To the Editor:—In reading your issue of the evening paper I want to praise you in your editorial on example of what is needed to be done. I note that a local "viligent State Star Sucker" has arrested two men near Turner for poaching. Why is it a law is made whereby only a few of the lucky rich hunters can "feed up" and attract all. I'll say "all" with no small emphasis, the ducks for their own private fun. These "hog hunters" do not obey the state game laws because every one of them hide in their "blinds" and slaughter the ducks, where the state game law states it is always unlawful to shoot from a blind.

As a hunter myself I'd feel greatly satisfied if I could go out and get 5 ducks, while these "hog hunters" feel like they are slighted if they don't kill the limit which is far too big as it is. How would it be if all the fish in Oregon were in one river and no one except owners of the land or leasers could fish it? My what a howl some of the "hog hunters" would make of it. And deer; what if I owned 10000 acres and feed up the deer on it and attracted other deer to it how would the 'hog h'unters" feel should they wish to kill a deer?

It makes me feel every time I think of how they have all the duck hunting their hearts desire and the "rest of us" hunters cant go any where and get half a chance to kill ducks.
