

SOCIETY, CLUBS and MUSIC

Edited by Rosalia Keber, Phone 32

MacDowell Program a Success

The several hundred men and women who attended the concert in Waller hall last night, know without a doubt that the MacDowell club of Salem is filling a distinct need in the musical life of the community. The program, the first one of the year and given entirely by club members, was of the highest and best type and executed by finished artists whose presentation and interpretation completely satisfied. The plan of giving a number of program "set" large during the year for the associate members and their guests is a new one. Last night's concert augurs well for a successful season and won for the club a host of new devotees.

The aim and purpose of MacDowell clubs — giving the best music to the people of the country — was ably presented to the audience last night by Mrs. E. C. Peets, president of the Portland MacDowell club. Mrs. Peets gave a short sketch of MacDowell's life followed by a recitation of the struggles of the composer's wife, after his death, to establish a colony where artists could work without interruption or distraction. Such a colony had been their dream for years and because of her faith and continuous struggles against sickness, poverty and constant discouragement from other artists, Mrs. MacDowell had been able to found such a colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. Mrs. Peets' address was an interesting feature of the evening.

Salem music lovers who have always been admirers of Miss Dorothy Pearce, pianist, were accorded a rare treat last night when Miss Pearce made her first public appearance since studying in Boston with Madame Antoinette Szumowska. In two groups of MacDowell numbers Miss Pearce exhibited a complete understanding of the music which she was interpreting, an interpretation which was lucid and also showed depth. Her touch, combining great strength and great delicacy, is one of her great charms.

The first group in last night's program was given by Mary Talmadge Headrick and Viola Vercler Holman, violinists, with Miss Pearce playing the accompaniment. They played first MacDowell's "With Sweet Lavenfer" and then the well known "To a Wild Rose" with a sympathy of understanding and appreciation that was a joy to the listeners. In her first solo group Miss Pearce gave three program numbers, Improvisation, Rigaudon, and A. D. 1629, and an encore. Rigaudon was particularly well done—made one think of little soldiers marching over the hill with all the precision and grace of his majesty's picked regiment. The "A. D. 1629" showed well Miss Pearce's capability with the ponderous type. The last two numbers by Miss Pearce "Scotch Poem" and "Etude de Concert" were equally enjoyable.

Trieta Wenger Powers, popular Salem contralto, accompanied by Miss Josephine Broes, sang two MacDowell songs last night in her usual splendid manner. The final group on the program consisted of two songs by the MacDowell club quartet, Ada Miller Harrie, Ruth Emery Riddle, Blanche Chamberlain Galloway and Margaret Hodge Rosecrance. The work of the quartet last night makes the prospect of hearing them at other concerts during the winter a distinct pleasure. They exhibit a depth of tonal quality seldom found in a group of women's voices.

Following the concert a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Peets. In the receiving line were Mrs. Phil Newmyer, president of the club, Mrs. Peets, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, formerly president, and Mrs. Walter Denton, chairman of the program committee.

A delightful social afternoon was spent by members of the U. S. Grant circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R. and a small group of their friends when they were guests on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Baumgartner at her home at 2675 Brooks street. Instrumental music and old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. A luncheon was served in the dining room. In the group were twenty-five members of the circle, a few comrades and several children.

State Regent Home After Annual Tour

Mrs. Seymour Jones, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, returned Sunday evening from a fortnight's inspection trip to chapters in central and eastern Oregon. With Mr. Jones, Mrs. Jones left by motor for Bend by way of the McKenzie pass. On October seventeenth she visited the chapter at Redmond.

From Redmond Mr. and Mrs. Jones went to The Dalles and on the nineteenth Mrs. Jones was the honor guest of The Dalles chapter. On the twentieth she visited the daughters at Pendleton, and on the twenty second was the guest of the Baker chapter. The next day Mrs. Jones officially inspected the chapter which is organizing at LaGrande. Luncheons and dinners and other affairs were given in honor of the state regent at the various places visited.

