

LOCALS

Covey Motor Car company and others today filed complaint in circuit court against the Public Service commission for enforcing its regulatory powers over cars which are used by garage for towing purposes. The suit originally was filed in Multnomah county but was dismissed there yesterday because of lack of jurisdiction.

Want used furniture phone 511

Love, the Jeweler, Salem.

Six boys all school children of Salem, were before the county court today on charges of petty offenses, ranging from stealing bicycles to forging small checks. The boys do not constitute an organized gang but came up on separate offenses from various parts of the city. It is probable two of them will be committed to the state training school.

New Chevrolet touring, small down payment balance 18 monthly payments. See Newton Chevrolet Co. interest included.

Dr. Ivie, chiropractor, U S bank 254

Existence of a 6 m. organization, dubbed the Lincolnton club has come to light. This club, which consists of prominent local people who find no joy in lying late in bed and consequently eat their breakfasts at 6 o'clock at a local eating house carries on its membership rolls no less members than Governor Pierce when he is here. Fred Erickson, Herman and Floyd White and Charles R. Archer. Club discussions are confined, under the by laws to "damfoolishness" and members are barred from talk shop. An inhibition has been placed on the governor as to discussion of his twin babies white faced calves and income taxes.

For sale, about 25 used rebuilt heating stoves, 250 Court street 254

Lessons in polychrome, water color and china. Mrs. Trover, Trover's studio. 254

Clifford Willard was fined $10. David Warden $10 in police court today, all on charges of drunkenness. A drunk charge against Ed Coleman was dismissed.

Want used furniture, phone 75.

Notice to the public. See Scavenger service has changed hands, and the new firm's name is the City Garbage Co. of Salem. Office phone 35, 115 S. Com. St. Res. phone 2290, 1665 B St. Henry Walker, Prop. 254

S. D. Stevens, a school teacher of Amuseville, pleaded not guilty in justice court today to a charge of failing to stop after an automobile accident and put up bail of $25 for a later appearance.

Vinegar apples wanted. Glendon Stolz Co., near corner Summer and Mill. Sacks furnished. Phone 26.

Hens, 50c each. Phone 62F2. 254

Thelma Johnson of Salem has been pledged to Xi Beta sorority at Oregon Agricultural college. Xi Beta has been granted a charter of Alpha Delta Pi national social sorority. The sororities have raised their scholastic standing so they now exceed the student body average.

Call graduate nurses through Salem official registry, Brown Drug store, on or after Oct. 26. Night phone 910J, 1544M. 254

Dr. Marshall, osteopath, Of bid

Fred Nichols and August Crocker of Talbot, returned last week from a hunting and fishing trip near Yachats. They brought back a fine big buck that dressed 215 pounds, also some dandy silverides caught in the Alsea bay.

Bulbs, peonies, iris, shrubs. Peary Bros., 178 S. Commercial, 3-4 block south Ladd and Bush bank. 254

Why be a slave to yourself when you can buy Bake-Rite bread for less and as good as yours. Large bread 2 for 25c, small 1 for 25c. 254

David L. Wareham and Ed Coleman were arrested last night for being drunk.

Dance tonight, McElroy's, Crystal Gardens. 254

Just received a few 1920-21-22 touring from $115 to $200. Used Car Corner, 1-2 block west Ladd & Bush bank. 254

One of the Jess Wheaton stores, operating between Portland and Salem, and driven by Nick Miller, creaked into a truck of the Portland-Roseburg line, near Woodburn last night. It is said the truck was stopped in the highway.

