The county has recently added to its equipment a new set of road scales for weighing loads of trucks on the highways, the new scales being of an entirely different pattern than those used heretofore. They allow a truck to ride directly onto the scales which are laid in the road and do away with the necessity of the officer crawling under a truck to get weights. Deputy Sheriff Bert Smith, county traffic officer, is placed in charge of the new scales.

The death of Walter J. Porter, resident of Salem for the past 23 years, coming at 9 o'clock this morning, was one of the most sudden and unexpected deaths in the history of the city. At 9 o'clock Mr. Porter, feeling slightly indisposed, went in to get a lunch at the Maples restaurant on Court street. He suffered a sudden heart attack while sitting at the lunch counter, was taken to a cot in the rear of the establishment, where he died a few minutes later. A physician, hastily summoned, examined him, declared that he would be "all right" and had been gone some two minutes when death took place.

IF YOU WERE A CITY COUNCILMAN?

- (Continued from Page One)
1. Favor a commission form of government for our city.
  2. On all city work, would stand firmly against employment outside labor in preference to our city people, who pay taxes for the upkeep of our city.
  3. Favor civil service for all city employees.
  4. Advocate purchase by city of industrial sites, to be given under certain conditions to reliable concerns who would locate their plants in our city. Thereby making Salem a payroll city.
  5. Favor a new source of supply for our city water. Some people have forgotten that our city is growing, also purchase by city of present water system.
  6. Bus service in preference to present street car system. Proper electrical and plumbing in spection.
- These are only a few of the many progressive plans I would try to make possible if I were a city councilman.

PRISON TERM IS COMMUTED BY COOLIDGE

Hickey, Assistant United States Attorney George Cohan and Attorney Joseph M. Freedman, the last named being counsel for Chapman, were present when the commutation paper was presented to Chapman.

Following action at the state prison, State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn admitted the order of commutation had been signed by President Coolidge, Monday evening after a formal request for such action had been made by him. The request was in the nature of a communication from the state's attorney to the president, in which the desires of the state of Connecticut were set forth and the executive order was immediately signed. The request of Mr. Alcorn had the approval of Attorney General Sargent, who had given the case his personal attention.

Test Case Likely. Washington, Nov. 25.—(A. P.)—Department of justice officials here expect Gerald Chapman's attorneys to fight through the courts the question of whether he is compelled to accept the commutation of being federal sentence signed by President Coolidge.

The department holds that there is no law to oblige the government to keep custody of a person whose sentence has been commuted, but nevertheless it was said today that the courts would have to pass on it at the instance of the Chapman defense.

KIP TOLD OF GIRL'S BLOOD BACK IN 1921

the presence of her mother. "Mrs. Jones," said Lee Parsons Davis, defense attorney, "Rhinelander says in substance that in your presence, Alice told him she was white. Is that true?" "I never heard that spoken of," said the witness.

Color Never Questioned. "Did Rhinelander ever question your daughter's color in your presence?" "No."

Mr. Jones said that Rhinelander's name meant nothing to her when she first met him, that she knew nothing of his wealth, and social position. She admitted that he had been deceived when he and Alice went on a motor trip through New England, telling her that a "Mr. and Mrs. Matthews" were with them as chaperones. "I often met the Matthews," Mrs. Jones said. She also told how Leonard had shown her the wedding ring several weeks before his marriage to Alice with the admonition "I don't want the marriage to be known for a while."

Sisters Take Stand. Grace and Emily, sisters of Alice, took the stand and said that the question of color had never come up in their presence, although young Rhinelander had been a frequent caller at their home. Emily, whose husband is Robert Brooks, a negro butler, said that her family had never objected to Brooks on the basis of his color, but had criticized her for marrying so young.

Grace is married to a white man and said that her marriage license describes her as "white" because the clerk assumed that was her color and wrote it in without questioning her. She told the oft-repeated tale of her first meeting with young Rhinelander, the subsequent automobile rides and dates, his meeting with Alice and finally transference of his affections to the sister he married.

Died. Wells—William B. Wells died at a local hospital, Nov. 24, at the age of 78 years. The body lies at Webb's funeral parlors. Funeral announcement later.

TOWNSEND—At the late home, 1395 south Liberty street, Nov. 24, 1925, Esther Coggeshall, wife of Charles Townsend, age 85 years, 5 months and 19 days. She is survived by her husband and three children, a son, Watson Townsend, and two daughters, Sophia E. Townsend and Irene B. Cunningham. The remains are in care of the Terwilliger funeral home. Funeral services will be from the Friends South Salem church, Rev. Carl Miller officiating, on Friday at 2 p. m. Interment will be in the City View cemetery.

