DONEY DENIES COACHING JOB HERE OFFERED

Contrary to press service reports, no offer has been extended to V. E. Henroid of Greeley high school, Colorado, or to any other man to become head football coach at Willamette university, it was stated this morning by Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, president of the university. Dr. Doney's statement was made in reply to inquiries based upon rumors placed in circulation yesterday.

"This man Henroid wrote me a letter on the subject recently," says President Doney. "I answered telling him that there is no vacancy in the athletic department, but that his application would be placed on file for reference in case any vacancy should occur. In the meantime, I told him, he could submit his credentials if he cared to do so. So far I have not received any."

The report, apparently put into circulation by Henroid himself at Greeley, and taken up by the Associated Press from that city, was termed by Doney as a case of "just trying to fly his kite." Perhaps he hopes for a raise in salary at Greeley, where he is head coach of the high school, or hopes by circulating the report to bring pressure to bear to secure some other position, it is suggested.

FARMER LOSES ON BIG CORN CROP, IS REPORT

Des Moines, Iowa.—A bumper crop of corn does not necessarily mean prosperity for the Iowa farmer. More than likely it means money out of his pocket, says C. D. Reed, director of the weather and crop reporting service.

In his bulletin, Mr. Reed has been repeating "More corn—less dollars." Basis for the statement was found in a fact pointed out by the late Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, substantiated by figures in Mr. Reed's own office. The reverse is equally true, he declared, "Less corn—more dollars."

"Take the crop of 1924," said Mr. Reed. "It was the poorest we have had since 1901. The average yield was only 28 bushels to the acre. Despite the yield being 132,000,000 bushels shorter than the previous crop and that it was of inferior quality, it brought the Iowa farmer $13,000,000 more than the year before."

"The 1921 crop—Iowa's greatest—is another example. The average yield for that year was 43 bushels an acre, a bumper crop even for Iowa, yet the total return to farmers was only $133,000,000, compared with the $250,000,000 which the average corn crop brings."

In that year Mr. Reed said the gross return for land that grew corn was 12.90 an acre, the lowest figure since 1902.

Only Woman Cast In "What Price Glory" Proclaimed as Star

Inaborg Torrup, who is the only woman in the cast of "What Price Glory," coming to the Heilig theatre this month was cast by Louis O. Maclean in the part of Charmaine de Cognac because she is half French, knows the peasant people and was able to look the part and to speak with a true French accent. Miss Torrup has had a most successful dancing career, having appeared in France, Denmark and Germany with a great success. She believes, however, that if one can dance, one can act and she has proved this in "What Price Glory." The critics have been most lavish in their praise of Miss Torrup. She makes Charmaine a very real person, and in spite of the heavy peasant shoes and form—disguising costume, she gives much grace to Charmaine and is always a telling picture.

"What Price Glory" is just a slice of life at the front "somewhere in France." There were hundreds of soldiers just like the men used by Maxwell Anderson and Laurence Stallings in their hard-boiled war drama comedy. They were hundreds of girls like Charmaine who loved the soldiers. This play broke all dramatic records in New York. People were a little shocked at first by the roughness of the language, but they agreed that it was a great play—a play people with characters who lived and lived again in "What Price Glory."

Louis O. Maclean engaged that veteran actor, Emmett Corrigan, to play Captain Flagg while Tom Chatterton plays Sergeant Quirt. A splendid cast handles the other characters, while Inaborg Torrup supplies the feminine character to give a touch of color and the only softness to this hard-boiled comedy which as appealed to thousands throughout the country.

TO SELL RUSKIN'S HOME COOLIDGE WOULD PUNISH LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS

London, Eng.—John Ruskin's home, "Brantwood House," Coniston, Lancashire, where the poet lived for 25 years and died in 1900, is to be sold. In 1885, by deed of gift, Ruskin made over his house and contents to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Severn, "praying them never to sell the estate of Brantwood, nor to let any portion of it upon building lease." He also requested that they "accord during 30 consecutive days in each year such permission to strangers to see the house and pictures as I have done in my lifetime." Extremities of fortune are believed to be the reason for the sale.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(A. P.)—All violations of the prohibition law, however small, should be prosecuted, in the opinion of President Coolidge, although he believes that special stress should be placed upon cases where convictions will close up 147,200 sources of liquor supplies.

ONLY 7 TYPES OF JOKES, SAYS COMEDY DIRECTOR

Hollywood, Cal.—There are just varieties of jokes, says Robert G. Vucola, motion picture director. They are the fall joke, blow joke, cheat joke, mimicry joke, surprise joke, dumb joke and the expressive joy joke.

Of these, the most successful in motion pictures from the standpoint of audiences are the fall and blow jokes, which include comic misfortune and aggression. Film comedians specialize usually in one or more of the types of joke, each of which, regardless of variation, may be placed in one of the seven types.

The International Typographical Union has raised the age at which members may be pensioned from 60 to 65 years. This is largely because of the increase in the average length of the lives of members.

Cooking School Awards

$150.00 Prize for the Best Cake!

Can you bake cake? If so, there is a $150 award waiting for you at the Capital Journal Free Electric Cooking School Baking Contest. If you expect to win the first prize, and of course you do, your cake must be the best one submitted to the judges of the Baking Contest. Expert pie bakers are also provided with means of showing their skill in the domestic art through the provision of the Baking Contest, to be held next Wednesday afternoon at the Armory.

Although the Free Electric Cooking School opens on Monday afternoon, November 23, the Baking Contest will not occur until Wednesday afternoon. This Baking Contest is divided into two divisions: Cake, and Pie. Any girl or woman may enter any one of these two divisions. Also she is privileged to enter one (only) article in both divisions. Judges as selected by the Capital Journal will judge these entries from their appearance, taste (which means they will be sampled), texture, flavor, evenness of bake, etc., according to the judges' score cards, provided by Miss Lowen. The judges, under this plan, absolutely do not know the name of anyone entering this Baking Contest. Each woman entering either of the contests will be given a one pound can of Crisco.

To the Editor:—To get at the facts connected with the enforcement of the prohibition law the Oregon Prohibition Referendum Corporation has announced that it is ready to cooperate with any committee representing any grade, lodge, church or other organization named for the purpose of discovering in good faith to what extent the anti-liquor law in Oregon is being violated.

We will allow these committee agents that they will not forget for awhile. We know that after the truth about the failure of enforcement is known it will be good-bye to this hypocritical condition and to the cowardly politicians who are misrepresenting the situation. We are going to show the people that this so-called enforcement is a brazen farce. Then if the people decide they want to continue the condition they can do so, but not blindly.

The charges that we are out to hinder the enforcement of the prohibition laws is a malicious lie, circulated by the most unscrupulous bunch of politicians, organized and dominated by the Anti-Saloon league, this nation has ever had. We are not in any manner opposing the enforcement of the law. The facts are the law is not being observed at all, and its enforcement is physically impossible, owing to the nature of the law. The fault lies not in the people but in the nature of the law itself. People are still drinking in accordance with custom which is more powerful than law, and they are likewise discussing prohibition and its failure more than in the old saloon days. The condition is much worse than the most fanatical wets ever pre-
