FRUIT GROWERS NEAR WOODBURN HOLD JUBILEE

Woodburn, Or., Nov. 6.—One of the most enthusiastic gatherings ever in this city was held at the armory yesterday, when more than 550 persons assembled to celebrate the successful season of the Woodburn Fruit Growers Cooperative association. R. J. Glatt, manager of the association, presided. R. H. Kipp, manager of the marketing department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, spoke on co-operation, and Dr. Charles MacGauhey of Portland took "Oregon" as his subject. He congratulated the association on its cooperation and success. Music was by the Woodburn high school orchestra and members of the Cherrian band of Salem.

At noon the members of the association, their families and members of the Woodburn Community club were treated to an elaborate dinner, served cafeteria style. A barbecued 673-pound steer was served. It was the tenth that A. M. Templeton of Brownsville, president of the Linn County Pioneer association, has barbecued.

Much enthusiasm prevailed throughout the day among the members of the association.

CRANBERRIES UP 50 CENTS PER BOX

Portland, Ore., Nov. 6.(A.P.)—Coast cranberries are again advanced 50 cents a box to $4.50 f. o. b. shipping point. The announcement was made by the Pacific Cranberry Exchange this morning and is effective at once.

This is the second advance since the opening of the season and is due largely to the big outside demand for coast stock. The local crop is about half sold with only about 22,000 boxes still unshipped. Earlier estimates placed the coast crop from 50,000 to 60,000 boxes this year, but the yield fell a little short with approximately 45,000 boxes harvested.

Demand has been exceptionally fine this year, according to local distributors for the exchange, with orders still pouring in from the Rocky mountain and mid-west states.

The local egg market is about steady with little change in the fresh situation. Pullet eggs lost a cent of yesterday's advance and are now posted at 45 cents.

Butter is steady and all classes are unchanged.

There is a good call for light hens at 17 and 18 cents; heavy hens 25 cents. Fancy dressed turkeys 40 cents, live 30 to 31 cents.

Country dressed meats are slow with prices generally unchanged. Choice light hogs 17 cents and choice light veal 15 cents.

Girl Double of Prince Held

JACQUELINE ROGERS & PRINCE of WALES

Jacqueline Rogers, pretty 23-year-old Greenwich Village, N. Y., girl, arrested for auto thefts, is said to have confessed to stealing 40 machines. In the village, because of her striking likeness to the Prince of Wales—shown below—she was known as "the Prince."

PRICES ON WOOL ADVANCE SLOWLY DEMAND BETTER

Boston, Mass., Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"The demand for wool has been expanding and prices are slowly tending upward, but there is no runaway market. Some descriptions are a cent a pound dearer for the week. Woolen mills are showing more interest, although the bulk of the business still is for worsted accounts. Some scattering western buying is reported at about eastern parity.

"Foreign markets are very buoyant. Bradford is quieter but very firm. Australia is a bit dearer, in spite of enlarged offerings. South America and South Africa are firm.

"Mohair is firm with occasional sales. Foreign markets are relatively dear in the whole."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

Scoured basis: Oregon—eastern clothing $1.05 a 1.10; valley No. 1 $1.12@$1.15.

Mohair—best combing 75@80c; best carding 65@80c.

HOP MARKET DULL SALES LACKING

With a week elapsing and not a hop sale reported, an indefinite lull seems to have settled down over the hop market, and some dealers make predictions that there will be nothing in particular stirring until after the first of the year and some say until early spring.

The lull followed rather feverish activity of a week ago when a large number of bales changed hands, some going from grower to dealer and some passing back and forth among dealers themselves.

According to a list prepared by local hop men there are 7400 bales left out of an 80,000 bale crop, a condition which has not existed so early in the season for many years, and consequently hop growers are not worrying a great deal over the situation.

Among those left are a number of 500 bale crops. Outside of the hops contracted at lower figures hops in this section generally have commanded good prices this year ranging from 21 to 26 cents and it is probable when the market does come back it will be along the same figures somewhere.

SGOBEL & DAY SUED BY DOUGLAS GROWERS

Roseburg, Ore., Nov. 6.—W. T. Craven, prominent Douglas county fruit grower, has filed suit on behalf of himself and 59 other prune growers of the county against the firm of Sgobel & Day, nationally known fruit buyers and wholesalers.

According to the complaint the local agents of the Sgobel & Day company purchased green prunes later offering the growers settlement considerably under the price agreed upon.

With Caillaux leaving France for Washington saying France is ready to settle, sentiment at Washington comes against more favorable terms than were granted Britain.

CARDINALS HOLD EDGE ON HUSKIES IN FORMER BOUT

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—(A. P.)—Thirty-two years ago, the University of Washington played its first football game with Stanford at Seattle. The contest was won by the Cardinals 40 to 0. Since then Washington and Stanford football teams have met but three times during the seasons of 1920, 1921 and 1922. The Huskies have lost all the games with Stanford but one and that was at Palo Alto in 1922 when an eleven coached by Enoch Bagshaw defeated proteges of Andy Kerr, now "Pop" Warner's chief assistant at Stanford, 12 to 8.

After arriving here this morning the Cardinals were to take a light workout at the stadium. The Stanford squad consists of 24 men and all of them are reported in good condition.

The Husky football team which will meet Stanford tomorrow has been given the most strenuous and driving training in the history of the games with the southerners and after a final light workout today was to assemble for a skull session.

The weather bureau has promised fair weather for tomorrow.

Aggies Complete Work.

Corvallis, Or., Nov. 6.—(A. P.)—A strenuous week of scrimmage practice was ended last night when Coach Schiesler ordered a lay off today and told his men they could try the role of side line critics by watching the game between the Aggie rooks and Mt. Angel college on Bell field this afternoon The latter team, coached by Joe Kasberger, former Aggie star, is undefeated so far this season and the babes here are expected to encounter their hardest ob stacle of their schedule.

No decision has been made by Schiesler regarding the starting lineup against Pacific, Saturday, but it is thought that the first string with some changes over last week will get the call against Coach Frank's men.

DRY FALL HURTS NURSERY TRADE

Nurserymen are suffering from the long, dry spell of late fall, according to Knight Pearcy and while there are lots of orders in the ground is still so dry that it would be a losing proposition to dig out the stock. He states it probably would cost three or four times the price to get out the stock that it would cost if a soaking rain saturated the ground down to a point where trees could be easily handled.

Many of the trees are getting in prime condition to move because of the cold weather. Farmers also continue to suffer from the dry condition of the ground, regardless of the few rains which have fallen within the past week or two.

Standard Measures of Value

Modern commercial transactions would be impossible without standards of measurement and value. We now take the convenience for granted, often without realizing that it took the world many centuries to agree on the exact length of a yard stick, the exact weight of a pound and just how much liquid the quart or liter measure should contain.

Advertising is a comparatively new phase in marketing goods. It has its standards of value too, but these are not so thoroughly understood.

But circulation is one of the indisputable "measure sticks" by which you can judge the value of an advertising medium.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations issues reports of our circulation at intervals. These reports are a recognized standard of value in advertising.

The facts about The Capital Journal's circulation officially audited are yours for the asking. Buy Capital Journal circulation FIRST when you advertise.