PORTER—In this city, Nov. 25, suddenly, following a heart attack, Walter J. Porter, age 57 years, a resident of Salem for 23 years, husband of Mrs. Eva J. Porter, father of Mrs. Frances Francis of Iowa, Leonard and Dudley Porter of San Francisco, Perry N. Porter of Bellevue, Wash., the Misses Thelma Porter and Mary Jean Porter of Salem. Also survived by two great grandchildren. Mr. Porter was a member of the Knights of Pythias. Announcement of funeral later from the Rigdon mortuary.

STEWART—At the residence, 2045 north 5th street, Nov. 24, Mrs. Lucy V. Stewart, at the age of 70 years. She was the mother of Winfield E. Reed. Mrs. Stewart was a member of Silver Belle circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft. Funeral services Friday, Nov. 27th at 10:30 a. m. from the Rigdon mortuary, concluding service City View cemetery.

HOPE SEES A STAR. Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. We strive in vain to look beyond the heights. We cry aloud and the only answer is the echo of our wailing cry. From the soulless lips of the unrepenting dead there comes no word; but in the night of death hope sees a star and listening love can hear the rustle of a wing. —R. G. I.

PATTERSON URGES USE OF OLD BOYS' SCHOOL AS PRISON ADJUNCT

the only way in sight for the segregation of prisoners in the near future. There is at the present training school sufficient farm lands to furnish employment to the inmates. It should come under the supervision of the warden, and by the appointment to conduct the institution of high minded officials, who are interested in human welfare, and whose standards of morals are such that they would be daily examples to these unfortunate young men.

"I believe a large per cent of the inmates could be reformed and become useful, law abiding citizens. As I see it this could be done without increasing the per capita cost of the institution. As a matter of fact, this cost can be, and must be, reduced. It is an unreasonable and idle task to say that it cannot be done. With the land used by the institution it should produce all the vegetables, fruits, poultry, pork, etc., for its own use with ample bodied inmates in numbers sufficient to perform the necessary labor.

"The abuse of the pardoning power, in this state, has been one of the greatest obstacles to the proper enforcement of our laws. Records show that the 'life term' in Oregon serves only 8 years of his sentence on the average.

"Under our legal procedure, it rarely happens that an innocent person is convicted of a crime. Where a person is charged with a felony, the case against him is presented to a grand jury and if five of the seven members of that body believe he is guilty, an indictment is returned against him.

"The defendant is then tried in the circuit court before a jury of his peers, and unless all twelve of the jurymen believe beyond a reasonable doubt in his guilt, he is acquitted. If convicted, an appeal may be taken to the supreme court, where the proof is considered, and weighed and impartial decision reached.

"The right and privilege of having the truth of the evidence for and against him determined by two juries and two courts, is vested in all persons charged with the commission of crime. The witnesses and counsel for the defendants are provided at public expense, if desired.

"There will be greater respect for our laws and they will be easier and better enforced when the too frequent pardoning of criminals ceases.

"It seems to me that pardons should not be issued unless new evidence shall be discovered after the trial, sufficient in the judgment of the trial judge or the prosecuting attorney to have changed the verdict; or upon the recommendation of the trial judge or prosecuting attorney, who certainly should be consulted when pardons are considered."

COMPLAINT AMENDED

Justice Morschauser this afternoon granted the plaintiffs request to amend the original complaint, over the objections of defense counsel. The amended complaint now charges Alice with defrauding young Rhinelander negatively, in not telling him that she was of negro blood.

Mr. Davis objected on the ground that the amendment had been made too late in the action and that it did not constitute a proper cause of action. Justice Morschauser, however, cited the legal precedents under which he granted the motion and told Mr. Davis that he would be given ample time to meet the new issues.

The new turn in the case is expected to necessitate further cross-examination of the plaintiffs' witnesses including young Rhinelander. Davis told the court that he thought he would be able to meet the new contentions in a short time.

Successful Farming Requires Modern Methods

The greatest success in business or agriculture is made by the individual who leads the way and produces a better product or service than the rank and file of his competitors.

In its desire to help make the Willamette Valley the garden spot of the United States, the First National Bank employs an expert agriculturist to study soil and crop conditions in conjunction with practical farmers.

There is a large amount of good land in this valley which is lying idle but which could be made to bring good returns as the result of irrigation. On such land peppermint can be made a most valuable crop. A vast acreage of worn out land could be made productive with lime, which when sown to sweet clover, a new crop for this state, will produce the best of green feeds and build up the soil in a wonderful manner. A lot of our sandy river bottom land should be producing alfalfa.

Let our agriculturist, Mr. Doerfler, help you make a selection of soil most suitable to any one of the above valuable crops. Proper diversification and rotation of crops makes farming an enjoyable business and removes the element of chance which has heretofore made the farmer's income more or less uncertain.
