GROWERS HOLDING TURKEYS; SHORTAGE FORSEEN

BIRDS ARE HELD FOR FATTENING FOR XMAS TRADE

Roseburg, Ore., Nov. 12.—Unless the Thanksgiving turkey market is unusually high, the majority of the Umpqua valley birds will be held over until Christmas, according to those who are in close touch with the situation. Growers report taht their birds this year are above average in size, but are not yet fully fattened. As the Christmas price i susually as high as the Thanksgiving market, the growers in many instances plan to hold their turkeys until they have put on more weight.

Old birds and young hens will predominate in the local receipts for Thanksgiving. The hens mature faster than the young toms and those ready for market will doubtless be killed, but where birds can be made to put on more weight between Thanksgiving and Christmas they will probably be held until the latter date.

Turkey day has been set for Friday, November 20. It is possible that some will be received prior to that date for distant shipments while others may be purchased on Thursday the 19th. The outside buyers and local representatives of wholesale houses, however, are announcing that they will buy on Friday.

No prices as yet have been announced. A few advance sales have been made at 36 and 38 cents, but none of these are considered indicative of the Thanksgiving market. It is thought that the price quoted by buyers on turkey day will start at about 40 cents and in the event of strong competition may go as high as 45 cents.

POTATO MARKET DEADLOCKED AT PRESENT LEVEL

Portland, Ore., Nov. 12.—(A.P.)—Local dealers and jobbers in farm produce generally are of the opinion that the brisk advance in the potato market has stopped, at least for the time being. Just now the local market is at a standstill with more or less of a deadlock between holders and buyers.

Prices locally show little change as yet although the market is quiet. Wholesale prices range from $3.50 to as high as $4 on Fancy Burbank bakers and Deschutes Gems while U. S. No. 1 grade Yakima stocks sell around $3.75 with combination at $3.50. Buying prices in the country range all the way from $2.25 to $3, depending on size and quality.

The local butter and egg market is unchanged for the day, although there is a weak undertone in the former. Country dressed meats are unchanged, with receipts moderate.

California Buyers Plan To Inspect Strawberry Plants In Local Fields

An unprecedented move is being taken by California authorities who are expected to send to Salem in the next few days two experts from the University of California to inspect the strawberry plantings of Weeks and Pearmine near here. On these plantings of over 50 acres of young plants are grown the millions of strawberry plants shipped annually from Salem into California. While up to the present California has been satisfied with field inspection of plants by local inspectors, California strawberry growers have become so exercised over disease conditions down there it was decided to have personal inspections of the large acreage made in the field directly by California experts.

It is stated that a new disease is becoming prevalent in Oregon fields which is similar to mosaic on potatoes. It also has appeared in Oregon. The effect of this disease is to practically stop strawberry production on the plants which it attacks. The plants continue to grow, but throw up little leaves and a large number of small crowns, continuing to throw up new crowns, but failing to produce berries.

In addition the crown borer in the Salem district is working heavy ravages, some fields being reported as high as 50 per cent infested with the crown borer. The long dry spell gave the borer ample opportunity to get in its work. Weevil is another pest that attacks the berries, and investigations are being made from here of reports from Washington that an expert there has discovered a method of fighting weevil which, he claims, will kill it 100 per cent.

Strawberry planting continues around here, the planting running largely to Etterburgs on the lowlands and Marshalls also are being planted heavily. Growers in the hills are not doing so well there. Etterburgs are the favorite canning berry, while the Marshalls are a good barreling berry, produce well from the jump and a good variety which pickers will work with when the berry is being picked and stemmed.

HEILIG OFFERS VIVID PLAY OF TORID JUNGLE

A vivid play of the primitive is the underline on the program to the stage play, "White Cargo," which opens at the Heilig theatre tonight for one night only. It is a rather striking and realistic play which analyzes the curious emotions and reactions of the civilized white man when brought against the primitive, plus awful heat, enervating malaria and insidious damp rot. For, according to the action of the play, these scenes could occur only on the mid-west coast of Africa, where the trader signs a contract to stay some years with no near neighbors, or very few, and where the constant humid head, lazy natives and climate, eventually wear his nerves to a rag. This is the portion of the globe where every article especially iron and fabrics lasts but a short time, and the most ambitious and healthy minded boyo becomes discouraged as the trappings which he has brought for his comfort, gradually rot.