In Pendleton Mr. and Mrs. Jones were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Ruckel who formerly made their home here. Mr. and Mrs. Ruckel made the trip to LaGrande with Mr. and Mrs. Jones. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Jones visited Portland friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Koser and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Raffety have returned from a ten day motor trip to California. They went south by the coast route with stop at Crescent City and Eureka. They visited friends in Santa Rosa, Petaluma and San Francisco and came back by way of the Pacific highway.

Mrs. J. L. Weiser left yesterday for her home in Butte, Mont., after spending several weeks with her son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Weiser. Enroute to her home she will visit friends and relatives in Portland and Seattle. A number of affairs were given for Mrs. Weiser during her visit in Salem.

Members of the drama class held their first meeting of the year yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Kirk. Plans for study during the winter were outlined. During the tea hour Mrs. E. C. Richards assisted Mrs. Kirk.

Members of the Lefours hour club will be the guests tomorrow afternoon of Mrs. E. C. Small and Mrs. George Pearce at the Pearce home on north Winter street.

Members of the drama class held their first meeting of the year yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Kirk. Plans for study during the winter were outlined. During the tea hour Mrs. E. C. Richards assisted Mrs. Kirk.

Members of the drama class held their first meeting of the year yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Kirk. Plans for study during the winter were outlined. During the tea hour Mrs. E. C. Richards assisted Mrs. Kirk.

Members of the drama class held their first meeting of the year yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Kirk. Plans for study during the winter were outlined. During the tea hour Mrs. E. C. Richards assisted Mrs. Kirk.

MacDowell Program a Success

The several hundred men and women who attended the concert in Waller hall last night, know without a doubt that the MacDowell club of Salem is filling a distinct need in the musical life of the community. The program, the first one of the year and given entirely by club members, was of the highest and best type and executed by finished artists whose presentation and interpretation completely satisfied. The plan of giving a number of program "set" large during the year for the associate members and their guests is a new one. Last night's concert augurs well for a successful season and won for the club a host of new devotees.

The aim and purpose of MacDowell clubs — giving the best music to the people of the country — was ably presented to the audience last night by Mrs. E. C. Peets, president of the Portland MacDowell club. Mrs. Peets gave a short sketch of MacDowell's life followed by a recitation of the struggles of the composer's wife, after his death, to establish a colony where artists could work without interruption or distraction. Such a colony had been their dream for years and because of her faith and continuous struggles against sickness, poverty and constant discouragement from other artists, Mrs. MacDowell had been able to found such a colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. Mrs. Peets' address was an interesting feature of the evening.

Salem music lovers who have always been admirers of Miss Dorothy Pearce, pianist, were accorded a rare treat last night when Miss Pearce made her first public appearance since studying in Boston with Madame Antoinette Szumowska. In two groups of MacDowell numbers Miss Pearce exhibited a complete understanding of the music which she was interpreting, an interpretation which was lucid and also showed depth. Her touch, combining great strength and great delicacy, is one of her great charms.

The first group in last night's program was given by Mary Talmadge Headrick and Viola Vercler Holman, violinists, with Miss Pearce playing the accompaniment. They played first MacDowell's "With Sweet Lavenfer" and then the well known "To a Wild Rose" with a sympathy of understanding and appreciation that was a joy to the listeners. In her first solo group Miss Pearce gave three program numbers, Improvisation, Rigaudon, and A. D. 1629, and an encore. Rigaudon was particularly well done—made one think of little soldiers marching over the hill with all the precision and grace of his majesty's picked regiment. The "A. D. 1629" showed well Miss Pearce's capability with the ponderous type. The last two numbers by Miss Pearce "Scotch Poem" and "Etude de Concert" were equally enjoyable.

