CRIMSON LINE IS UNABLE TO BLOCK TIGERS

Powerful Offensive Piles Up Score Of 36 To 0 For Princeton Against Traditional Rivals.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—(A. P.)—Unable to stop a brilliant forward passing attack, punctuated by off-tackle thrusts, a bewildered Harvard eleven went down to their worst defeat since 1889 before Princeton in their annual gridiron struggle here today, 36 to 0.

A gray haze hung over the stadium today as the vanguard of an estimated crowd of 59,000 began to stream into the concrete horseshoe.

Play began when Pratt kicked off for Harvard. After a series of plays in which Slagle and Dignan collaborated, the ball was in Princeton's possession on the Harvard 26-yard line. Dignan made 8 yards through center; a pass, Slagle to Caulkins, brought the ball to the Crimson 14-yard line. Dignan and Slagle took the ball to the two-yard line whence Slagle waded over the next play. Slagle kicked goal. Score: Princeton 7; Harvard 0.

Miller received Slagle's kick on his 10-yard line and gain 24 yards where his fumble enabled Princeton to recover. Dignan plunged 12 yards through center and Slagle put the ball directly in front of the Crimson goal posts. Slagle, from the Harvard 24-yard line, dropped-kicked goal.

Miller kicked off for Harvard, Caulkins receiving on his 14-yard line. The ball changed from one side to the other and as Slagle intercepted a Harvard forward pass he raced to the 9-yard line where he was downed and the period ended.

At play was resumed, plays by Dignan and Slagle brought the ball to the two-yard line. Dignan went over on the next play. Slagle added the extra point, bringing Princeton's score to 17.

Slagle kicked off to Crosby who returned 22 yards. Punt and short runs took the ball to the Crimson 21-yard line. Coady punted and Caulkins was dropped as he caught the ball on Princeton's 49-yard line. An end run by Slagle, a pass and a yard through center by Slagle took the ball to Harvard's 43-yard line. Slagle punted over the goal line and the Crimson took the ball in play on its 20-yard line.

Coady kicked to Caulkins, who ran the ball to Princeton's 27-yard line. A forward pass and a 30-yard run by Caulkins put Princeton on the 15-yard line. The Crimson defense was paralyzed by Princeton's aerial strategy. Another pass put the ball on the Crimson's three-yard line. Dignan crashed over the line for the third touchdown. Slagle kicked goal, giving Princeton 24; Harvard 0.

Slagle kicked off to Crosby, receiving on his six-yard line, advanced to the 31-yard line. Bridges replaced Slagle in the Tiger backfield. The ball was carried to the Tiger 42-yard line when Stafford replaced Captain Cheek in the Harvard backfield. Moseley replaced Coady. Then Ewing went in for Caulkins, the Tiger field general. Ewing tried to kick goal from the 38-yard line but the ball rolled along the ground and Turner recovered on the Harvard 20-yard line just as the period ended.

Crosby kicked off to Caulkins, who ran the ball back to the Tiger 15-yard line. Briggs for Dignan and Ewing for Caulkins (not Slagle) and Lee for Jeffers for Princeton. Slagle made an end run for nine yards. Another Tiger forward pass, Slagle to Lea took the ball to its own 42-yard line. A series of plays in which Moseley made a poor attempt to kick, ended with the Tigers two yards still to make on the last down. A Tiger attempt to pass was intercepted and the ball went to Harvard on its own 20-yard line.

GOOD EVENING WORDS AND MUSIC

BIOGRAPHY OF A COUGH
There was a certain fellow, and he had a little cough,
He did the customary things, but couldn't shake it off.
His doctor said: "Be patient," and his wife remarked: "Be brave!"
But he felt that, every evening brought him closer to his grave.

He sought a chiropractor, who at once laid bare his spine
And used it as a xylophone to play "Die Wacht am Rhein."
He played it very prettily, though somewhat too staccato,
But the patient still persisted with his coughing obligate.

In dizzing succession then he tried the different opiates—
He took a little pinch of those, he took a little drop of these,
He made some rash experiments with new and stylish therapies
They put him on a diet, and he died upon a pair of peas.

The little cough it lingered, and he tried another way,
He cried aloud: "It passes!" in the number of Cope;
And he uttered twenty times at night and twenty times at dawn
A dozen mystic formulas * one day the cough was gone.

Yes it was gone, but still our friend was worried and perplexed,
For there were several curious cures he would have tackled next;
And while he had the cough he tried so many ways to shed it,
That he doesn't know which system is entitled to the credit!

