FUND RAISED FOR TEXAS SESSION

Austin, Texas, Nov. 29.—Intimation that a fund of $500,000 had been pledged to defray the cost of special legislative sessions marked the Sunday interim in the Texas political situation along with an unexpected sequel to the governor's liquor law proclamation, the filing of charges against a negro butler at the executive mansion.

Reports of the fund raising followed declarations of Speaker Lee Satterwhite, that the expenses of the session would be cared for. Mr. Satterwhite is leader of the movement to bring official acts of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's administration before the legislature.

George Brady, the butler, who said he was the beneficiary of an unexpected parole and conditional pardon from Governor Ferguson, was arrested when officers said he was attempting to sell liquor to white men on a street corner. Charges of possessing liquor for sale were against them.

The political row appeared to produce fresh fireworks today but what the new week would bring none would attempt to say.

Santa Claus To Visit Salem With Reindeer On Next Wednesday

Up Dancer and Dasher, Prancer and Vixen, Comet and Cupid and Dancer and Blitzen and took a ride down to Portland.

When he got there he decided that he really ought to see what a state capital looks like in the day time—he is always too busy on Christmas Eve to stay here very long—so on Wednesday his two very best reindeer, Dancer and Prancer, will bring him to Salem.

Santa decided to come to Salem on Wednesday because on that day Mrs. C. S. Jackson of Portland, is going to tell the Salem Rotarians all about her recent trip to Iceland and the Arctic circle, the place that Santa Claus calls home.

The Rotarians are doing all they can so that every little boy and girl in Salem may see Santa and his reindeer when they come here on Wednesday.

FIRST DIVORCE GIVEN IN MONTHS IN POLK

Dallas, Or., Nov. 30.—The first divorce suit in Polk county in months was filed Saturday by C. R. Ellis, Independence attorney, for Clyde H. Hill against Pearl S. Hill. There has been a dearth of divorce suits since the 1925 session law raising the filing fee to $10 went into effect.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE JAP DEPORTATION

This series of letters was preceded by another series last summer, immediately after the Toledo affair, between the governor and H. Okamoto, who was then consul at Portland.

On July 14, Okamoto wrote the governor asking an investigation of the affair, and the governor, who was then in eastern Oregon, also received several telegrams urging a probe. On July 15 the governor wrote Okamoto that he had sent his secretary, W. A. Dezel, and C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner, to Toledo to investigate, that they had been informed by the district attorney that warrants for arrest had been issued against several of the persons implicated in the removal of the Japanese and that the law would take its regular course in the case.

A second letter was received by the governor under date of July 17, again urging a thorough investigation and urging that the governor take all measures to protect the property and persons of Japanese residents in Oregon who were engaged in lawful occupations.

Nothing further was heard of the affair until the recent inquiry made by Consul Mizogawa.

Willie Gram and Dezel were at Toledo a large delegation of Toledo men and women who sympathized with the deportation were given a hearing in the governor's office.

The deportation resulted from the employment of Japanese by the Pacific Spruce corporation mill at Toledo, which the incensed citizens claimed militated against local labor. In the hearings before the governor they claimed that the deportation was peaceful and that no violence had been attempted against the Japanese. The Japanese were put in automobiles and taken to Corvallis.

MURDERER PUT BLAME UPON BOOZE

Lloyd, when visited by the chaplain late yesterday, was utterly unrepentant and "hard-boiled," damn ing everyone he comes in contact with. Most of the night he spent at the windows of the little room in which he was locked. When visited by the chaplain this morning he was in repentant mood and, according to the chaplain, seemed to have undergone a complete change overnight.

Execution is proposed the execution chamber and see the hanging, but were not allowed to.

On the night of the murder Lloyd engaged Baun, a taxi driver to take him to Albany. He shot and killed Baun on the road, evidently for robbery, stole the car and was caught a few days later at The Dalles.

26 Years Old

Lloyd was 26 years old, prior to the crime for which he was executed he served two years in the Oregon penitentiary for forgery. He now has two brothers in the Oregon prison. Tom Lloyd, who was released July this year, is now a year for burglary and H. J. Lloyd, received June 5 to serve two years for forgery. Both were sent up from Lane county. Another