Trieta Wenger Powers, popular Salem contralto, accompanied by Miss Josephine Broes, sang two MacDowell songs last night in her usual splendid manner. The final group on the program consisted of two songs by the MacDowell club quartet, Ada Miller Harrie, Ruth Emery Riddle, Blanche Chamberlain Galloway and Margaret Hodge Rosecrance. The work of the quartet last night makes the prospect of hearing them at other concerts during the winter a distinct pleasure. They exhibit a depth of tonal quality seldom found in a group of women's voices.

Following the concert a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Peets. In the receiving line were Mrs. Phil Newmyer, president of the club, Mrs. Peets, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, formerly president, and Mrs. Walter Denton, chairman of the program committee.

A delightful social afternoon was spent by members of the U. S. Grant circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R. and a small group of their friends when they were guests on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Baumgartner at her home at 2675 Brooks street. Instrumental music and old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. A luncheon was served in the dining room. In the group were twenty-five members of the circle, a few comrades and several children.

MacDowell Program a Success

The several hundred men and women who attended the concert in Waller hall last night, know without a doubt that the MacDowell club of Salem is filling a distinct need in the musical life of the community. The program, the first one of the year and given entirely by club members, was of the highest and best type and executed by finished artists whose presentation and interpretation completely satisfied. The plan of giving a number of program "set" large during the year for the associate members and their guests is a new one. Last night's concert augurs well for a successful season and won for the club a host of new devotees.

The aim and purpose of MacDowell clubs — giving the best music to the people of the country — was ably presented to the audience last night by Mrs. E. C. Peets, president of the Portland MacDowell club. Mrs. Peets gave a short sketch of MacDowell's life followed by a recitation of the struggles of the composer's wife, after his death, to establish a colony where artists could work without interruption or distraction. Such a colony had been their dream for years and because of her faith and continuous struggles against sickness, poverty and constant discouragement from other artists, Mrs. MacDowell had been able to found such a colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. Mrs. Peets' address was an interesting feature of the evening.

Salem music lovers who have always been admirers of Miss Dorothy Pearce, pianist, were accorded a rare treat last night when Miss Pearce made her first public appearance since studying in Boston with Madame Antoinette Szumowska. In two groups of MacDowell numbers Miss Pearce exhibited a complete understanding of the music which she was interpreting, an interpretation which was lucid and also showed depth. Her touch, combining great strength and great delicacy, is one of her great charms.

The first group in last night's program was given by Mary Talmadge Headrick and Viola Vercler Holman, violinists, with Miss Pearce playing the accompaniment. They played first MacDowell's "With Sweet Lavenfer" and then the well known "To a Wild Rose" with a sympathy of understanding and appreciation that was a joy to the listeners. In her first solo group Miss Pearce gave three program numbers, Improvisation, Rigaudon, and A. D. 1629, and an encore. Rigaudon was particularly well done—made one think of little soldiers marching over the hill with all the precision and grace of his majesty's picked regiment. The "A. D. 1629" showed well Miss Pearce's capability with the ponderous type. The last two numbers by Miss Pearce "Scotch Poem" and "Etude de Concert" were equally enjoyable.

Trieta Wenger Powers, popular Salem contralto, accompanied by Miss Josephine Broes, sang two MacDowell songs last night in her usual splendid manner. The final group on the program consisted of two songs by the MacDowell club quartet, Ada Miller Harrie, Ruth Emery Riddle, Blanche Chamberlain Galloway and Margaret Hodge Rosecrance. The work of the quartet last night makes the prospect of hearing them at other concerts during the winter a distinct pleasure. They exhibit a depth of tonal quality seldom found in a group of women's voices.

Following the concert a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Peets. In the receiving line were Mrs. Phil Newmyer, president of the club, Mrs. Peets, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, formerly president, and Mrs. Walter Denton, chairman of the program committee.

A delightful social afternoon was spent by members of the U. S. Grant circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R. and a small group of their friends when they were guests on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Baumgartner at her home at 2675 Brooks street. Instrumental music and old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. A luncheon was served in the dining room. In the group were twenty-five members of the circle, a few comrades and several children.

