

COOLIDGE TO LET HANEY OUT

BOYS SCHOOL ATTENDANT ASSAULTED

Injury to W. W. Craig By Prowler Kept Secret Three Weeks; Suspect Escape Plot.

Efforts are being made at the state training school for boys, Superintendent L. M. Gilbert said today, to capture or otherwise ascertain the identity of prowlers who have made their appearance at the school on two occasions recently. However, it is unknown whether same person or persons have intruded on both occasions.

The first appearance of a prowler, on October 22, resulted seriously for W. W. Craig, one of the employes of the school, who was struck in the face with a rock, necessitating his going to the hospital for several days.

Craig believed someone who had raised the premises of the school was signaling by whistling to the boy inmates who were sleeping on an upper floor in one end of the building. Going around the building, Craig came upon a man, who was about 30 feet away. The man, according to Craig's story, hurled a rock at him and ran. The rock struck Craig in the face, severely lacerating his face and knocking him unconscious for a time. When he regained consciousness he was able to find his way to the school hospital unassisted. Craig was unable to give a description of the man and does not know whether there was more than one. It is believed he may have intended to help some of the inmates escape from the school.

Last Saturday night M. E. Pears, night watchman at the school, heard an unusual noise behind one of the buildings and when he went to investigate reported that he saw a man running away from the premises.

Superintendent Gilbert says the attack on Craig and the appearance of another prowler Saturday night are attended by a great deal of mystery that makes investigation difficult. Not far from the school is an old lumber mill that is a continuous camp for tramps, and this is being watched by officers of the school.

GOOD EVENING WORDS AND MUSIC

By Stoddard King

The Parade of the Parlor Hound
When Alexander Smith was six,
He learned some clever parlor
tricks;
Now that he's old and bent and lame,
He has the self-same repertory.

Through all his adolescent years,
His stunts elicited loud cheers;
At college, popular and proud,
He used them on a brand new crowd

But trouble smote him with her frown
As soon as Alex settled down
And could not possibly arrange
To have his audience change.

His imitation of a cat
Caused his first wife to leave him flat;
It seemed to her a heinous crime
After the 97th time.

He very seldom got a chance
To do his funny Spanish dance,
He might have changed his act,
'tis true,
But entertainers never do!

And so a wanderer on the earth,
He sought to kindly strangers
He, the once-pampered social pet,
Would prance for folks he'd never met.

MORAL.
Avoid, dear friend, this poor man's fit,
And learn no clever parlor tricks;
But, if by any chance, you hit,
Then change your act, or hire a hall!

A new explanation of the sudden popularity of Florida is offered in a letter from a northern traveler in that fair land. He says: "Here it is perfectly proper for a man to go into the dining rooms of the best hotels, in the summer time, seatless." And, since it is always summer in Florida, that means a great deal.

Sir Charles Ross, mentioned in the papers as the largest landowner in the United States because "America is the only country safe from revolution." He will be met at the dock by a reception committee of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution.
(Copyright 1925)

$304,000,000 SET AS LIMIT OF TAX CUTS

Ways and Means Committee To Fight Attempts At Further Reduction Of Revenues.

Washington, Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee believes the federal revenue for next year has been sliced to the limit of sound policy in the reductions already voted by the committee in the new revenue bill and indicates he will oppose any attempt in the house to increase the tax cut.

In a statement issued as the committee prepares to complete the drafting of the bill, Chairman Green announced that the bill was closed there to any further plans for tax relief. The treasury, he said, could not stand any reduction beyond the $304,000,000 estimated under the revisions already approved.

This is taken to mean that the committee intends to stand on the rate schedules as now adopted, and furthermore, that vigorous opposition will be interposed to any attempt in the house, as threatened, to go beyond the committee's proposal for reduction in the automobile tax.

Referring to proposals for total reductions ranging from $350,000,000 to $500,000,000, as compared with the $300,000,000 limit recommended by the treasury, Mr. Green said he was opposed to the use of foreign debt proceeds for ordinary expenses instead of reduction of the national debt, as contemplated in some of these proposals. He further called attention to the need of a federal building program and the additional demand on government revenue this would impose.

