BIG BALCONY FOR THEATER POURED

The second largest single pouring of concrete on a construction job in Salem was completed Saturday afternoon when the main balcony of the new Elsinor theater was poured, according to Cuyler VanPatton, the contractor.

Using the "apouter" system the 123 cubic yards of concrete were poured in 11 hours working time. Using wheel barrows the workmen would have required 24 to 30 hours to complete the job, it is estimated.

Three hundred and ninety tons of concrete were poured into the balcony forms, and when this had dried and the shoring has been removed the balcony will be entirely self supporting. It extends entirely across the width of the house, and the main auditorium beneath it will be entirely free from posts.

In the amount of concrete used the job was second only to one pouring made on the paper mill annex last year.

The Red Cross Pharmacy on State street also will be required to vacate and Graber Bros. plumbing shop will be required to remove their show rooms which occupy on Liberty street.

Establishment of the bank also will require some extensive changes in the Spa which adjoins it on State street. That confectionery will be required to give up its rose room dining room, an annex to its present quarters, which will be made a part of the new bank building, to meet this situation. The Spa will occupy about two-thirds of the store room now occupied by Hauser Bros. That firm will move up to the front and the Spa convert the rear into a dining room. This is considered a gratifying move to Frank Myers of the Spa, who states that it will give him a full light in the back end, as there are no buildings back there and make a material improvement in his dining room arrangements.

SMITH ASSERTS PEACE IS DREAM

Dr. W. Carleton Smith of Salem, former commander of the local post of the American Legion, was the main speaker at the special American Legion program at the chamber of commerce luncheon today. He sketched briefly the activities of his military unit on the western front immediately previous to the time the armistice was signed.

"The civilians had a great time that day," he said, "but the soldiers, as far as I could see, seemed to feel that it was not a time for jollification."

He ended his speech by stating that in his opinion there will never be such a thing as permanent peace. "The history of the world is just one war after another," he stated, "and after every war we have had peace. Each time we have had peace there have always been some who came forward and suggested that we have permanent peace." The present agitation for world peace, he declared, is merely a case of history repeating itself.

George P. Griffith, state commander of the American Legion, spoke briefly, and O. L. Macdonald, who acted as chairman, sang two solos.

2.—Salary: The city of Salem, a twenty-million dollar corporation, should pay good salaries. Two to three hundred a month to heads of departments would be a fair rate.

4.—Have house numbers changed to a regular order, so that a stranger would not get lost.

5.—I would revise the present building code, adopt an electrical code and hire a competent inspector for each.

6.—Push the new zoning commission before Ladd & Bush, sell out for a modern gasoline station.

7.—Last: How would I save the city some money.

(a) Let bids instead of buying on the open market as is often done.

(b) Collect delinquent assessments.

(c) Sell no bonds for fire equipment for a while. And dispose of one long bunch of ladders to a Mr. H. Steinbock, for whatever his business is, I forget.

PIERCE ATTACKS PUBLIC UTILITY TAX VALUATIONS

$75,215.62, and the assessed value fixed by the state tax commission at $41,925.02 for the year 1925. After applying the county tax ratio it is estimated that the company is only paying taxes on an approximate valuation of $21,000,000.

In the case of the California-Oregon Power company the rate making valuation is placed at $5,392,615.94, the tax assessment valuation at $4,050,751 for this year and the payments under the county rates $2,400,000.

Governor Pierce asserts that the net earnings of the two companies on the actual tax assessment valuations for 1924 were more than 15 per cent, although their profits were shown to be under 5 per cent on the basis of their rate making valuations.

Jack Woods was arrested Sunday for getting drunk.

R. W. Hamler of Scio was in Salem this morning.

Rooms 112, 217, 231, 100 and 225 at Salem high school were today reported to have reached 100 per cent in the purchase of student body tickets. An effort was being made to have as many as possible go to 100 per cent. Room 112 was reported to have been the first to reach the mark, getting its 100 per cent by the middle of last week.

Friday more than 790 student body tickets had been sold, or more than at any other time in the history of the local high school. One main reason for the large sale is that due to the lack of social clubs the students have more money available with which to support school activities.

article of equipment. They declare their wish is to install a bank which is in a class by itself as far as modern improvements and methods are concerned.

The entire first floor of the new building will be given over to the banking house and the balance of the building to office floors, under the present plan.

Officers of the bank are Daniel J. Fry, president; E. F. Slade, vice-president; Joseph H. Albert, cashier; N. Eakin, assistant cashier; W. L. Needham, trust officer; and directors are T. A. Livesey, Daniel J. Fry, R. M. Hefer, John H. McNary, Paul B. Wallace, Joseph H. Albert, E. F. Slade and Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner.

Organized in 1885.

The First National bank was organized as the Capital National bank in 1885. In September, 1923, its name was changed to the First National bank. The bank has resources over $1,400,000, with a capital of $125,000 and surplus of $25,000.

The bank owns the property which it now occupies on Commercial street, but so far no arrangements have been made as to its future use or disposition after going into the new quarters.

The move on the part of the bank will make some extensive business changes in the heart of the downtown district.

Under present plans Pomeroy & Keene, who occupy the corner and main portion of the building which now stands on the property the bank will occupy, plan to move to the Oregon Hotel building across the street and a little west on State street.

They plan to entirely remodel the first floor of this structure, which they purchased some time ago. Their plans are to put in entirely new front downstairs and probably for the entire building, and the interior will be completely remodeled and beautified. The downstairs stores in the building are now occupied by the Brownell Electric company and a shoe shop. Both of these stores will be compelled to move and arrangements are now being made for securing them new locations.

The Red Cross Pharmacy on State street also will be required to vacate and Graber Bros. plumbing shop will be required to remove their show rooms which occupy on Liberty street.

Establishment of the bank also will require some extensive changes in the Spa which adjoins it on State street. That confectionery will be required to give up its rose room dining room, an annex to its present quarters, which will be made a part of the new bank building, to meet this situation. The Spa will occupy about two-thirds of the store room now occupied by Hauser Bros. That firm will move up to the front and the Spa convert the rear into a dining room. This is considered a gratifying move to Frank Myers of the Spa, who states that it will give him a full light in the back end, as there are no buildings back there and make a material improvement in his dining room arrangements.

The property on which the bank will build is owned by T. A. Livesey, one of the directors of the bank.

Dear Editor:—If I were a councilman, the first thing I would do to see that the electric company gave the city the light the contract calls and the city pays for, I would see that the globes were cleaned once a year at least. I see that the old smoky worn out light globes were replaced with new sparkling globes of high enough voltage to shine at least to the four corners of the intersection which they do not do now. I would see that these globes were changed often so as to get every bit of light possible, then perhaps there would not be so much complaint about our dark city. There is certainly cause for complaint outside our group lights.

The next thing I would do would be to see that the second hand store in the old red barn put up an electric sign instead of the old black one with one end resting on a pole and the pole setting on the sidewalk. Then I would see that the fruit and vegetable stands provide a drain for the water they wash their vegetables with, instead of running it all over the