Bolts in boats, hangings, collars, razors, machinery, are all subjects to the same damp rot, and life becomes, with the intermittent fever, an unbearable thing. Such is the setting for one of the most powerful plays ever to be staged at the Heilig theatre. The players are so ideally cast that they are not actors, but the living semblance of the characters they so ably portray. One will be carried away with the sheer realism of the play which is but a glimpse of the never ending cycle of new arrivals from home.

The United States treasury is considering reducing the size of all paper money by one-third.

BEE KEEPERS OF TWO COUNTIES WILL ORGANIZE

Organization of county organizations of beekeepers of Marion and Polk counties is the aim of meetings to be held in the Salem chamber of commerce rooms and the Dallas chamber of commerce rooms Friday, November 13. The Salem meeting will be held at 2 p. m. and the Dallas meeting at 7 o'clock in the evening. Prof. Scullen, bee specialist of O. A. C., will appear before both meetings, although the two programs and discussions will be of a different nature, and many persons are expected to attend both meetings.

At Salem the program will include a piano solo by Carl Wenger of the U. S. National Bank, a humorous reading by A. V. Oliver, a tenor solo, "Farewell Sweetheart," by Alvin Mead, a short speech, "Law Enforcement," by Judge Hunt, a baritone solo, composed by the singer, and sung by Thos. McKenzie, a short speech, "Our Need of More Bees," by R. J. Hendricks, and a number of Scotch songs, by James P. Smart.

At Dallas the program will be featured by a few humorous readings by Park Sturgis, and short speeches by Dallas business men.

52,000 CASES OF EGGS IN STORAGE

At present there are 52,000 cases of eggs in storage in Portland as against 21,000 a year ago. Of these 3500 cases are held by the association, according to report of the poultry association publication. The publication states that the eggs are working out nicely and there will soon be no loss, or only a slight one at the worst.

The association is shipping out 1500 cases a week rom Portland and receives more eggs every week than all other egg dealers of Portland put together. The association did over a million dollars' worth of business last year with a solitary loss by bad debts, the publication states.

Close Following of Breaks Gives Salem Victory Over Eugene

Taking advantage of the breaks the Salem high school football team yesterday afternoon defeated their old rivals, Eugene, on the Sweetland field gridiron by a score of 18 to 6. The game was played on a field slick and greasy with mud that would naturally seem to slow the players up, but instead they acted as though they had played in mud all their life, the game being one of the fastest seen here this season.

Eugene showed exceptional power in their offensive work, and made a strong bid for the victory in the first half. Eugene kicked off to Salem who took the ball on their 20-yard line. Salem punted on the first down and the purple and white tornado carried the ball to the Salem five-yard line, where they were held for downs. The red and black team punted back and the Eugene team again went through the local line almost at will until they were held for downs on the Salem 10-yard line. Salem punted to midfield, Eugene fumbling and Don Kelly, captain of the locals recovered the ball and raced for a touchdown. Temple failed to convert.

Eugene kicked off and recovered the ball on a fumble as the quarter ended. On the first play in the second quarter, Soleman took the ball, went through the entire Salem lineup for a touchdown. The kick was unsuccessful.

The second Salem score came late in the second quarter when the red and black eleven blocked a Eugene punt behind the goal, a Salem man falling on the ball for a touchdown. The kick again failed. The half ended a few minutes later with the locals leading 12 to 6.

The teams see-sawed back and forth in the third quarter with the locals getting the best of the punts. Noeske hit the Eugene line for a long gain, the Eugene right half being hurt in the play. Eugene recovered the ball on a fumble on their own 20-yard line as the quarter ended. Several substitutions were made by the Eugene coach at this time in an effort to score.

Renewing the attack they started at the first of the game, the Eugene team tried vainly to make steady gains through the Salem line. Eugene was forced to punt and John Drager punted back to the Eugene 20-yard line. Several plays failed and the locals took the ball on the Eugene 20-yard line where they blocked the Eugene punt. Noeske and Drager carried the ball on two plays and then Noeske went over for the final touchdown of the game. The red and black team attempted a pass for the final point but it was grounded.