Mr. Green especially emphasized the opinion that government revenues should not be cut too closely because of their large dependence on business conditions. The fact that since 1921, the actual reduction in revenues has been proportionately less than the reduction in tax rates he ascribed largely to changing business conditions.

Upholds Slayer

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, president of the American Birth Control League, justified the slaying by Dr. Harold E. Blazer, Littleton, Col., of his imbecile, crippled daughter on the ground it was a mercy for the girl to die. Mrs. Sanger said she would condone the practice of euthanasia.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—The fervor of the love letters which Alice Beatrice Jones, daughter of a negro taxi driver, first sent to her husband Leonard Kip Rhinelander, during their courtship, gradually changed to an insistent threat that he would lose her unless he married her.

Today's series of letters, introduced at resumption of the trial of young Rhinelander's annulment suit, are filled with demands of marriage and at the same time promise the greatest secrecy until the wealthy young scion of an aristocratic family should have attained his majority.

On November 4, 1922, Alice wrote:

Pled Her Silence.
"If you can't come home, I will have to go away with someone else."

It was at this time that Leonard was attending school. Two months later Alice was even more outspoken. "You are going to be mine, now or never," she wrote. "I have thrown down two chances for you. I would keep the thing a dead, cold secret. After you are mine I would keep quiet until you are your own boss."

Again on May 15, 1923, she wrote: "I deserve everything I get from you. I have had hundreds of chances to make dates but I have turned everything down."

This attempt by the plaintiff's lawyers to show that Alice sought to make young Rhinelander jealous was a continuation of the same effort of last week when her letters contained references to various matters.

(Continued on Page Six)

GIRL FEARED FOR LOSS OF RHINELANDER

Threats Of Girl To Leave With Another Shown In Love Letters Read Into Evidence.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—The fervor of the love letters which Alice Beatrice Jones, daughter of a negro taxi driver, first sent to her husband Leonard Kip Rhinelander, during their courtship, gradually changed to an insistent threat that he would lose her unless he married her.

Today's series of letters, introduced at resumption of the trial of young Rhinelander's annulment suit, are filled with demands of marriage and at the same time promise the greatest secrecy until the wealthy young scion of an aristocratic family should have attained his majority.

On November 4, 1922, Alice wrote:

Pled Her Silence.
"If you can't come home, I will have to go away with someone else."

It was at this time that Leonard was attending school. Two months later Alice was even more outspoken. "You are going to be mine, now or never," she wrote. "I have thrown down two chances for you. I would keep the thing a dead, cold secret. After you are mine I would keep quiet until you are your own boss."

Again on May 15, 1923, she wrote: "I deserve everything I get from you. I have had hundreds of chances to make dates but I have turned everything down."

This attempt by the plaintiff's lawyers to show that Alice sought to make young Rhinelander jealous was a continuation of the same effort of last week when her letters contained references to various matters.

(Continued on Page Six)

Contest In Baking To Close Journal School of Cooking

The Capital Journal free electric cooking school will feature a baking contest for women.

Next week, November 23-24-25, the housewives of Salem who will attend The Capital Journal free electric cooking school will compete in the baking contest which will close the free electric cooking school.

Advance word from Miss Lowen, expert home economist, who is to conduct the free electric cooking school, is to the effect that any woman or girl in Marion or Polk county, except professional cooks and employes of The Capital Journal and their families, is entitled to enter this baking contest. Miss Lowen also advises that cakes and pies of all kinds may be entered in this contest and further that these foods may be baked at home on any kind of a stove or range.

The rules are few and simple—here they are:

Articles entered in this contest are to be baked at home in any kind of a stove or range.

Any woman or girl in Marion or Polk county is entitled to enter this baking contest, except, of course, professional cooks and employes of The Capital Journal and their families.

Insofar as possible, the food products used in the cooking school are to be selected by all entering this contest.

The contest is to be divided into two classes: Pies and cakes.

Any one person is entitled to enter one article in each of the two divisions, if they so desire.

All food entered is to be the property of The Capital Journal.

