Horse Shows Lure Many Salemites

Among Salem's most prominent men and women are numbered many ardent horse lovers who have made the big pavilion in north Portland their mecca this week. Various box parties at the matinee and night horse shows this week have included Salemites and luncheon and dinner in Portland homes and in Portland hotel dining rooms with Salem matrons the honor guests have both preceded and followed the horse shows.

Because of the horse shows this week and because the members of one of the most prominent of the city's social club were devoting their energies to a rummage sale for the first five days, this week has been particularly devoid of larger social affairs. The Thursday bridge luncheon club which includes a number of Salem social leaders sponsored this week their annual rummage sale for the benefit of the Salem hospital. The sale this year was even more successful than in the past. The interior equipment of the hospital will be materially increased as a result of the unselfish efforts of the group during the past week.

Bridge and five hundred clubs have held scheduled meetings during the past week and many of them were delightful social events. Mrs. Don Young was hostess at an attractive bridge luncheon on Wednesday.

One of the most interesting news events of the week was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Margaret Rodgers, daughter of Mrs. George Rodgers, to James G. A. Hutcheon of Vancouver, B. C. The announcement was formally made in Vancouver by Miss Rodgers' cousin, Mrs. T. W. B. London.

One of the most successful receptions of the year was given in the woman's club house on North Cottage street last night when members of the Salem Woman's club and of Chemeketa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution were hostesses in honor of the foreign students in the state. More than forty foreign students from Willamette university, Oregon Agricultural college, Linfield college and the University of Oregon were honor guests. Short talks were made by Mrs. W. F. Fargo, president of the Salem woman's club and by Mrs. Seymour Jones, state regent, Daughters of the American Revolution and Mrs. C. C. Clark, local chapter agent.

The club rooms were beautifully decorated with articles brought from various parts of the world and the Japanese plan was carried out entirely in the dining room with tiny girls dressed in Chinese and Japanese attire serving. Mrs. Fargo and Mrs. Clark poured.

A program given by the foreign students during the evening consisted of number by the Filipino orchestra composed of students from the various schools in the state, native Hindi stories by Mr. Sadharan of the University at Eugene, oriental translations by three Willamette boys, short talks by various of the students and musical numbers.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery of Portland, state chairman of the International relations committee of the Daughters, was a special guest.

Next Thursday, November 12, a fancy work shower will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Heenan 352 north Summer. This is the second of a series of three showers to be held preceding the bazaar of November 22, 23, 24 in St. Joseph's hall, Chemeketa and Winter streets. Last Wednesday dozens of beautiful and practical aprons were presented at a shower held in St. Joseph's hall in conjunction with the meeting of the aid society. Refreshments were served by the committee with Mrs. U. S. Page as general chairman.

Mrs. Clifton Irwin, Mrs. E. V. McMeachan and Mrs. Albert Richard Wetjen were the guests of Mrs. W. H. Lytle in Portland on Thursday at luncheon and at a matinee horse show. Yesterday Mrs. Lytle entertained a group of twelve Salem matrons at luncheon at the Benson and a matinee horse show at the Pacific International. Mrs. Lytle is spending the entire week in Portland.

BOTHERED WITH ITCHY PIMPLES

Festered and Scaled Over. Healed by Cuticura.

"I was bothered with pimples that broke out all over my face. They festered and scaled over and were very annoying. The pimples itched and burned causing me to scratch them, which disgusted my face. I was bothered with them for years."

"I used many other remedies but they did not help me. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Mabel Williams, Box 35, Gilmore, Idaho, Apr. 25, 1925.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are ideal for daily toilet uses.

Famous Organist to Play Here

One of the outstanding musical events of the winter season will be an event of next Friday evening when Alfred Hollins, England's famous blind organist and composer, will appear in the First Methodist church. He is being brought to Salem through the efforts of Prof. T. S. Roberts.

Hollins was born in Hull, England, in 1857. Although born blind, the young boy never permitted this infirmity to affect his sunny disposition or to darken the earnest purpose of his life, which at a very early age became a determination to be a musician. One of his earliest recollections is standing at the family piano and picking out tunes with one finger.

