

Salem Longfellows Rush to Defense of Much Abused Mutt

A new member, none other than Augustus Mutt, internationally famous Budd Fisher character, will be proposed for membership in the Salem Longfellows club at its meeting Friday night, it was announced yesterday by Dr. A. G. Bates, head of the local organization of tall men.

"We are going to close our charter at our meeting that night, says Dr. Bates, 'so if we want to have him as a charter member it will be the last chance we will have.'"

A small group of the local longfellows, in backing Mutt for membership in the club, declare that for years they have even him mistreated, deceived, abused and otherwise wrongfully dealt with by his more abbreviated companion. "Our Longfellows club is for just such cases as this," they declare. "We are all banding ourselves together for the purpose of making the world a more agreeable place for tall men to live in. We feel a kindred spirit for individuals like this man Mutt."

Incidentally, although the local tall men are not making much of a point of the fact, they have an idea of getting some publicity out of the episode.

Notice of Friday night's meeting to be held at the Salem hotel, recently sent out to all men already actively connected with the Longfellows club, urge that each man bring a new member. Just who will present Mr. Mutt for membership has not been definitely stated, but every expectation is held that popular demand will effect his membership along with the fest of those who are to be entered upon the rolls of Salem's newest, highest and most elevated organization. Others menuring a foot or more in height will be admitted to membership Friday night without the formality of any vote. Friday's meeting, however, will be the last opportunity for any Salemite to become a charter member of the local order.

Friday's banquet is slated to start at 8 p. m.

PROHIBITION HELD FAILURE

New York, Nov. 19.—(A.P.)—Dr. and Mrs. Hudson Maxim sailed Wednesday for their first trip abroad in 26 years and one of the chief reasons for the trip, the aged inventor said was to get some ale and stout.

Dr. Maxim, before the ship sailed distributed among his friends a pamphlet against prohibition. "We will have to invent a new human race if prohibition is to be enforced," he said, "and that new race will have to be aided and abetted by the Anti-Saloon League. Drinking races have always dominated the world and will always do so. "Enforcement of prohibition is enforcement of a crime. That is why people of ordinary common sense have no sympathy with the law."

For winter driving—change your oil

IN winter your automobile requires a free-flowing oil, if it is to start quickly and be free from dangerous friction. All oils do not meet this requirement, but here again Zerolene proves one of its superiorities — it flows freely at low temperatures.

To determine the correct body of Zerolene for the winter lubrication of your car, consult the Zerolene Correct Lubrication Chart —at Standard Oil Service Stations and at dealers.