MacDowell Program a Success

The several hundred men and women who attended the concert in Waller hall last night, know without a doubt that the MacDowell club of Salem is filling a distinct need in the musical life of the community. The program, the first one of the year and given entirely by club members, was of the highest and best type and executed by finished artists whose presentation and interpretation completely satisfied. The plan of giving a number of program "set" large during the year for the associate members and their guests is a new one. Last night's concert augurs well for a successful season and won for the club a host of new devotees.

The aim and purpose of MacDowell clubs — giving the best music to the people of the country — was ably presented to the audience last night by Mrs. E. C. Peets, president of the Portland MacDowell club. Mrs. Peets gave a short sketch of MacDowell's life followed by a recitation of the struggles of the composer's wife, after his death, to establish a colony where artists could work without interruption or distraction. Such a colony had been their dream for years and because of her faith and continuous struggles against sickness, poverty and constant discouragement from other artists, Mrs. MacDowell had been able to found such a colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. Mrs. Peets' address was an interesting feature of the evening.

Salem music lovers who have always been admirers of Miss Dorothy Pearce, pianist, were accorded a rare treat last night when Miss Pearce made her first public appearance since studying in Boston with Madame Antoinette Szumowska. In two groups of MacDowell numbers Miss Pearce exhibited a complete understanding of the music which she was interpreting, an interpretation which was lucid and also showed depth. Her touch, combining great strength and great delicacy, is one of her great charms.

The first group in last night's program was given by Mary Talmadge Headrick and Viola Vercler Holman, violinists, with Miss Pearce playing the accompaniment. They played first MacDowell's "With Sweet Lavenfer" and then the well known "To a Wild Rose" with a sympathy of understanding and appreciation that was a joy to the listeners. In her first solo group Miss Pearce gave three program numbers, Improvisation, Rigaudon, and A. D. 1629, and an encore. Rigaudon was particularly well done—made one think of little soldiers marching over the hill with all the precision and grace of his majesty's picked regiment. The "A. D. 1629" showed well Miss Pearce's capability with the ponderous type. The last two numbers by Miss Pearce "Scotch Poem" and "Etude de Concert" were equally enjoyable.

Trieta Wenger Powers, popular Salem contralto, accompanied by Miss Josephine Broes, sang two MacDowell songs last night in her usual splendid manner. The final group on the program consisted of two songs by the MacDowell club quartet, Ada Miller Harrie, Ruth Emery Riddle, Blanche Chamberlain Galloway and Margaret Hodge Rosecrance. The work of the quartet last night makes the prospect of hearing them at other concerts during the winter a distinct pleasure. They exhibit a depth of tonal quality seldom found in a group of women's voices.

Following the concert a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Peets. In the receiving line were Mrs. Phil Newmyer, president of the club, Mrs. Peets, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, formerly president, and Mrs. Walter Denton, chairman of the program committee.

A delightful social afternoon was spent by members of the U. S. Grant circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R. and a small group of their friends when they were guests on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Baumgartner at her home at 2675 Brooks street. Instrumental music and old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. A luncheon was served in the dining room. In the group were twenty-five members of the circle, a few comrades and several children.

MacDowell Program a Success

The several hundred men and women who attended the concert in Waller hall last night, know without a doubt that the MacDowell club of Salem is filling a distinct need in the musical life of the community. The program, the first one of the year and given entirely by club members, was of the highest and best type and executed by finished artists whose presentation and interpretation completely satisfied. The plan of giving a number of program "set" large during the year for the associate members and their guests is a new one. Last night's concert augurs well for a successful season and won for the club a host of new devotees.

The aim and purpose of MacDowell clubs — giving the best music to the people of the country — was ably presented to the audience last night by Mrs. E. C. Peets, president of the Portland MacDowell club. Mrs. Peets gave a short sketch of MacDowell's life followed by a recitation of the struggles of the composer's wife, after his death, to establish a colony where artists could work without interruption or distraction. Such a colony had been their dream for years and because of her faith and continuous struggles against sickness, poverty and constant discouragement from other artists, Mrs. MacDowell had been able to found such a colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. Mrs. Peets' address was an interesting feature of the evening.