Hotel Bligh Arrivals

Portland, C. W. Johnson, R. A. Wellborn, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Maclean, Mr. and Mrs. Willard B. Rawson, Frank P. Ballard, Miss Dorothy Cooper, E. H. Wood, J. K. Wood, W. L. Coway, Bert Lowry, Frank Mays, Salem, A. E. Smith, Miss Florence Smith, Howard Bridges, Ivan Lady, Astoria, Avid Mattson, Edward Mattila, Carl Enstrom, J. Erickson, Marshfield, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Wallace, Dallas, Miss Fern Neal, Mrs. Marie Nordling, The Dalles, Roy Haffner, Mill City, W. W. Downing, Ione, H. O. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wood, Long Beach, Cal., M. W. Peewee, San Francisco, Prof. L. O. Wood, San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Rettenmayer, Sydney L. Woodruff.

large clusters of potatoes grown on his place. One cluster measured 1 1/4 inches in length, and weighed something over two pounds. The other measured 9 inches in length, and was considerably thicker, weighing about three pounds. The first had 6 potatoes grown together, all from one hill, according to Savage. The second had 7 potatoes grown together, the potatoes having come from several different hills.

Furnished apartment, call after 5 p.m., 1166 Ferry St. 254

The dance which was scheduled at the Illibe country club for Halloween eve has been given up due to the fact that it has been found impossible to get music. A formal dance will be given on Thanksgiving eve, it was announced today.

Purebred Persian kittens for sale, Phone 1655. 254

Approximately 500 Salem boys were present at the annual party staged at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last night. A swim, a program, featured largely by the indigenous use of paddles, and a few talks, were the order of the evening. L. F. Goodwin, acting interstate Y. M. C. A. secretary, was present and spoke briefly.

Owner offers new modern bungalow, furnace, breakfast place, pavement paid, block from new school site. Price $3500. 289 N. 23rd. 254

The water was siphoned out of the extreme east end of the Division street ditch Friday afternoon, preparatory to filling the ditch. After erecting a wall of sandbags at the east end of the ditch, the workmen took a large hose and siphoned the water out over the dam which is located on the creek between Church and High streets.

Dance tonight, Mellow Moon. 254

Mrs. Kittie Smith of Mill City was in this city Friday.

Everybody's going to Eastern Star social club dance Thurs. Oct. 29, 1925, at Salem armory. Buy your tickets early at Neimeyers drug store or any member or De Molay boy at 50c each. 258

Mrs. Dorothy Lundberg, resident of Grants Pass, was in Salem yesterday.

Kelley, expert floor scraper, phone 1606, 1950 S. Cottage. 254

Report was made this morning that Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ivie, and their two sons, Robert and Donald, have returned to their home in Roseburg after a two weeks' vacation spent visiting Mr. Ivie's mother, Mrs. Mae Ivie, of the Capital hotel in Salem. Mr. Ivie is connected with an oil company at Roseburg.

Dance tonight, Mellow Moon. 254

Ernest Agerer of Independence was in Salem yesterday.

Anyone needing pruning done will be glad to learn that E. T. Prescott, for 16 years manager of the Prescott orchard, is available for such work. Mr. Prescott's years of experience should make him much in demand. 254

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kiehlting will motor to Riverside, Cal., starting next Monday morning, to be gone about four weeks. Miss Mary Elizabeth, who is attending Willamette university, will remain in school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rund of Scio were Salem visitors today.

Dance tonight, Mellow Moon. 254

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kibbey of Brooks were in Salem this morning.

Dance tonight, Mellow Moon. 254

Birth of a girl, named Dorothy Irene, to Mr. and Mrs. George White, was reported to the city health officer today. White is a member of the Salem police force. The birth occurred October 21.

We carry the largest ass't. of masks, costumes, wigs, for mask parties and Halloween. Schaefer's Drug, 135 N. Com'l. 260

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burnmaster were in Salem this morning. They are residents of Scio.

We wish to thank our friends for their sympathy and floral offerings at the death of our son, —Mr. and Mrs. M. Clifford Moynihan, Mrs. Mary Moynihan and family. 254

Miss Frances Snyder was in Salem today. Her home is in Monmouth.

Dance tonight, Mellow Moon. 254

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ramsey of Albany were in Salem visiting friends yesterday.