By collecting and reclaiming waste paper the Salvation Army figures that it consumes every year 8000 acres of standing timber. It does more than that. It solves for thousands of homes the question of what to do with old Saturday Evening Post, a problem quite as serious as that of the disposal of used safety razor blades.

Can't the Salvation Army, or some other philanthropic organization, figure out a way to reclaim second-hand chewing gum?

AUSTIN FLEGEL DEAD; TRUSTEE OF WILLAMETTE

Portland, Or., Nov. 7.—Austin F. Flegel, Portland attorney, member of the board of trustees of Willamette university, vice-president of the city planning commission and prominent in civic, political and fraternal life of the city for the past 30 years, died last night at the family home, 561 Jarrett street, after an illness of more than two years.

Although Mr. Flegel had not taken an active part in his law practice for some time, he still retained his position with the planning commission and on the board of Willamette university, and was active in the work of each.

Mr. Flegel was born at Somerset, O., February 25, 1864. On June 4, 1889, he was married to Miss Dora Dewley at Logan, O., and in the same year came to Portland. He began the study of law upon his arrival here and in 1893 was graduated from the law school of the University of Portland and began his practice in this city.

One term was served as a member of the city council about 20 years ago, and he held other offices of civic importance. He was a member of Portland lodge, No. 55, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons; Oregon consistory, No. 1, Scottish Rite; Al Kader temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and Orient lodge of Old Fellows. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Besides his widow, Mr. Flegel is survived by nine children—Austin F. Flegel Jr., Portland attorney; Charles F. Flegel, agent for the Eastern Oregon Land company at Prairie City; Captain Earl C. Flegel, 21st Infantry, United States army, Schofield barracks, T. H.; Dorothy Flegel, a member of the faculty of Jefferson high school; Paul S. Flegel, boys' work secretary, Bursley, Cal.; Y. M. C. A.; Irving S. and Albert G. Flegel, students at the University of Oregon, and Arthur D. Flegel, a student at Jefferson high school.

Funeral services will be held in Portland on Monday at 1:30 p. m.

TRANSFER OF KIMBALL IS FURTHERED

Executive Committee Of General Board Gives Approval To Plan Of Moving School.

Word reached Salem yesterday that the executive committee of the general education board of the Methodist church has approved the plan as submitted by President Hickman of Kimball college of theology to move Kimball to Seattle and establish it near the campus of the University of Washington.

The action of the executive committee does not commit the general education board, and does not mean that the school will be moved, but nevertheless is taken as a definite indication of "which way the wind blows." The committee met Thursday, Dr. Hickman of Kimball appearing before it. It is understood that Dr. Hickman went east some time ago largely for the purpose of putting the matter of moving Kimball before the committee, and interviewed a number of its members privately before the committee had its session.

The definite question as put up to the committee was whether the general education board could be depended upon to continue and even increase financial support now being given Kimball. If the school should be moved to Seattle, in indicating that the board would give an affirmative answer, the executive committee reversed its usual policy, which has been to support theological schools only when attached to denominational colleges. At Seattle Kimball would be attached to the University of Washington.

Definite action on the matter will be taken at the official session of the education board itself early next year.

Meanwhile it is believed that efforts will be made to interest prominent Methodists in the north west, particularly in and around Seattle, in the proposed change. At a meeting in Seattle a short time ago some hope was held out that Kimball might be adequately supported if moved to that city. The question of local support is considered to be of more importance than the action of the general education board, although without both it is believed that it will be impossible to move the school.

MT. ANGEL BANKER SUED FOR DIVORCE

Casper Terhaar, Mt. Angel banker and druggist, is accused of having beaten and ill-treated his wife both in Salem and Mt. Angel. In divorce proceedings instituted in circuit court by Beatrice Terhaar. In addition she alleges that he has accused her of infidelity, declaring that he accused one Carl Schaefer on the street of being too well acquainted with her and that he has made declarations on other occasions along the same line.

She asserts that her husband is connected with the First National bank at Mt. Angel at $125 a month, that he owns an interest in a Mt. Angel drug store valued at $4000, that he has a homestead in Mt. Angel valued at $2500 and also that he owns a Ford car.

She is seeking $150 attorneys fee and $150 for support during pendency of the suit.

AMERICAN MISSIONS AT DAMASCUS BURNED

New York, Nov. 7.—(A. P.)—Reports of the burning of American mission schools and churches in Syria, where the Moslem Druses have driven out Armenians and Syrian Christians, have been received at the national headquarters here of the Near East Relief.

HARMONY ON TAX PROGRAM IS FORECAST

Deduction Proposals To Be Conducted On Non-Partisan Basis House Leaders Assert.