Please do not bring in your entry on a plate you wish to keep. Positively no plates can be returned.

The judging of the pies and cakes will be handled by a board of judges selected by The Capital Journal. In all cases their decisions will be final.

Prizes will be awarded the afternoon on which the cooking school closes, November 25.

All entries must be delivered to the Salem armory between 10 a. m. and noon on November 25.

All food after it is judged and the prizes awarded will be sold by The Capital Journal for the benefit of local charity.

In tomorrow's edition of the Capital Journal a complete list of prizes will be published. These prizes have been selected from the stock of many different stores in Salem and represent in value hundreds of dollars.

MINISTRY TOLD OREGON MAN TO LOSE JOB

Representations That Position Of Ship Board Member Popular At Home Are Unavailing.

Washington, Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—President Coolidge today informed Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, that he would not reappoint B. E. Hanev as commissioner of the United States shipping board.

The president requested the Oregon senator to submit for his consideration in connection with the post held by Mr. Hanev, the names of a republican and a democrat in Oregon who would have the unified support of the shipping and business men of that section.

The president's refusal to reappoint Mr. Hanev is the sequel of a controversy centering around the authority of the shipping board and the fleet corporation.

The president's refusal to reappoint Mr. Hanev is the sequel of a controversy centering around the authority of the shipping board and the fleet corporation.

The president's refusal to reappoint Mr. Hanev is the sequel of a controversy centering around the authority of the shipping board and the fleet corporation.

BOOZE DRINKER ROBBED; FOUND DAZED ON ROAD

Dallas, Ore., Nov. 16.—Don Lewis doesn't know what happened to him on Friday evening from the time that he was crossing the street between the Gail hotel and the Hol land garage until he was found on the Falls City road, near the Odd Fellows cemetery, with a broken collar bone, a wide gash on his hip and in an unconscious condition. Also he doesn't know what happened to the twelve dollars that he carried in a bill fold early in the evening.

The last thing Lewis remembers was taking several drinks of moonshine. A short time later he was found in the middle of the Falls City road by J. N. Foster. Some say that he was slugged and robbed. Others believe that he was hit by a car and that the twelve dollars left his pockets before the accident occurred. On the assumption that the last theory is the correct one, no complaint has been made to the sheriff.

Lewis is about thirty years of age and his occupation is painting.

3 MEN, 2 GIRLS ARE ARRESTED

A party of three men and two girls were arrested by Officers Edwards and Thompson Saturday night on North Capitol, the two girls for investigation and the men for having liquor in their possession. Against Fanchio Stubbsfield, who is from Pendleton, are additional charges of having his license plates covered, trans- porting of liquor and breaking glass on the street. He is said to have broken a jug on the street when the officers attempted to make the arrest.

The others in the party were Floyd Gully, Robert Hall Jesse, France and Emily Stubbsfield. The latter has been released to F. E. Dodel.

COLLEGE YOUTH SEEKS $400 WIFE

A Chittanooga, N. Y., young man 26 years old, and a college graduate, believes he is available material for the hand of "Jordan," the woman who advertised in the Capital Journal for a husband whose name she wishes to use for three months, and to whom she offered $400 for his services.

"If this opportunity has not been written will you kindly inform me," writes the applicant.

"I am 26 years old, a college graduate, dark hair, large blue eyes, five feet nine, 135 pounds, very good looking, come from very respectable family. Thought I would not marry while mother lived. She spent her money on my education and now is in need of money to save our home at this time. Seeing I would make me a free man at the end of three months I would be glad to offer time. Seeing it would make me this latest candidate brings the total applications to more than 300.

FALL OF MEDINA IMMINENT

Bombay, British India, Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—The fall of Medina, "the prophetic city" in Hedjaz, before the attacks of the Wahabi tribesmen, is imminent, according to advices from authentic sources there.

The inhabitants of the city are reported to have invited Ibn Saud, sultan of Njed and leader of the Wahabis, to enter and receive their submission.

(Ib Saud early this year captured Mecca and took over the control of a considerable part of Arabia.)