Good oak heating wood $5 per cord, right from the car. See J. A. Mills, phone 175. 252

There were 132 men who applied for work through the local employment bureau, operated by the Salem Y. M. C. A., in cooperation with the United States employment service, during the past week according to report issued today by Sim Phillips, who has charge of the bureau. Eighty-six men were referred, of whom 76 were definitely placed. Most of the week's activity was among common laborers, with 86 men applying for employment in that field, and 57 successfully placed in jobs. Among the women there were 24 who applied for work, with a total of 9 being asked for by employers, and 5 placed. Most of the activity was in hotel and restaurant work.

Some good oak cord wood, cut last winter, right from the car $3 per cord. See J. A. Mills, phone 175. 252

1924 Ford coupe, lot of extras, balloon tires, at bargain price. Used Car Corner, 1-2 block west of Ladd & Bush bank. 254

Dance tonight, McElroy's, Crystal Gardens. 254

Oren Stratton has received a permit for the repair of a dwelling at 576 North Winter street, to cost $300.

Employees of the state house and supreme court building who work under George H. Dunford, superintendent of buildings and grounds, are preparing a petition to be placed before the protection of the workmen's compensation act.

Today by the use of medicine Dr. Stone removed a large cancer from the forehead of Mrs. Brookshire of Laacomb, Ore. 254

CAMPAIGN TO RAISE MONEY FOR BOY SCOUTS

Final plans for a campaign in Salem to raise money to finance the Boy Scout movement in the city were formulated at a meeting at the Salem chamber of commerce room last night. Fred Thibodeau, local business man, is to have general charge of the campaign. The goal has been set at $3000, all to be raised in Salem, and all to be expended for Boy Scout activities here. Teams for soliciting were selected as follows:

W. J. Staley, captain; Max Page, Mickle, Gueffroy, Hug and Hull; Rev. Stanford, captain, Dr. Bates, DeWitt, Ed Stewart, Farrar and O. Meyers; C. F. Giesy, captain, working with the American Legion, Eric Butler, captain, Leo Childs, Menier, Boardman, Gregory and O. F. Franklin; Harry Scott, captain, Ross Miles, S. E. Purvine, Kietzing, Annumen and John Orr; Frank Neer (Albin), captain, Dr. Viers, J. C. Perry, Doughton, Worth and E. F. Smith; Phil Elker, captain, Wm. McGilchrist, Dan Burns, Spears, Lundford and Dr. Tully; Wm. Phillips, captain, Joe Chambers, Carl Webb, Rev. John Evans, F. Meyers and W. Gahlsdorf; Wm. Bell, captain, Nicholson, G. Hillman and E. H. Kennedy.

The date of the campaign has been set for Thursday, October 29. It is planned to hold the drive during one day only.

WEST SALEM CHURCH NEARS COMPLETION

West Salem, Oct. 24.—With funds derived from a benefit dinner given by the John Lee, Leslie and First Methodist churches of Salem which are expected to amount to nearly $500, and $1000 which was recently borrowed for the purpose, the church is expected to be completed in construction and equipment within a few weeks. Work of plastering the main floor has begun. Church was held all last year in the basement of the building.

The money derived from the benefit dinner at Salem will be spent largely for pews.

Ladies Aid societies of the three Salem Methodist churches, under the direction of the three heads, Mrs. Vandover of the First Methodist church, Mrs. Omart of Leslie and Mrs. Frazier of Zion Lee, will have charge of the dinner. Articles to be cooked will be donated by various individuals and business houses, it has been announced. The dinner is to be held in the basement of the First Methodist church. The church here, operated under the direction of the Methodist church, has grown to approximately 135 members, and is the only church in West Salem. The pastor, Rev. F. L. Cannell, is appointed by Bishop W. O. Shepard of the Methodist conference. However, only about half the membership is Methodist.

GRAND JURY CALLED TO ACT IN 11 COMPLAINTS

For the investigation of cases likely to come up for trial at the November term of court the Marion county grand jury has been called for a session next week. The exact date for the jury to meet has not been set. Among the more important cases to be investigated are the following:

State vs. Clyde Watson, assault and robbery being armed with a dangerous weapon, Aurora bank robbery case.