Washington, Nov. 7.—(A. P.)—Practically united support both in the house and senate of the tax reduction bill now in preparation by the house ways and means committee, an almost unprecedented prospect—is now confidently expected by house leaders.

With virtually all of the vital and controversial points of tax reduction already acted on by the committee, Chairman Green said today that a non-partisan measure, "bearing almost unanimous support" seems certain.

For the first time since the war, republicans and democrats in congress have worked out their differences, so far at least, and agreed on the main provisions of a revenue bill. In doing this the committee has approved some of the main proposals of Secretary Mellon and rejected others and the spirit of compromise was further reflected in the approval in modified form of the proposal of Representative Garner of Texas, ranking democrat for increased personal exemptions.

Administration support of the changes so far approved seems certain, despite the rejection of Secretary Mellon's suggestion for repeal of the estate or inheritance tax.

299 Answer Ad For Hubby In Journal

Since the last report on the letters received by "Jordan," the woman who advertised in the Capital Journal for a husband whose name she would give for three months, offering to pay him $400 for the privilege, 29 more letters have been received by the Journal in reply to the ad. This makes a total of 299 answers to the advertisement, 260 having been received prior to the new batch.

Three of the letters came by courtesy of the managing editor of the Sioux Falls, S. D. Press, who explains that he himself isn't looking for a wife, but that the letters were received by the publication when the paper printed an Associated Press dispatch about the Salem woman's advertisement.

A new candidate looms up in Rapid City, S. D. He, however, wants a written contract with the lady and wants the $400 deposited in the First National bank at Rapid City before the parson is called. He also requires that Jordan meet him in Rapid City prior to the ceremony.

RIDDELL GOATS SWEEP PRIZES

Portland, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Sales of Arrhishes, and the final performance of the horse show this afternoon and tonight, marked the closing of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition of 1925. Attendance has already surpassed that of last year, and romances to break the record set in 1923.

Judging of Angora goats checked today gives Riddell and Sons of Monmouth, Ore., the bulk of the honors in this breed.

R. W. Hogg of Salem divided first prizes with Riddell in the short mohair section and won both championships, but Riddell carried away by far the greatest number of prizes in each class in this section.

If You Were a City Councilman?

NOTE—For the best letters of 200 words or less submitted during November the Capital Journal will give three prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50. The letters must be on "What You Would Do If You Were a Councilman" and should be addressed to the Contest Editor. The letters must be signed by the name and address of the sender, but the letters will be published by number only, and the judges will judge them before learning the names of the writers.

Number Ten
Dear Editor: What would I do if I were a councilman? I would be a regular Kaiser Bill. I would run the whole city or I would resign. The first thing I would do would be to put all councilmen on a salary of at least five thousand a year you can't expect to get good men to run a city for fun, just imagine such men as Nes Bush or Tom Livesey or myself taking a councilman job without a salary.

Next I would stop all trains from running through our city after night so all our present councilmen could sleep without being disturbed. Next I would buy or lease Minto's island and give it to the Marion hotel Co., so they could move their building over here where it would be quiet.

Next would be our bridge program. There are a good many ways to look at this matter. I would not build any bridges now. It only costs about two thousand a year to keep red lights on our bridges all the time and when the bridges are all gone I would put in a free ferry. Don't you remember when we had a toll ferry across Mill creek on South Commercial street at a dollar a throw we got along very nicely in those times of course we did not have as much money for higher education, but we didn't have any time to organize Friar clubs either.

Next the penitentiary is inside the city limits. I would take charge of that. I would take all gates off the hinges and throw them in the river and let the boys go away and come home when they got ready and also I would walk all guards and then I would

LOCATION HERE BEING SOUGHT BY CHAIN STORE

That the R. A. Pilcher chain of department stores, which is to be established on the coast in 23 different cities with eight stores already in operation, is considering Salem as the point for establishment of one of the stores, has been learned, since representatives of the company were here recently negotiating with F. D. Blich, manager of the T. J. Blich estate, for a location in buildings which Blich plans to erect at State and High streets where the Union Oil company gas station and other buildings now stand.

It is understood that R. A. Pilcher, himself, head of the stores, contemplates being in Salem in the near future to further discuss the negotiations. Pilcher, it is understood, formerly was one of the executive heads with the J. C. Penney & company, chair of stores now in operation throughout the country, and comes to the new project well equipped.

Stores already are in operation in Tacoma, Bremerton and Yakima, Wash., Klamath Falls and Eugene, in Oregon, and Stockton, in California. Pilcher is now in California, it is stated. In addition to the stores already in operation, a site has been purchased in Aberdeen and locations are being sought in Seattle and Everett, Wash.