Salem music lovers who have always been admirers of Miss Dorothy Pearce, pianist, were accorded a rare treat last night when Miss Pearce made her first public appearance since studying in Boston with Madame Antoinette Szumowska. In two groups of MacDowell numbers Miss Pearce exhibited a complete understanding of the music which she was interpreting, an interpretation which was lucid and also showed depth. Her touch, combining great strength and great delicacy, is one of her great charms.

The first group in last night's program was given by Mary Talmadge Headrick and Viola Vercler Holman, violinists, with Miss Pearce playing the accompaniment. They played first MacDowell's "With Sweet Lavenfer" and then the well known "To a Wild Rose" with a sympathy of understanding and appreciation that was a joy to the listeners. In her first solo group Miss Pearce gave three program numbers, Improvisation, Rigaudon, and A. D. 1629, and an encore. Rigaudon was particularly well done—made one think of little soldiers marching over the hill with all the precision and grace of his majesty's picked regiment. The "A. D. 1629" showed well Miss Pearce's capability with the ponderous type. The last two numbers by Miss Pearce "Scotch Poem" and "Etude de Concert" were equally enjoyable.

Trieta Wenger Powers, popular Salem contralto, accompanied by Miss Josephine Broes, sang two MacDowell songs last night in her usual splendid manner. The final group on the program consisted of two songs by the MacDowell club quartet, Ada Miller Harrie, Ruth Emery Riddle, Blanche Chamberlain Galloway and Margaret Hodge Rosecrance. The work of the quartet last night makes the prospect of hearing them at other concerts during the winter a distinct pleasure. They exhibit a depth of tonal quality seldom found in a group of women's voices.

Following the concert a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Peets. In the receiving line were Mrs. Phil Newmyer, president of the club, Mrs. Peets, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, formerly president, and Mrs. Walter Denton, chairman of the program committee.

A delightful social afternoon was spent by members of the U. S. Grant circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R. and a small group of their friends when they were guests on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Baumgartner at her home at 2675 Brooks street. Instrumental music and old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. A luncheon was served in the dining room. In the group were twenty-five members of the circle, a few comrades and several children.

MacDowell Program a Success

The several hundred men and women who attended the concert in Waller hall last night, know without a doubt that the MacDowell club of Salem is filling a distinct need in the musical life of the community. The program, the first one of the year and given entirely by club members, was of the highest and best type and executed by finished artists whose presentation and interpretation completely satisfied. The plan of giving a number of program "set" large during the year for the associate members and their guests is a new one. Last night's concert augurs well for a successful season and won for the club a host of new devotees.

The aim and purpose of MacDowell clubs — giving the best music to the people of the country — was ably presented to the audience last night by Mrs. E. C. Peets, president of the Portland MacDowell club. Mrs. Peets gave a short sketch of MacDowell's life followed by a recitation of the struggles of the composer's wife, after his death, to establish a colony where artists could work without interruption or distraction. Such a colony had been their dream for years and because of her faith and continuous struggles against sickness, poverty and constant discouragement from other artists, Mrs. MacDowell had been able to found such a colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. Mrs. Peets' address was an interesting feature of the evening.

Salem music lovers who have always been admirers of Miss Dorothy Pearce, pianist, were accorded a rare treat last night when Miss Pearce made her first public appearance since studying in Boston with Madame Antoinette Szumowska. In two groups of MacDowell numbers Miss Pearce exhibited a complete understanding of the music which she was interpreting, an interpretation which was lucid and also showed depth. Her touch, combining great strength and great delicacy, is one of her great charms.