State vs. Lawrence M. Belts, obtaining goods by false pretenses.

State vs. Henry Albers, burglary not in a dwelling, in connection with burglary of Willamette Grocery company.

State vs. Pay Hayes, carrying a concealed weapon.

State vs. Earl Myers, burglary not in a dwelling.

State vs. Dick Kelly and Myrtle May Kelly, larceny.

State vs. J. Frank Jensen, automobile theft.

State vs. Ronald R. Hughes, forgery.

State vs. Jesse Sheeman, contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

State vs. Arthur Wheeler, assault with a dangerous weapon.

State vs. Bill Elliott, larceny not in a dwelling.

ON THE AIR

SATURDAY NIGHT (Pacific Time)
KGW, Portland, Ore., 491.5—12:30-1:30 P. M. concert, courtesy Pacific States Electric company; 2:30, football game, play by play reports, from the game between University of Oregon and University of California from Multnomah field, 9-12, dance music, by Herman Ken's Multnomah hotel orchestra, by wire telephony from the Indian Grille of the Multnomah hotel.

KGO, Oakland, Cal., 261—8 P. M., sport review, Al Santoro; 8-10, National Carbon program; Boy Scout program; piano recital, Edna Bryan Carlson, selections from "Aida"; grand opera; 10-12, dance music, Hotel St. Francis.

KPO, San Francisco, Cal., 428.5—6:35-7 P. M., Waldemar Lind orchestra; 8-12, Cabiria orchestra.

KFI, Los Angeles, Cal., 467—7 P. M., California Serenaders; 8, Examiner program; 9, Isbell-Boggs quartet; 10, Packard Radio club; 11 P. M.—3 A. M., KFI midnight frolic.

SUNDAY (Pacific Time)
KGW, Portland, Ore., 491.5—10:55 A. M., services by wire telephony from St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral; 7:55 P. M., services by wire telephony from First Church of Christ Scientist.

ON THE AIR

got the shotgun in the tower as he went through and not from Jones, and that he (Kelley) killed Holman in cold blood.

Guilt Held Equal.
Allen Carson, special assistant prosecutor in the case, made the opening argument for the state yesterday afternoon, charging Kelley and Willos to be equally guilty with Tom Murray, already convicted of the murder of Sweeney, in that they were parties to the criminal conspiracy in water he was killed and declaring that they aided and abetted in the commission of the crime and benefited equally in the matter of securing their freedom from the prison with Murray.

Carson declared the state had proved beyond question that both of the defendants were parties to the conspiracy, and that while the original plan of the convicts might not necessarily have contemplated murder if executed as planned, it did contemplate shooting if shooting became necessary as established by admissions of the defendants produced in the testimony.

King Asks Leniency
Will R. King, counsel for the defense, opened his final argument late in the afternoon and was still speaking when court adjourned until this morning. There was no visible attempt on his part to acquit the defendants, his entire plea being directed toward leniency justified, he said, by mitigating circumstances in the case of Willos and Kelley. King contended that neither of the defendants had any part in the killing of the guards, that they agreed to the escape plot with the understanding that there was to be no violence used, and that at no time during the escape or during their subsequent flight were either of them parties to any violence.

King dwelt at great length upon the alleged persecution under which he said the convicts lived at the state prison, the promiscuous shooting by guards at prisoners in the bull pen and other parts of the yard, the presence of one guard with "a mania for killing" and another who "was insane" on the walls, and the lack of exercise and sanitary living conditions for convicts confined to the bull pen. These conditions, he contended, coupled with the use of narcotics available to the convicts, and the fact that both had received serious blows in earlier life, were ample evidence that both might have been temporarily and partially insane at the time of the break. He flayed the tactics of the prosecution in introducing as evidence a statement secured from the defendants before they had secured counsel.