MAN OFFERS TO KILL SELF FOR FILM THRILLER

Constantinople, Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—The Stamboul newspapers today print an advertisement of a man who desires to enter into a contract with a moving picture concern in Turkey or the United States under which he may be put to death by being buried alive or hanging or commit suicide through taking poison. The method of his death is to be left to the company with which he signs the contract. The advertisement states that 20 per cent of the money received from the proceeds of the film shall be used for the education of his six children. He says he can relieve them from poverty and leave them a dowry only by sacrificing his life. His offer is to remain open until January 15.

LOCAL TORNADO MILD IN NATURE WELLS REPORTS

Portland, Nov. 16.—(AP)—No great damage resulted from the tornado which swept a section of the Willamette valley in the Independence district last Wednesday, declared Edward L. Wells, government weather forecaster who returned today from a tour of inspection of the storm area.

"I found some evidence of a tornado, but it was not a strong one," he said. "I found no well defined path where damage was done, but I found evidence of a whirl of the wind and of an explosive force."

"No large amount of damage was done. The buildings wrecked or damaged were old sheds and hop driers, for the most part, and some old trees in orchards were blown down near Independence. An old frame drier at Liberty was wrecked."

"The damage from the tornado was traced over a tract of four or five miles. At no point was the path clearly defined. Apparently the twister would strike the earth and within a very short distance it would rise. For instance at the Walker hop ranch, two old sheds used for pickers were wrecked, the twister rose, passing over two other buildings, then descended damaging a hop drier just a short distance away."

RARE TREASURE FOUND IN TOMB OF BOY PHAROAH

Cairo, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The treasures found in the tomb of the boy king, Tut-Ankh-Amen soon will be brought to the Cairo museum for exhibition. Meanwhile, as they are being furnished, the tomb will be closed to visitors.

The evidence thus far adduced through an inspection of the mummy in its coffin of gold, tends to show that it is of a male not yet an adult, and that when death came the person was greatly emaciated. The mummy was not removed from its case, but instead, the wrappings about it were cut through from the neck to the feet. Owing to the fragile conditions of the wrappings, the greatest care had to be exercised.

During the work a large number of interesting and beautiful objects were brought to view. The ministry of work here says that both forearms of the mummy were loaded with magnificent jewels. Other objects brought to light were amulets and collar-ettes; a superb gold dagger with a crystal handle, bracelets of intricate workmanship and finger rings. A large inlaid pectoral, head work ornaments with golden circles.

On the feet of Tut-Ankh-Amen were golden sandals, and each toe a golden nail. Only the lower part of the body and the limbs of the Pharaoh had been exposed to the view of the workers in the tomb up to last Friday, and the operation is of such a delicate nature that further progress will be slow. As soon as possible, the objects found will be cleaned and restored after which they will be brought here and placed on exhibition.

TUEL ESCAPES FROM JAIL BUT IS RECAPTURED

Bend, Or., Nov. 16.—John Tuel under indictment in Klamath county for burglary and who was arrested last Thursday in Bend as a suspect in a Prineville robbery, was recaptured this morning at daybreak by Crook officials after having broken jail in Prineville at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

When taken, Tuel was walking along the highway 20 miles east of Prineville bound for Mitchell, where his wife's family are said to reside. Officers were on their way back having almost given up the search. The escape was not discovered until 9 o'clock last night by the court house janitor. Tuel was the only prisoner in the jail and he is said to have broken a bar on the window which had been broken in a previous jail break and not well repaired.

Tuel's wife is said to be in Klamath Falls at the present time.

SILETZ AGENCY IS CLOSED

Newport, Or., Nov. 16.—The Indian agency operated at Siletz, since 1850 is being closed on account of lack of business. Edwin L. Charcraft, who has been in charge since 1914 has been transferred to Seattle. It was pointed out that the Indians have died off rapidly during the past few years and that now there are many more white persons on the reservation than Indians.

SEATTLE GREETES HUSKIES WARMLY

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 16.—Amid the deafening roar of automobiles, clanging street car bells and cheers of early morning pedestrians, the University of Washington football team arrived here this morning from Berkeley, Cal., where it defeated the University of California, Saturday, 7 to 0.