The first group in last night's program was given by Mary Talmadge Headrick and Viola Vercler Holman, violinists, with Miss Pearce playing the accompaniment. They played first MacDowell's "With Sweet Lavenfer" and then the well known "To a Wild Rose" with a sympathy of understanding and appreciation that was a joy to the listeners. In her first solo group Miss Pearce gave three program numbers, Improvisation, Rigaudon, and A. D. 1629, and an encore. Rigaudon was particularly well done—made one think of little soldiers marching over the hill with all the precision and grace of his majesty's picked regiment. The "A. D. 1629" showed well Miss Pearce's capability with the ponderous type. The last two numbers by Miss Pearce "Scotch Poem" and "Etude de Concert" were equally enjoyable.

Trieta Wenger Powers, popular Salem contralto, accompanied by Miss Josephine Broes, sang two MacDowell songs last night in her usual splendid manner. The final group on the program consisted of two songs by the MacDowell club quartet, Ada Miller Harrie, Ruth Emery Riddle, Blanche Chamberlain Galloway and Margaret Hodge Rosecrance. The work of the quartet last night makes the prospect of hearing them at other concerts during the winter a distinct pleasure. They exhibit a depth of tonal quality seldom found in a group of women's voices.

Following the concert a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Peets. In the receiving line were Mrs. Phil Newmyer, president of the club, Mrs. Peets, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, formerly president, and Mrs. Walter Denton, chairman of the program committee.

A delightful social afternoon was spent by members of the U. S. Grant circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R. and a small group of their friends when they were guests on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Baumgartner at her home at 2675 Brooks street. Instrumental music and old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. A luncheon was served in the dining room. In the group were twenty-five members of the circle, a few comrades and several children.

MacDowell Program a Success

The several hundred men and women who attended the concert in Waller hall last night, know without a doubt that the MacDowell club of Salem is filling a distinct need in the musical life of the community. The program, the first one of the year and given entirely by club members, was of the highest and best type and executed by finished artists whose presentation and interpretation completely satisfied. The plan of giving a number of program "set" large during the year for the associate members and their guests is a new one. Last night's concert augurs well for a successful season and won for the club a host of new devotees.

The aim and purpose of MacDowell clubs — giving the best music to the people of the country — was ably presented to the audience last night by Mrs. E. C. Peets, president of the Portland MacDowell club. Mrs. Peets gave a short sketch of MacDowell's life followed by a recitation of the struggles of the composer's wife, after his death, to establish a colony where artists could work without interruption or distraction. Such a colony had been their dream for years and because of her faith and continuous struggles against sickness, poverty and constant discouragement from other artists, Mrs. MacDowell had been able to found such a colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. Mrs. Peets' address was an interesting feature of the evening.

Salem music lovers who have always been admirers of Miss Dorothy Pearce, pianist, were accorded a rare treat last night when Miss Pearce made her first public appearance since studying in Boston with Madame Antoinette Szumowska. In two groups of MacDowell numbers Miss Pearce exhibited a complete understanding of the music which she was interpreting, an interpretation which was lucid and also showed depth. Her touch, combining great strength and great delicacy, is one of her great charms.

The first group in last night's program was given by Mary Talmadge Headrick and Viola Vercler Holman, violinists, with Miss Pearce playing the accompaniment. They played first MacDowell's "With Sweet Lavenfer" and then the well known "To a Wild Rose" with a sympathy of understanding and appreciation that was a joy to the listeners. In her first solo group Miss Pearce gave three program numbers, Improvisation, Rigaudon, and A. D. 1629, and an encore. Rigaudon was particularly well done—made one think of little soldiers marching over the hill with all the precision and grace of his majesty's picked regiment. The "A. D. 1629" showed well Miss Pearce's capability with the ponderous type. The last two numbers by Miss Pearce "Scotch Poem" and "Etude de Concert" were equally enjoyable.