Both Declared Sane.
Dr. L. F. Griffith, assistant chief physician at the state hospital for the insane, testified yesterday afternoon that he had examined both of the defendants and that in his opinion both were perfectly sane, able to distinguish between right and wrong and fully capable of understanding the nature and consequences of their acts. He found no evidence, he said, that either had ever been insane. Efforts of the defense to shake his testimony on cross examination were unavailing.

Earlier in the day Kelley, recalled to the stand, had testified that he had recently been suffering from illusions, seeing things

ON THE AIR

mitted. The responsibility of upholding the officers who have sworn to serve your interests rests with you in this case, ladies and gentlemen of the jury, and I trust that you will not be found delinquent in your duty."

To the contention of the defense that neither of the defendants contemplated any killing, or understood that there was to be any violence Carson countered with quotations of the testimony of Willos and Kelley themselves to the effect that if cornered they would shoot their way out of the difficulty in which they might find themselves if it threatened their capture.

King Concludes For Defense
Will R. King, for the defense, continued his final argument this morning along the same lines as outlined by him yesterday, and most of his statements this morning were repetitions and elaborations of statements made yesterday. He sprung a surprise, however, in holding the shooting of Guard Mill Holman to Wright Gardner, another guard who rushed into the tower and pulled Holman down and outside.

"It is my theory of this incident," said King, "that Gardner was excited, and his testimony shows this, when he entered the tower. That he grabbed a shotgun in the tower and in that statement accidentally discharged it, shooting Holman in the elbow."

Claim No Evidence.
Excusing the statements of the defendants and Murray that Bert Oregon Jones, convict killed in the break, killed Holman as he lay wounded on the ground outside the tower, as being unreliable and made under the stress of great excitement, King declared that there was no evidence to show who actually did kill the guard. Kelley had declared in that statement that he saw Jones turn around and shoot Holman through the head with a shotgun, which gun Jones then gave to Kelley. King did not attempt to deny that the shotgun, hidden by Kelley and found by Sheriff Oscar Bower under a log near Pratum, was loaded when found, although Kelley had testified that he had examined the gun and that it was not loaded when he placed it under the log.

The state charged that Kelley

ON THE AIR

BE CAREFUL
ACCIDENTS
THIS YEAR THIS WEEK
TO-DAY

BE CAREFUL
NEW WOOLEN FROCKS
Lovely Fabrics--Pretty Colors
Sizes 6-8-10-12 Years
Flannel or Velvet
DRESSES
$5.75 to $10.75

WATT—In this city, October 23, Elizabeth Watt, age 76. She is survived by one brother, George Watt, Hoboken, N. J., and a niece, Mrs. Glen Chessman of Los Angeles. Funeral services will be held Monday Oct. 26 from the Rigdon mortuary, interment in the IOOF cemetery.

BEERS—Beattie Ione Beers died at the residence, 454 Hood St., at the age of 29 years. She is survived by her husband, Eugene Murry Beers, and one daughter, She also leaves her mother, Mrs. Miles W. Goodwin three brothers, Clinton and Ralph of Lostine, Or., Raleigh of Ashland, and three sisters, Mrs. Effie Foster of Dunsmuir, Cal., Norah Goodwin of Portland and Mrs. Pauline Alenworth of La Grande. Funeral arrangements will be announced later from the Rigdon mortuary.

Funerals
Funeral services for the late James R. Shields will be held from the Torwilliger funeral home on Monday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Leach will officiate and conducting services will be held in the Leo Mission cemetery.

ON THE AIR

BE CAREFUL
You Can Now Buy the
PACKARD
SIX SEDAN
$2900
Fully Equipped
DELIVERED IN SALEM
Terms: $750 down payment, balance monthly
Fred M. Powell
MOTOR CARS
350 N. High St. Phone 2126

CASE GOES TO JURY AT 12:19 AFTER PLEAS
(Continued from Page One.)
or Kelley participated in the actual killing of Sweeney, pointing out that the law requires that all parties to a criminal conspiracy in which murder is committed are equally guilty and susceptible to the same penalties.