SCHOOL FUND APPORTIONED TO DISTRICTS

Disbursements Of County And State Funds Made; Salem's Share $36,594 For Year.

Apportionment of county, state and elementary school funds for Marion county has been completed by County Superintendent Fulkerston and was announced today. The two mill elementary school fund apportioned, amounted to $46,928.60.

Apportionments made of state and county funds to the larger districts and some of the districts closer to Salem are as follows: Donald, $699.25; Silverton, $9,727.90; Rosehead, $594.55; Sublimity, $1264.55; Aumsville, $886.85; Jefferson, $1458.85; Hubbard, $1665.55; Marion, $788.55; Gates, $692.50; Aurora, $1969.225; Salem, $36,594.90; Brooks, $976.68; St. Paul, $1,016.55; Liberty, $1030.05; Gerula, $1217.65; Stayton, $289.65; Turner, $909.45; Keizer, $1961.35; Mt. Angel, $4031.65; Haystack, $688.35; Woodburn, $3844.27; Seeburn, $755.45; Salem Heights, $1082.65; Mill City, $881.72; LaBish Center, $400.25.

STATE FAIR PAYS PROFIT OF $24,989

A cash balance of $24,989 remains after setting up all bills resulting from the recent state fair, according to a report made at a meeting of the state fair board in Portland yesterday. The report was made by Ella S. Wilson, secretary of the fair board and manager of the fair. The balance is practically clear, though there are a few small outstanding bills. It is estimated by Mrs. Wilson that about $10,000 of the amount will be needed before the next fair for the improvement of the grounds.

Total receipts of fair week were $109,939.24 and expenditures $84,709.85.

Special Election On Salary Increase For Teachers Not Killed

A special school election again looms as a possibility, following the meeting of the Salem school board with the budget committee last night. The election, if called, will be for the purpose of considering a general increase in teachers' salaries throughout the city. At last night's meeting the school budget proper, cut to quick, and minus the extra $9,600 which was originally in the budget, and which school authorities declare was passed upon favorably by the special budget committee.

The committee's favorable action came after an extended discourse, spiced with numerous adverse content as to the shape the budget

PROSECUTION CALLS ONLY 6 WITNESSES

Physician Who Murdered "Child Woman" Was Under Influence Of Opiates Say Experts.

Littleton, Colo., Nov. 7.—(A. P.)—After placing only six witnesses on the stand the state rested its case early today in the case of Dr. Harold Elmer Blazer, who is charged with the murder of his daughter, Hazel, the 34-year-old "child woman" who never grew up.

Joel Stone, prosecuting attorney, rested the case with dramatic suddenness, after Dr. George A. Moleen, Denver physician and alienist, declared that Blazer's insanity was "probably stimulated" and caused either by "an opiate or chloroform."

Experts testify. He was preceded by Dr. H. H. Aldredge, who reversed his testimony of yesterday by declaring that Blazer committed "something about chloroform and opiates." Previously he said Blazer's only remark was the word "yes" in answer to his query when he asked the defendant if he slashed his own throat. Aldredge said he refreshed his memory over night by "reading the testimony I offered before the coroner's jury."

"In which insanity came the stupor in which Dr. Blazer was found?" Stone asked Moleen. "No, it probably was caused either by chloroform or opiates," the doctor answered. "Such stupor could result only from insanity in the most advanced stages."

Directed Verdict Fails. Judge Johnson overruled a motion by Lewis D. Mowry, chief of defense counsel, for a directed verdict acquitting Dr. Blazer, just before court recessed for lunch.

The prosecution has not proved corpus delicti, Mowry declared to the court. "Therefore I move for a directed verdict acquitting Dr. Blazer."

LEGION POST TO CONDUCT LUNCH

Members of the American Legion will take charge of the chamber of commerce luncheon Monday in observance of Armistice day with Legion members delivering addresses and furnishing music.

O. L. McDonald, member of Capital Post No. 9, will sing "Shipmates of Mine," and "Left." Dr. W. Carleton Smith will speak on "Observations of a Medical Officer." He was a member of the medical corps in France, ranking as captain.

George P. Griffith, past state commander of the American Legion and who was in the Meuse Argonne sector with the evacuation hospital when the armistice was signed will talk on "How I Felt When I Heard the News."

Official action upon the question of calling the special election will be taken at the meeting of the school board Tuesday. At that time the legal technicalities of the matter will be threshed out, and Superintendent Hug will present a detailed list of present salaries of instructors with a list of salaries as proposed under the new schedule. Possibility is seen that the plan as finally adopted may involve a bonus for the teachers this year, and a definite increase next year.