Trieta Wenger Powers, popular Salem contralto, accompanied by Miss Josephine Broes, sang two MacDowell songs last night in her usual splendid manner. The final group on the program consisted of two songs by the MacDowell club quartet, Ada Miller Harrie, Ruth Emery Riddle, Blanche Chamberlain Galloway and Margaret Hodge Rosecrance. The work of the quartet last night makes the prospect of hearing them at other concerts during the winter a distinct pleasure. They exhibit a depth of tonal quality seldom found in a group of women's voices.

Following the concert a reception was given in honor of Mrs. Peets. In the receiving line were Mrs. Phil Newmyer, president of the club, Mrs. Peets, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, formerly president, and Mrs. Walter Denton, chairman of the program committee.

A delightful social afternoon was spent by members of the U. S. Grant circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R. and a small group of their friends when they were guests on Saturday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Baumgartner at her home at 2675 Brooks street. Instrumental music and old songs were enjoyed during the afternoon. A luncheon was served in the dining room. In the group were twenty-five members of the circle, a few comrades and several children.

You Needn't Add Bran to Quaker Oats

It already contains the "roughage" that makes laxatives seldom needed

YOU needn't add bran to Quick Quaker or Quaker Oats... the "bulk" that you need is already there. It ranks as a bulk food because Quaker milling leaves a large percentage of oats' gentle "roughage" stay.

Some people, we are told, don't know this important point about Quick Quaker and Quaker Oats. Start today. Note how well you will feel, how seldom laxatives will be needed.

All the richness of oats and milk... the protein, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins... plus the "bulk" so necessary to your diet, are contained in this supreme breakfast dish... an almost perfectly balanced food.

Cooks fast now... as easy to prepare as plain toast. Get either kind at your grocer's.

TREE TEA

Say it together!

Orange Pekoe

Don't say simply, "orange pekoe." Say it together! — Tree Tea Orange Pekoe! Makes all the taste-difference in the world!

Same Price

25 Ounces

for over 35 YEARS

for 25 cents

Improved Flavor!

Carnation BRAND

STERILIZED MILK

"From Contented Cows"

Quickest Hot Cereal

You're just about 2 minutes away from breakfast when you reach for a package of New Style H-O Quick Cooking Oats.

The new cereal with the wonderful "baked in" flavor. Toasted oat flakes that cook into granular oatmeal. Smooth—firm in texture—never sticky or pasty.

And healthful! A wealth of energy-building carbohydrates, tissue-building proteins and vitalizing minerals are in every dish.

That "all-night cooked" flavor in only two minutes!

H-O New Style H-O

QUICK COOKING OATS

Cook 2 to 3 minutes only

FOR MORE THAN 25 YEARS MAKERS OF QUALITY PRODUCTS

H-O BROTHERS' OATS ARE THE ONLY OATS THAT ARE TOASTED IN STEAM BEFORE BEING ROLLED INTO GRANULAR FORM.

Cuticura

Heals Irritating Rashes

Don't suffer with itching, burning rashes, eczemas or irritations when Cuticura Soap and Ointment will quickly relieve and heal. Bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water, dry and anoint with Cuticura Ointment. Nothing quicker or safer than Cuticura Soap and Ointment for all skin troubles.

FOR MORE THAN 25 YEARS MAKERS OF QUALITY PRODUCTS

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample with free address book. Write: Cuticura, Dept. 236, Portland, Me.

Shipley's DRESS WEEK

NOW IN PROGRESS AND UNTIL SATURDAY

Just when most women are seeking to replenish their Fall and Winter wardrobe this event can be marked as a most timely one. Not only are the price reductions important, but we wish to emphasize the quality of workmanship, fabric and style of these garments.

Dresses of Crepe, Cut Velvets, Satin back Crepes, etc., made up with bottom flares, side flares, godets and straight lines and trimmed with fur, metallic lace and colorful embroidery. Our windows will tell you more in one glance than we could write in a page.

SPECIAL PRICES
$19.65	$23.75	$26.75	$29.85
$33.85	$37.85	$43.75	$59.60

Shipley's

It always pays to "Pay as you go"