Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle yesterday completed ballot title for the proposed hydro-electric bill, being initiated by the state senate and which would put control of hydro-electric resources in the hands of the state. The measure is a substitute for one previously offered by the state senate and for which a ballot title was prepared. The difference in the measure is that the former provided for bond issues without limit, while the new measure limits bond issues to 4 per cent of the state's assessed property valuation. An appropriation of $200,000 from the general fund of the state is also provided.

John G. Craig, who recently in an answer to the divorce complaint of Pearl Craig charged her with being a habitue of Salem's night life and with a girl companion maintaining a "love nest" in Salem in effect withdrew these charges when he filed an amended answer to her complaint. In his amended answer he states he is not financially able to meet unnecessary and unreasonable expenses of vexatious litigation. He declares he is willing to support his minor daughter in a permanent home and is anxious and able to furnish such support. He states only last year he paid suit money in a divorce proceeding and also attorneys fees and that it is unfair for him to be required to pay a duplicate set of such expenses.

POPULATION OF COUNTY JAIL IS NOW DOWN TO 17

Population of the county jail has been reduced to 17 prisoners, the lowest it has been for many months, and Sheriff Bower predicts it will be down to 10 or 15 before a November or over, unless there is a sudden and unexpected acquisition of new timber.

Clyde Watson, who was held on suspicion of having knowledge of an Aurora bank robbery, but in whose favor a not true bill was found by the grand jury and Arthur Wheeler, Indian, held on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, also favored with a not true bill, were released this week.

The population was further cut down by the reprieve by the governor of Frank Opitz, who was sent up from St. Paul in company with bootlegger Schmidt. Opitz was sent in on two charges, one of six months and the other for a $500 fine, the two to run concurrently. He had served out his fine and a little more when reprieved.

Health Clinic at Silverton is successful. Silverton, Nov. 11.—(Special)—The second week of the county health clinic now being held at Silverton is well underway. Results are proving satisfactory in that the parents are co-operating closely with the committee in charge of the work and are expressing their pleasure at the work done for their children. Many of the committee members have put in every day since the work began.

As a whole the children are found to be in good health. But a small per cent are under weight and these are getting the milk diet during school hours. Goitre is the defect most often found.

On Tuesday of this week Miss Perrin, health director of the American Child Health association with offices in New York, visited the Silverton clinic. Miss Perrin is on a tour of inspection through the country.

CIVIC LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

Silverton, Ore., Nov. 11.—(Special)—The attendance at a meeting held Monday night of the Civic League of Silverton was not as large as desired but a number of matters of importance were brought up for discussion. This meeting was held primarily to discuss the future plans of the league. The promoters report that the purposes of the League are to use all legitimate authorities to enforce laws, and to do all in its power to develop a better and more enlightened citizenship. These leaders find the great necessity of cities having a body of well-wishing people to help in building up a city and to assist in checking the ever increasing amount of crime. The League now has 25 members at such larger number. Public meetings with good speeches are promised for the future. At a later meeting a constitution and by-laws will be drawn up and committees law and order, on education and on health will be chosen.

Local school authorities declare frankly that, under present conditions it is only a question of time until it will be necessary to hold a special election every year. It was even said last night by Superintendent George Hug that the $8600 trimmed from the budget last week should be asked of the taxpayers in the special election along with the increase in salaries for teachers. The school district will run behind next year due to insufficient funds, he said, and another special election will have to be called next year. According to an opinion from Attorney General Van Winkle, read at last night's meeting, a school district is not permitted to create any separate fund for more than one year's time. Even if the salary increase measure carries at the special election this year, to maintain the new schedule it will have to be voted every year, unless the 8 per cent increase should overtake the schedule, which cannot occur as long as the present growth of the local schools continues.

gallant Bolu along the Alamo and Meuse and making Verdun's slogan "they shall not pass" good. Our allies in the south hold the mountain fastnesses of the Italian front and the khaki colored soldiers of America changing around at Boll-leau wood and in that "chopping block" of France, the Argonne front.