Already gifted with that rare endowment, "perfect pitch" which enables him to name instantly any note or combination of notes sounded, young Hollins was sent to the Wilberforce institution for the blind at the age of 9, when he began to study the organ. At 12, he entered the Royal Normal college for the blind at Upper Norwood, when he added the piano to his studies. Later the famous Dr. E. J. Hopkins took him as an organ pupil.

At the age of 16 he played for Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle. He has also performed before the king and queen of the Belgians at Brussels and for the late Empress Frederick at Berlin.

At 19 Hollins secured his first professional appointment as organist of St. John's church, Redhill. At 20 he came before the public as a concert organist.

Secure in the position thus achieved, Hollins began a series of concert tours which were eventually to take him almost around the world.

In 1886 he came to America with a quartet of performers from the Royal college.

More study in Germany followed under the famous Van Bulow. In 1888 a second American tour as organist followed. Then came a period of nine years as professor of organ and piano at the Royal Normal college. Hollins then made three tours of South Africa, and tours to New Zealand and Australia. In addition he concertized continually in England, Scotland and Wales, and since 1897 has been organist of the United Free St. George's church at Edinburgh.

In 1922 Hollins received the honorary degree of doctor of music from Edinburgh university. As a composer he is widely known for his charming compositions for organ, piano, voice and orchestra. His present American tour is under the honorary auspices of the National Association of Organists.

Miss Gill and Keith Brown Married

A wedding was solemnized in Gresham at three o'clock this afternoon that is of great interest in Salem when Miss Edna Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Gill, became the bride of Keith Brown, son of the late Frank M. Brown, and Mrs. Brown of Salem. Only relatives were bidden to the ceremony which took place in the Gill home. The service was read by the bride's brother in law, Rev. J. Stafford Moore.

Affairs Given For Miss Golden

The J. J. Ackerman home was the scene of a pleasant affair on Thursday evening when Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Ralph Thomp son were hostesses at a special shower honoring Miss Annabelle Golden whose marriage to Wayne E. Kalp of Portland, will be solemnized next Wednesday in the First Congregational church. A number of affairs have been given during the past week in Miss Golden's honor and there are rumors of other luncheons and teas honoring the bride-elect within the next few days.

More than thirty of the younger matrons and girls met at the Ackerman home on Thursday evening when a unique and clever shower was executed as a compliment to Miss Golden. While a "secrecy" related a long story in verse of Miss Golden's supposed culinary experiences each of the group appeared with a gift for the bride to be which proved to be the particular article which had just been mentioned by the secretes in her story.

This afternoon Miss Golden is being honored at a bridge tea at which Miss Betty Stockwell is hostess at her home at 1073 east Stark street in Portland. A number of Delta Delta Delta sorority sisters of Miss Golden and Miss Stockwell are included in the guest list. Mrs. Fred Doek (Helen King) and Miss Hattie Reader motored down with Miss Golden this morning and will also be guests of Miss Stockwell.

Miss Golden and her fiancé, Mr. Kalp, will be complimented tonight at a dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Champ Clark will be hosts in their home in Laurelhurst. Additional honor guests will be Miss Stockwell and Walter Blasing who will be attendants at the wedding next Wednesday. Early in the week Mrs. Howard Rex and Miss Lois Nye gave a

The best sales talk ever made for the Overland Standard Sedan was this remark—made by the owner of another make of light car to his wife who came in to visit a large Willys-Overland Sales room.

In seven weeks—the price was announced Sept. 13—this Overland Sedan has upset all motor car tradition. To-day it is the greatest popular favorite the country has ever known.

There are 20 square feet of window space—it's like riding in an open car with all the snug protection of enclosed car construction.

Wonderful power —is always available in the 27-horsepower motor—Overland ability in rough going has always been one remarkable feature of its performance—large valves in the L-head motor give smooth power and more of it—and there are fewer parts than in any other type of motor construction.

Sturdy drive system —from clutch to axle shafts, the drive system is the finest that can be put into any car—Borg & Beck type clutch, one of the finest clutches ever made, selective sliding transmission, Molybdenum steel axle shafts, the toughest steel known, and the axle shaft is as large as that used in many cars of double the weight.

Big car chassis —unusually strong, rigid frame with plenty of bracing—Chrome Vana-