"Should these two defendants escape the death penalty meted out to Murray simply because they held back and allowed him to commit the act which opened the way to their liberty?" Carson asked.

"There is no evidence of either of them holding back and refusing to take advantage of the deed he committed. The responsibility of upholding the officers who have sworn to serve your interests rests with you in this case, ladies and gentlemen of the jury, and I trust that you will not be found delinquent in your duty."

ON THE AIR

To the contention of the defense that neither of the defendants contemplated any killing, or understood that there was to be any violence Carson countered with quotations of the testimony of Willos and Kelley themselves to the effect that if cornered they would shoot their way out of the difficulty in which they might find themselves if it threatened their capture.

King Concludes For Defense
Will R. King, for the defense, continued his final argument this morning along the same lines as outlined by him yesterday, and most of his statements this morning were repetitions and elaborations of statements made yesterday. He sprung a surprise, however, in holding the shooting of Guard Mill Holman to Wright Gardner, another guard who rushed into the tower and pulled Holman down and outside.

"It is my theory of this incident," said King, "that Gardner was excited, and his testimony shows this, when he entered the tower. That he grabbed a shotgun in the tower and in that statement accidentally discharged it, shooting Holman in the elbow."

Claim No Evidence.
Excusing the statements of the defendants and Murray that Bert Oregon Jones, convict killed in the break, killed Holman as he lay wounded on the ground outside the tower, as being unreliable and made under the stress of great excitement, King declared that there was no evidence to show who actually did kill the guard. Kelley had declared in that statement that he saw Jones turn around and shoot Holman through the head with a shotgun, which gun Jones then gave to Kelley. King did not attempt to deny that the shotgun, hidden by Kelley and found by Sheriff Oscar Bower under a log near Pratum, was loaded when found, although Kelley had testified that he had examined the gun and that it was not loaded when he placed it under the log.

The state charged that Kelley

ON THE AIR

got the shotgun in the tower as he went through and not from Jones, and that he (Kelley) killed Holman in cold blood.

Guilt Held Equal.
Allen Carson, special assistant prosecutor in the case, made the opening argument for the state yesterday afternoon, charging Kelley and Willos to be equally guilty with Tom Murray, already convicted of the murder of Sweeney, in that they were parties to the criminal conspiracy in water he was killed and declaring that they aided and abetted in the commission of the crime and benefited equally in the matter of securing their freedom from the prison with Murray.

Carson declared the state had proved beyond question that both of the defendants were parties to the conspiracy, and that while the original plan of the convicts might not necessarily have contemplated murder if executed as planned, it did contemplate shooting if shooting became necessary as established by admissions of the defendants produced in the testimony.

King Asks Leniency
Will R. King, counsel for the defense, opened his final argument late in the afternoon and was still speaking when court adjourned until this morning. There was no visible attempt on his part to acquit the defendants, his entire plea being directed toward leniency justified, he said, by mitigating circumstances in the case of Willos and Kelley. King contended that neither of the defendants had any part in the killing of the guards, that they agreed to the escape plot with the understanding that there was to be no violence used, and that at no time during the escape or during their subsequent flight were either of them parties to any violence.

King dwelt at great length upon the alleged persecution under which he said the convicts lived at the state prison, the promiscuous shooting by guards at prisoners in the bull pen and other parts of the yard, the presence of one guard with "a mania for killing" and another who "was insane" on the walls, and the lack of exercise and sanitary living conditions for convicts confined to the bull pen. These conditions, he contended, coupled with the use of narcotics available to the convicts, and the fact that both had received serious blows in earlier life, were ample evidence that both might have been temporarily and partially insane at the time of the break. He flayed the tactics of the prosecution in introducing as evidence a statement secured from the defendants before they had secured counsel.

Both Declared Sane.
Dr. L. F. Griffith, assistant chief physician at the state hospital for the insane, testified yesterday afternoon that he had examined both of the defendants and that in his opinion both were perfectly sane, able to distinguish between right and wrong and fully capable of understanding the nature and consequences of their acts. He found no evidence, he said, that either had ever been insane. Efforts of the defense to shake his testimony on cross examination were unavailing.

