

POULTRY QUIET WITH CALL LAX; PRICES STEADY

Portland, Ore., Nov. 28.—(A.P.)—Live poultry is quiet. Commission houses along the street abound with birds available but there is no demand and not enough sales to establish definite prices. Turkeys, 19 cents; Springs quoted around 24 and 25 cents with live ducks at 25 cents. No live geese offered.

The fresh egg market closed generally steady with a cent advance in underweight to 31 cents, the only change on the dairy board. Fresh eggs have ranged lower during the past week, extras closing at 51 cents or 2 cents under last week.

Standard cubes advanced a half cent in the fresh butter market to 52 1/2 cents. Other grades of cubes held steady at former quotations. Country dressed meats ruled quiet with 16 cents the general top on both choice veal and pork.

Saturday finds some of the largest commission firms with orders still on hand. The market is nominal and they will be disposed of today at the best offer for the lot. Other lines of dressed poultry are mostly cleaned up.

BIG PLANTINGS OF PEPPERMINT IN EAST PLANNED

Reports received from the leading eastern peppermint centers are to the effect that enormous peppermint plantings will be made there for next year and it is estimated there will be over 20,000 acres in the east to compete with the acreage here. Combining this with the vastly enhanced acreage promised in western Oregon, predictions are being made that next year will see a big slump in peppermint prices, and indications point to an exact reversal of the order this year when peppermint oil went to $14.50 a pound, the highest price in history for the product.

The high price is forcing in the east as well as here. One peppermint handler alone in the middle west has 4000 acres of his own and he also is an extensive buyer here. His own acreage far exceeds the present acreage and probably is as much as the total acreage which he here next year if all of the proposed planting goes in.

There is talk now of trying to work out a contract plan for peppermint acreage, considerably along the line of hop contracts to contract for the product of peppermint acreage over a period of years at a stipulated price. While this plan is meeting with some favor here it is stated eastern buyers are opposed to it, referring to go into the market each year and take their chances on results and prices.

During some extraordinary upset, set as weather conditions, there is every indication the mint market will drop next year to almost as great an extent as it soared this year.

POLK GROWERS POOL FILBERTS; SELL AT HOME
Dr. J. M. Powell of Monmouth has been quietly introducing the Williams valley folks Polk growers filberts, and he confesses that he has found it an easy and agreeable task, says the Independence Enterprise.

About two tons of filberts were grown in the district around Monmouth during the past season by John Stump, Ira C. Powell and Dr. Powell. The crops were pooled and the marketing end was assigned to Dr. Powell.

The nuts are dried and sized, and it is then an easy matter to intercept retailers as the quality is outstanding when compared with the foreign produced product.

Dr. Powell has been growing filberts for 18 or 20 years, and admits that he had to do a lot of pioneering before he accomplished the desired results. Barcelona is the main variety grown in the Monmouth orchards, although four other varieties are receiving considerable attention: Daviana, Duchilla, Genote de Italia and Avila.

Dr. Powell says that there is a wonderful field in the Williams valley for filbert development. Conditions are particularly favorable for the growth of high quality nuts in the valley and in Clark county, Wash. These are the only favored spots in the United States, so far as known.

BEAUTY CONTEST FAKE SAYS PAPER; IS SUED

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 28.—(A.P.)—A libel suit to recover $2,000,000 in damages from the MacFadden Publications, Inc., publishers of the New York Evening Graphic, is to be filed today in the supreme court of New York by counsel for the Atlantic City Chamber of Commerce.

The suit is the outgrowth of a series of articles published by the Evening Graphic in which it was charged that the Atlantic City beauty contest conducted here last September had been a frame-up; that the jury had been packed and no girl had a chance to win except one selected in advance by certain motion picture interests.

The complaint sets forth that the Atlantic City chamber of commerce feels that the business reputation of the resort has been grossly libeled, and that the character and honesty of the present directors, all Atlantic City business men, has been impugned.

MRS. Z. J. RIGGS RETURNS; TELLS OF FIELD WORK

through Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon. This work carried her into many of the small and far interior communities, some of them many miles from railroads where most of the residents had never seen a railroad. However, larger towns and cities were included in Mrs. Riggs' itinerary. In all of these places it was her custom to enter into and aid in the community life as much as possible and Mrs. Riggs says she found opportunity to be of real community service in helping solve the problems that are encountered in all parts of the country at present. One of these problems is that of keeping families together. Parents and children appear not to desire the same kinds of entertainment, and the result is that the families do not keep together. All Chautauqua programs, however, brought out large audiences. Mrs. Riggs usually spends about 10 days in a community.

In the lycium division of the work Mrs. Riggs will "make" larger cities than those covered by the winter festival circuit and expects to reach some of the college and university points where part of her work will be among students.

Mrs. Riggs collected a list of about 500 names and addresses during her absence to whom Oregon literature will be sent.