"The din of battle ceases. The clouds of smoke pass out and we see the price of victory—the dead. Marble slabs on our hills and in our own valleys mark the graves of some. Others sleep in the muddy Flanders fields where poppies grow—some alongside peaceful groves of the Marne and some in the Argonne forest.

"If these men were patriots, if they served their country well, they owe it all to a mighty heritage—American motherhood. She who watched him from the cradle to the grave, she who taught him those many finest soldierly qualities—loyalty and obedience. It was she who caused to be erected this monument to his memory and placed these wreaths upon its base."

This afternoon's program was featured by the annual Salem-Eugene high school football clash on Sweetland field.

The American Legion drum corps was on hand for the game this afternoon as well as the first part of the clash this morning, and was seen on the streets at numerous times during the day.

Local theaters, offering special Armistice day numbers, were crowded. The celebrations of the day were slated to close with the two American Legion dances to-night, one at the armory and the other at Chrysal Gardens.

NATION PAYS RESPECT TO WAR HEROES

to a perpetuation of world peace, was the Armistice Day message of John R. McQuinn, national commander of the American Legion.

"It is seven years since the last shell burst beyond the Meuse," the message read. "Seven years since the great guns fell silent, and men's ears, long deafened by the thunder of war, at last felt the sweet silence of peace."

"Seven years ago men died with only the rumble of artillery fire, machine gun chatter in the belief that war had claimed its last dead. Thousands of healthy youths were maimed and hopelessly disabled in that war to end war."

"Today is Armistice Day, the seventh anniversary of their sacrifice. It is also peace day, the day when we who came out of that conflict unscathed should give an accounting of our efforts to keep faith with the dead and bring into reality the ideal for which they died—world peace."

The American Legion has pledged itself to the support of a three-fold peace program: "The enactment into law of the principles of the universal draft, commanding the men, money

IF YOU WERE A CITY COUNCILMAN?

those who have "an axe to grind," I am mighty sure of a few things that I would not do.

At all times and in all things I would consult and carry out the wishes and needs of the people I was representing.

To be a councilman is a position I envy no one. The city adds welcome to the honor and glory as well as the "kicks" they get out of it. A thankless job to say the least.

There is some consolation in the words of Jesus to his apostles, that might be meant for the alderman as well, "He is the greatest, who will be the others servant."

Number Nineteen

Contest Editor:—What would I do if I were a City Councilman? I am mighty sure of a few things that I would not do.

I would not promise to do something without trying to make my word good. If a taxpayer petition the council for the extension of a sewer, I would not say yes, you will get the sewer, I will look into the matter at once, and after 6 months tell the same taxpayer that you had not investigated the situation yet. That he must not expect too much. "You know, the city is hard up for funds," and if the said taxpayer tried to reason, that he was just as much entitled to the sewer as some other party who did not have to wait a week for sewer extension. I would not lose my temper and tell him to shut his mouth.

I would not vote for expending the people's money for the purpose of building sanitary sewers that are entirely too small for the sewer entry into them also, so when the first rain comes the good people have their basements flooded with sewer water.

I would not maintain a sanitary inspector at high salary, because under such conditions it is a joke. I would not approve of some conditions which have been plotted by speculators, and accepted by the city; where you walk on one street you suddenly have to switch over 2 blocks in order to keep on the same street.

I would not let filling stations be built at random. I would not vote for any more useless sumptuary laws, trying to regulate the habits and personal affairs at other people.

I would not vote for anything without having full knowledge and understanding of its merits.

I would vote for the establishing of a city water system, with pure, clean mountain water.

I would vote for a city building code.

I would have the street commissioner clean and clear up all dirt areas within the city limits.

I would abolish the city council, because the affairs of the city are run by committees, who come to the council for approval only, and the majority of the council do not know what they are voting on most of the time.

I would be in favor of electing a manager at a fixed salary to run the city.