Earlier in the day Kelley, recalled to the stand, had testified that he had recently been suffering from illusions, seeing things got the shotgun in the tower as he went through and not from Jones, and that he (Kelley) killed Holman in cold blood.

ON THE AIR

Guilt Held Equal.
Allen Carson, special assistant prosecutor in the case, made the opening argument for the state yesterday afternoon, charging Kelley and Willos to be equally guilty with Tom Murray, already convicted of the murder of Sweeney, in that they were parties to the criminal conspiracy in water he was killed and declaring that they aided and abetted in the commission of the crime and benefited equally in the matter of securing their freedom from the prison with Murray.

Carson declared the state had proved beyond question that both of the defendants were parties to the conspiracy, and that while the original plan of the convicts might not necessarily have contemplated murder if executed as planned, it did contemplate shooting if shooting became necessary as established by admissions of the defendants produced in the testimony.

King Asks Leniency
Will R. King, counsel for the defense, opened his final argument late in the afternoon and was still speaking when court adjourned until this morning. There was no visible attempt on his part to acquit the defendants, his entire plea being directed toward leniency justified, he said, by mitigating circumstances in the case of Willos and Kelley. King contended that neither of the defendants had any part in the killing of the guards, that they agreed to the escape plot with the understanding that there was to be no violence used, and that at no time during the escape or during their subsequent flight were either of them parties to any violence.

King dwelt at great length upon the alleged persecution under which he said the convicts lived at the state prison, the promiscuous shooting by guards at prisoners in the bull pen and other parts of the yard, the presence of one guard with "a mania for killing" and another who "was insane" on the walls, and the lack of exercise and sanitary living conditions for convicts confined to the bull pen. These conditions, he contended, coupled with the use of narcotics available to the convicts, and the fact that both had received serious blows in earlier life, were ample evidence that both might have been temporarily and partially insane at the time of the break. He flayed the tactics of the prosecution in introducing as evidence a statement secured from the defendants before they had secured counsel.

Both Declared Sane.
Dr. L. F. Griffith, assistant chief physician at the state hospital for the insane, testified yesterday afternoon that he had examined both of the defendants and that in his opinion both were perfectly sane, able to distinguish between right and wrong and fully capable of understanding the nature and consequences of their acts. He found no evidence, he said, that either had ever been insane. Efforts of the defense to shake his testimony on cross examination were unavailing.

Earlier in the day Kelley, recalled to the stand, had testified that he had recently been suffering from illusions, seeing things got the shotgun in the tower as he went through and not from Jones, and that he (Kelley) killed Holman in cold blood.

ON THE AIR

Guilt Held Equal.
Allen Carson, special assistant prosecutor in the case, made the opening argument for the state yesterday afternoon, charging Kelley and Willos to be equally guilty with Tom Murray, already convicted of the murder of Sweeney, in that they were parties to the criminal conspiracy in water he was killed and declaring that they aided and abetted in the commission of the crime and benefited equally in the matter of securing their freedom from the prison with Murray.

Carson declared the state had proved beyond question that both of the defendants were parties to the conspiracy, and that while the original plan of the convicts might not necessarily have contemplated murder if executed as planned, it did contemplate shooting if shooting became necessary as established by admissions of the defendants produced in the testimony.

King Asks Leniency
Will R. King, counsel for the defense, opened his final argument late in the afternoon and was still speaking when court adjourned until this morning. There was no visible attempt on his part to acquit the defendants, his entire plea being directed toward leniency justified, he said, by mitigating circumstances in the case of Willos and Kelley. King contended that neither of the defendants had any part in the killing of the guards, that they agreed to the escape plot with the understanding that there was to be no violence used, and that at no time during the escape or during their subsequent flight were either of them parties to any violence.

