the various growers, if taken, will be based on failure to deliver berries under contract to the Phez company for the years 1918, 1919 and 1920. The courts held that the Phez company was entitled to collect 10 cents a crate on such berries not delivered and it is estimated the aggregate due is in the neighborhood of $10,000 or $12,000. Just what steps will be taken toward making such collections have not been made public.

The growers named in the order as being subject to such action are as follows:

Underground Aerials Eliminate Static For Radio Reception

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(A. P.)—Elimination of atmospheric and interference caused by the "in-made static" has been furthered within the last year or so through additional experiments with underground aerials for radio reception. Several types of buried aerials have been designed with more or less success.

Experiments conducted over a number of years by several of the country's prominent radio men have developed that while an underground antenna does cut down interference, including that caused by some of the electric inventions of man, there is a drop in volume. In addition it has been found that the directional qualities of such a pick up system are more marked than with an antenna strung above the ground.

Attempts are being made, however, to overcome these difficulties and a Chicago experimenter recently announced he had improved the underground system to the point where many of the problems heretofore encountered have been overcome.

The underground "aerial" consists of a buried wire which has been carefully insulated so as to exclude dampness. Sometimes this wire is buried in the form of a spiral and at others it is laid in a long trench. Great success has attended the system when the insulated wire is encased in a metal shield, which, of course, is grounded, giving what is known as a condenser aerial. This shield tends to keep from the receiver a large part of the static and other interference, permitting clearer reception and at times, louder signals. Care is taken that this shield covers the wire up to the receiver.

BUTTER PRICES 2 CENTS HIGHER FAT UNCHANGED

RECORD SALES SEND RAILROAD STOCKS BOOMING

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The stock market, after experiencing an other series of violent up and down movements in the motor shares this morning, quieted down this afternoon when a sustained demand developed for the high grade railroad shares. Total sales were estimated by the Associated Press tabulators at 2,597,800, as compared with 2,782,000 on Friday and 1,482,800 in the two hour session on Saturday.

A flood of buying orders swept into the stock market at opening, bringing about a sharp rally in prices which overcame the collapse in the final hour last Saturday. Trading again was whipped up to a furious pace, with General Motors resuming the leadership of the advance among industrials, in which early gains ranged from 10 to 15 points. Renewed buying of the rail shares sent New York Central to the highest price since 1910.

A terrific selling attack subsequently was launched against the motor shares, unsettling the rest of the market with the exception of the rail shares, which continued their upward flight. Despite this irregularity, trading proceeded in enormous volume at the rate of almost 700,000 shares an hour.
