

FEZES ARE TORN FROM HEADS OF TURKS IN STREET

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—(A. P.)—“Wear a European hat or go bareheaded” was the order of the day when the second anniversary of the proclamation of the Turkish republic was celebrated Thursday as a national holiday.

All business houses were closed by order of the police; the city was beflagged, parades were organized and there were fireworks during the evening. But what mattered most was the manifestation of the abolition of the fez and the kalpak to mark Turkey's emancipation from ancient traditions.

A few persons who disregarded the warning to wear hats had fezes or kalpaks snatched from their heads and torn to pieces. The police complacently watched the destruction.

The hat dealers during the last few days have done a rushing trade. They sold any old thing of a western make. A majority of the people seemed to favor tweed caps and some of those sold were the oddest of shapes and the weirdest of colorings. The wearers look profoundly uncomfortable and unhappy in them.

RAIL CROSSING HEARING DATED

The public service commission today set Tuesday, Nov. 3, as the date of a hearing at Eugene on petition of the city of Eugene for the closing of the grade crossing over the tracks of the Southern Pacific on Blair boulevard at the northwest entrance into the city.

The Southern Pacific company has waived statutory time in which to answer the petition, indicating that the company will not strongly oppose the move.

The petition points out that Blair boulevard, which is the main artery of traffic in and out of the city by the Pacific highway on the north is already occupied by a street car line of the Southern Pacific and that the stretch of street including the grade crossing is very dangerous and has been the scene of many accidents.

The petition states that the city has already begun the improvement of Railroad avenue which parallels Blair boulevard to the east and which, it is claimed, will furnish a more direct route into the city. Also it is stated that the city in cooperation with the Lane county court is securing right of way and preparing plans for entrance into the city on west Sixth street.

SCHULMERICH OUT OF LINEUP

Corvallis, Or., Oct. 31.—(A. P.)—“Schulmerich will not start against Montana,” was the decision of Coach Schuler last night after the big half had hobbled around on the field, unable to contact the weakness of the long injury sustained in the Stanford game. All week hope was held out that he would be in condition by Saturday but Schuler has now abandoned the idea and will throw Quinn in at left half instead.

Otherwise the starting lineup will be the same as that of a week ago, and long drills on defense against the Montana attack gives hope that O. A. C. may yet take the game. Starting time has been set at 1:30.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR PICTURES OF ANNUAL

Monmouth, Or., Oct. 31.—The contract for the pictures for the Norm, annual publication of the students of the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth, has been assigned to Kennell-Ellis of Salem and Eugene.

Colonel E. Hofer and Senator F. J. Toose were guests of the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth on Monday. Colonel Hofer, formerly a member of the board of regents, now editor of the Lariat and newspaper writer, spoke to the student body on industrial democracy and the duty of the teacher in the building of character in the young people, citing as an example the school system of San Mateo, Cal., under the direction of W. L. Glasgow.

Colonel Hofer is acting president of the Oregon Humane society.

President J. E. Landers of the Oregon Normal school attended the Benton county teacher institute in Corvallis on Friday. Miss Emma Honkle and Miss Katherine Achuthot, of the normal school, who attended the Benton county institute on Thursday, spent Friday at the Linn county institute in Albany.

COMMITTEEMEN FOR REDUCTION OF TAXES; CLAIM

Washington, Oct. 31.—(A. P.)—General favor among members of the house ways and means committee for substantial reduction in both the income surtax and inheritance tax rates has now become indubitably apparent from expressions given in the public hearing on new tax legislation.

The committee, which will start work in drafting a tax reduction bill next Wednesday, heard endorsement for such reductions yesterday from Professor Adams of Yale university, who advised with the treasury in the framing of the first income tax law.

Secretary Mellon has asked reduction of the maximum surtax rate from 40 to 20 per cent and repeal of the inheritance levy. Many committee members, both republican and democrats, have expressed favor toward cutting the surtax to 25 per cent and possible to 20 per cent.

Argument of the treasury secretary that the inheritance tax should be repealed and left entirely to the states finds opposition in both ranks, however, chiefly because of the loop hole for evasion offered in the fact that Florida and Alabama have no such tax.

At the same time, proposals for reduction of the present rates, with a maximum of 40 per cent and for increasing the credit allowed for payments on state inheritance taxes have found gleamers favor among committee members.

JUDGES CHOSEN FOR CORN SHOW TO BE HELD HERE

Further details have been announced in connection with the Marion and Polk counties industrial and corn show to be held November 19, 20 and 21.

Arrangements have been made for judging of corn exhibits on November 19 by Professor E. N. Bransman, farm crops department of the agricultural college. This judging will be at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The following morning at 9 o'clock Professor C. T. Schuster, of the horticultural department of the college, and Miss Helen Cowgill, assistant state club leader, will judge community exhibits. Saturday afternoon Professor W. L. Powers of the department of the college will speak.

Instructions are being sent out from the chamber of commerce to various communities as to their canning exhibits. Scoring will be made on the basis of 100 points—50 points being given for quality of product, 30 for pack, 15 for syrup or liquid and 5 for the container. In awarding the 30 points for pack, 10 points will count for color, 10 for uniformity of size and 10 for preparation. The chamber also has compiled a rating for various community exhibits for 1924 in order to give this information in assisting in making up their exhibits this year. Communities exhibiting last year were St. Paul, North Howell, Labish Center, Salem Heights, Sunnyside, Marion, Liberty and Fruitland. North Howell had high score of 482, Salem Heights was second with 481 and Labish Center third with 412.

QUEER DIVORCE EDICT FREES NEW WIFE, CLAIM

New York, Oct. 31.—(A. P.)—Because of an unusual provision in a divorce decree that separated her husband and his first wife, Anne Murdock believes she can have her own marriage annulled. She is now suing to recover $150,000 in securities she lent him.

Harry C. Powers, her stock broker husband, and his first wife, Florence Grell, were divorced 12 years ago in Nevada. The decree gave him custody of a son now 17 and provided that the son should never be taken within 100 miles of New York.

Attorneys for Miss Murdock, who is suing under her real maiden name of Irene Anne Coleman, claims that this provision has been violated, that the divorce therefore was automatically nullified and that the comedienne's secret marriage in September, 1924, consequently is void because Powers still is married to his first wife.