A long procession of noisy automobiles escorted the Huskies through the downtown streets. There are 415 members of the team, and the streets of all other traffic to let the heroes pass.

The players were all reported in good shape.

TRENT IS GIVEN 7 YEAR SENTENCE

McMinnville, Ore., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—James P. Trent, McMinnville farmer, today was sentenced to seven years imprisonment and fined five hundred dollars by Judge William Hanney following Trent's conviction on second degree murder charges growing out of the death of George O. Hamlin, Portland.

Defense counsel immediately filed a motion for a new trial, and the court granted a ten day stay of execution, during which time Trent will be at Liberty under a bond of $10,000.

The prisoner heard the court pronounce sentence without a word. He was slightly pale as he turned from the bench.

EX-KLUXER GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 16.—(AP)—David C. Stephenson was sentenced to life imprisonment today by Judge Will M. Sparks for the murder of Madge Oberholzer. The former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan chewed an unlighted cigar as sentence was pronounced. He was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury which reported late Saturday.

Stephenson delivered a short speech before he was sentenced in which he declared: "Time will unfold the cold, white light of truth and show this honorable court and the world that D. C. Stephenson is not guilty of this or any other charge brought against him."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

PREACHER DROPS DEAD JUST BEFORE CHURCH

Independence, Ore., Nov. 16.—Heart failure was the cause of the sudden death of John Alva Mellon, of Portland, at the home of his son-in-law, Alex McGillivray, in Independence, about six o'clock last night. Mellon, who was sixty-eight years of age, came down from Portland each Sunday to preach in the Christian church in Independence. He was preparing to go to the church to take charge of Christian Endeavor services last night when he fell over dead.

Survivors are two sisters and four grandchildren, the children of his daughter, Mrs. Gillivray who died about six months ago. The remains are at the Keeney undertaking parlors and interment will take place in Portland on Wednesday.

NEW YORK ELKS CLUB PADLOCKED 6 MONTHS

New York, Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—The Elks club of New York today accepted a "padlock for six months," closing the situation which has grown out of proceedings instituted by United States Attorney Buckner under the prohibition laws.

For the next half year the grill room and bar of the club will be locked and sealed. Mr. Buckner explained that where restaurants incidentally were connected with liquor matters, only the former were closed.

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

EX-KLUXER GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 16.—(AP)—David C. Stephenson was sentenced to life imprisonment today by Judge Will M. Sparks for the murder of Madge Oberholzer. The former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan chewed an unlighted cigar as sentence was pronounced. He was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury which reported late Saturday.

Stephenson delivered a short speech before he was sentenced in which he declared: "Time will unfold the cold, white light of truth and show this honorable court and the world that D. C. Stephenson is not guilty of this or any other charge brought against him."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the will of the 143 was but the will of a minority.

His remarks were made with difficulty after shouts of "throw him out" "sit down" "let him speak" and the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee," by the choir.

One of the few women present at the services which were expected to be stormy in view of a month long clash of factions favoring and opposing the retention of Edwards as pastor, attempted to quell the tumult by hastening to the pulpit and, with her hand on the bible, appealing for peace. Her voice was lost in a sea of shouting, hoots and catcalls.

Quiet came eventually when about 100 members walked out of the church in a "peaceful demonstration."

Church Riot Results When Pastor Refuses To Obey Ouster Edict

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—A religious quiet settled down over this orange belt city today as participants in yesterday's riot at the First Christian church prepared to shift the scene of their conflict to San Bernardino, the county seat, where opponents of the Rev. B. Glenn Edwards, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., hoped to obtain the assistance of law enforcement officials in their efforts to oust him from the pulpit.

Sunday morning services were thrown into an uproar yesterday when Garner O. Gedick, son-in-law of Justice P. G. Meiver, leader of the forces, opposing Edwards, arose from his pew as the pastor began to preach.

Reminding the congregation that at a meeting last Friday Mr. Edwards "had been voted out of the pulpit by 143 members," Gedick inquired pointedly of the clergyman whether he intended to bow to the will of the 143. The pastor replied that he did not, explaining that although there are 415 members of the church, the