King dwelt at great length upon the alleged persecution under which he said the convicts lived at the state prison, the promiscuous shooting by guards at prisoners in the bull pen and other parts of the yard, the presence of one guard with "a mania for killing" and another who "was insane" on the walls, and the lack of exercise and sanitary living conditions for convicts confined to the bull pen. These conditions, he contended, coupled with the use of narcotics available to the convicts, and the fact that both had received serious blows in earlier life, were ample evidence that both might have been temporarily and partially insane at the time of the break. He flayed the tactics of the prosecution in introducing as evidence a statement secured from the defendants before they had secured counsel.

Both Declared Sane.
Dr. L. F. Griffith, assistant chief physician at the state hospital for the insane, testified yesterday afternoon that he had examined both of the defendants and that in his opinion both were perfectly sane, able to distinguish between right and wrong and fully capable of understanding the nature and consequences of their acts. He found no evidence, he said, that either had ever been insane. Efforts of the defense to shake his testimony on cross examination were unavailing.

Earlier in the day Kelley, recalled to the stand, had testified that he had recently been suffering from illusions, seeing things got the shotgun in the tower as he went through and not from Jones, and that he (Kelley) killed Holman in cold blood.

ON THE AIR

Guilt Held Equal.
Allen Carson, special assistant prosecutor in the case, made the opening argument for the state yesterday afternoon, charging Kelley and Willos to be equally guilty with Tom Murray, already convicted of the murder of Sweeney, in that they were parties to the criminal conspiracy in water he was killed and declaring that they aided and abetted in the commission of the crime and benefited equally in the matter of securing their freedom from the prison with Murray.

Carson declared the state had proved beyond question that both of the defendants were parties to the conspiracy, and that while the original plan of the convicts might not necessarily have contemplated murder if executed as planned, it did contemplate shooting if shooting became necessary as established by admissions of the defendants produced in the testimony.

King Asks Leniency
Will R. King, counsel for the defense, opened his final argument late in the afternoon and was still speaking when court adjourned until this morning. There was no visible attempt on his part to acquit the defendants, his entire plea being directed toward leniency justified, he said, by mitigating circumstances in the case of Willos and Kelley. King contended that neither of the defendants had any part in the killing of the guards, that they agreed to the escape plot with the understanding that there was to be no violence used, and that at no time during the escape or during their subsequent flight were either of them parties to any violence.

King dwelt at great length upon the alleged persecution under which he said the convicts lived at the state prison, the promiscuous shooting by guards at prisoners in the bull pen and other parts of the yard, the presence of one guard with "a mania for killing" and another who "was insane" on the walls, and the lack of exercise and sanitary living conditions for convicts confined to the bull pen. These conditions, he contended, coupled with the use of narcotics available to the convicts, and the fact that both had received serious blows in earlier life, were ample evidence that both might have been temporarily and partially insane at the time of the break. He flayed the tactics of the prosecution in introducing as evidence a statement secured from the defendants before they had secured counsel.

Both Declared Sane.
Dr. L. F. Griffith, assistant chief physician at the state hospital for the insane, testified yesterday afternoon that he had examined both of the defendants and that in his opinion both were perfectly sane, able to distinguish between right and wrong and fully capable of understanding the nature and consequences of their acts. He found no evidence, he said, that either had ever been insane. Efforts of the defense to shake his testimony on cross examination were unavailing.

Earlier in the day Kelley, recalled to the stand, had testified that he had recently been suffering from illusions, seeing things got the shotgun in the tower as he went through and not from Jones, and that he (Kelley) killed Holman in cold blood.

ON THE AIR

ON THE AIR

got the shotgun in the tower as he went through and not from Jones, and that he (Kelley) killed Holman in cold blood.

Guilt Held Equal.
Allen Carson, special assistant prosecutor in the case, made the opening argument for the state yesterday afternoon, charging Kelley and Willos to be equally guilty with Tom Murray, already convicted of the murder of Sweeney, in that they were parties to the criminal conspiracy in water he was killed and declaring that they aided and abetted in the commission of the crime and benefited equally in the matter of securing their freedom