One more game remains on the Salem schedule, that with Corvallis. Corvallis defeated Eugene by a score of 6 to 0, making two field goals. Should Salem win from Corvallis they will claim the Willamette Valley championship, which Corvallis has taken for the last three years.

HAYES TO PLANT PEPPERMINT ON LABISH LANDS

Report is being circulated in the Labish section that J. O. Hayes of San Jose, who has heavy holdings in the lake country is contemplating withdrawing all of the leases he has given to onion raisers, except to the old growers who have been leasing the lands for several years and will throw th eentire acreage thus withdrawn into a huge peppermint planting.

If this is doone it will follow immediately on the sensational rise in peppermint oil prices of this year when they went up to as high as $14.50 a pound, something hitherto unknown in the peppermint oil industry.

The peppermint oil crop of this year has all been cleaned up at record prices. Acreage to be planted next year will be very heavy, it having been variously estimated at from 2500 to 5000 acres.

SHIELDS OUT OF OREGON LINEUP

Eugene, Or., Nov. 12.—Gene Shields, star guard of the University of Oregon football team, is out of the game for the rest of the season with a broken ankle, sustained in practice Tuesday. Beryl Hodgen, halfback, is suffering with a sprained ankle and may not be used again this year.

These two accidents have put a slight crimp in the outlook for Saturdays' game with the O. A. C. football team, but apt substitutes are in the two places made vacant by the injuries and hard practice work goes on.

WALNUT CROP CLEANED UP

Walnut growers in this section are reported to have pretty well cleaned up their crops, with the exception of smaller nuts and culls. Prices averaged around 23 to 24 cents to the grower for the round nuts and from 27 to 28 cents for the Franquettes, figuring straight through an average for Independent and association nuts. It is estimated the crop would not be in excess of 500 tons this year.

The modern girl's idea of dough is something to spend, not knead.

UNION COUNTY BIG BORROWER OF SCHOOL FUND

With loans from the common school fund of the state aggregating $596,754, Union county is the heaviest borrower among all the counties of the state from that fund, says a statement prepared by G. G. Brown, clerk of the state land board.

At the close of business October 30 the total loans from the school fund were $6,412,85, while rural credit loans aggregated $421,324.51 in loans from the school fund Wheeler county is second with $424,048.

Marion county's loans from the school fund are $278,993.13 and from the rural credits fund $29,305.90. Polk county has borroowed $143,974.61 froom the school fund and $11,758.52 from the rural credits fund. Lane county has loans aggregating $113,366 from the school fund and $4791.81 from the rural credit fund. Jackson county has borroowed $202,220 from the school fund and $21,404.51 from the rural credit fund. Deschutes county's loans from the two funds are $95,270 and $4831.60 respectively, and Umatilla county's loans from the two funds are $217,405 and $4526.58 respectively. Douglas county has borrowed $66,054 from the school fund and $19,312.95 from the rural credit fund.

ACRE OF ONIONS PAYS $1400

C. E. McIllwain of the Lake Labish district this year took $1400 from an acre of onion sets. In addition he took better than 40 tons of carrots to the acre off from his Lake Labish land. Down in the Labish section, along the rim of the lake, a considerable new planting of Etterburg strawberries is reported for this year. It is stated that these will give a super-production in the section where they are being planted.

RAIN IS BOONE TO FARMERS

Rains which have come the past few days will prove a boon to the farmers as they will loosen up the soil and allow them to start on long delayed fall plowing. Juet at the present time the rains have been so heavy that plowing is not attempted but a stretch of good weather is looked for which will permit of easy working of the land.

. Cases Are Rare
Actual cases of poisoning from canned food are extremely rare in recent years. Scientific investigation have been made into hundreds of cases of illness where canned foods had been suspected as the cause Just as an example of the finding, here are some surprising figures.
Year before last were 100 cases of illness or other complaints attributed to canned foods, were investigated by the National Canners Association in cooperation with Chicago University and the United States Public Health Service. The list of canned foods investigated consisted of fruit, milk, olives, sea foods, soup, vegetables and so forth.
Out of the first 112 of the investigation which were completed in only three instances were commercial canned food at fault in other words the public had guessed right 109 times out of 112 or over 97% of the cases.
