Bridge Tea Elaborate Affair

Several hundred prominent society matrons and club women of Salem were guests at the benefit bridge tea given at the Salem Women's clubhouse yesterday by the club. The affair was the first of a series of three which the club plans to give during the winter for the purpose of raising funds with which to redecorate the interior of the clubhouse. More than sixty five dollars was cleared from yesterday's tea.

In the opinion of many of the guests the clubhouse was never more beautiful than yesterday. The Christmas plan was carried out in all the decorations and dozens of potted plants and ferns formed a lovely background for the thirty five tables arranged about the big rooms for the play-rooms. More than a dozen floor and window seats—large davenport and big comfortable chairs were loaned for the occasion by the Clegg Powers furniture company. In charge of the decorations were Mrs. Harry J. Wiedmer, Mrs. O. E. Price, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding and Mrs. Roy Burton.

The guests were received at the door by Mrs. Wm. Forsythe Fargo, club president, and Mrs. Homer Goulet and Mrs. George A. White, general chairman and assistant in charge of the entire affair.

Bridge was played from two until four o'clock. High honors for the afternoon were won by Mrs. Edwin L. Baker. Mrs. G. R. Vebra received second prize. In the group were a number of matrons asked groups of their friends to form two and three tables and prizes were given by the hostesses for highest scores among the individual parties.

At the tea hour a number of additional guests were welcomed. Mrs. John Albert and Mrs. C. P. Bishop presided at the tea table arranged in the dining room with a beautiful centerpiece of deep red poinsettias with red candles in silver holders. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. John L. Rand, Mrs. C. H. Robertson, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. Ralph Cooley, Mrs. E. Bragg, Mrs. P. A. Elker, Mrs. Rhon Luper, Mrs. E. E. King, Mrs. A. L. Wallace, Mrs. Roy Mills and Mrs. Hal D. Patton.

Miss Johnson Chadwick Matron

Miss Lella Johnson, former associate matron, was elected worthy matron of Chadwick chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, for the coming year, at the annual election of officers held at a regular meeting of the chapter in the Masonic hall last night. Mrs. Rose Babeck has served as chapter matron during 1925.

Other elective officers filled by the vote of the chapter last night are as follows: worthy patron, Rev. H. D. Chambers; associate matron, Mrs. Mabel Minto; conductress, Miss Gussie Niles; associate conductress, Mrs. Anna F. Kautner; secretary, Mrs. Ida M. Babeck; treasurer, Mrs. Katherine Bernard. The officers will be installed at the chapter meeting on the first Tuesday in January.

During the meeting last night six members were initiated into the order. A class of eight is prepared for initiation at the next meeting. An auction sale, with Mr. Chambers serving as auctioneer, furnished much amusement and netted a tidy sum for the chapter treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher were hosts at an attractive affair in their home on Saturday evening when they entertained at dinner honoring their small daughter, Mary Jean, on her first birthday, and the baby's aunts and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ward, on their nineteenth wedding anniversary.

An interesting feature of the evening was the presence of four generations when Mrs. C. A. H. Fisher, Mrs. F. C. Wittey, Mrs. Walter Gardner and Bobby Dean Gardner were all included in the guest group.

Covers at the dinner were placed for Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ward, little Miss Mary Jean Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. T. Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. H. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wittey, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gardner, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Mrs. Mackey, James Wittey, Glen Wittey, Bobby Dean Gardner, Laura Hedine and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher.

The Pelreans of the First Methodist church met Saturday evening with Miss Hale for their regular business and social meeting. Dinner was served to twenty two members and guests, who were seated at attractively appointed tables.

A feature of the evening was the reading of the class paper giving the activities of the class. Those present were Grace Smith, Hetta Field, Grace Taylor, Lulu Helst, Lina Hale, Ethel Roberts, Mary de Young, Maude Simons, Mildred Simons, Florence Canningham, Ina Koon, Amy Martin, Jessie Martin, Ethel Higgins, Mary Brewer, Alma Pohle, Mrs. Josephine Taylor, Mrs. Edith Bagley, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mrs. A. E. Hale and the hostess, Laura and May Hale.

Miss Pauline Knowland returned Sunday to Eugene where she is a sophomore in the university and a member of Delta Delta Delta. She spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Knowland.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walsh and two children, Priscilla and Raymond Jr., returned to Eugene on Sunday evening after a visit of several days with Mrs. Walsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Fry Sr.

Another step in securing better drama for Salem theatergoers has been taken with the formation of a permanent organization by a group of representative men and women for the purpose of "furthering dramatic and platform activities in Salem." With-out thought of gain either for themselves or any organization to which they may be allied they group will devote itself solely to bringing the best on the American stage procurable in the west, to the Salem public.

The new group, practically the same which sponsored the production of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" at the Hellog early in the fall, is now devoting its energies to St. John Ervine's powerful drama, "The Ship," which will be given at the Hellog one week from today, December 9. Miss Carol Dibble is chairman of the group. Other members are Mrs. George H. Fadem, president of the Salem branch of the American association of University Women and prominent club woman of Salem; Miss Mable Robertson and Miss Ethel McGillchrist, members of the faculty of Salem high school; Paul Wallace, prominent business man; Albert Richard Wejton, well known writer; and four members of the Willamette university faculty—Prof. Horace Williston, Prof. Horace Raheokop, Prof. Morton E. Peck and Prof. E. T. Brown.

In "The Ship," the world wide conflict between father and son is given. Jack is a young man with queer ideas about machinery and farming. His father, John Thurlow, is the owner of England's largest shipyard and a master builder. Naturally they want different things. Janet Young plays the part of the grandmother, the wise old philosopher who pleads for compromise, and Maroni Olsen himself is the proud builder of ships who wishes his son to carry on despite the son's aversion.

Under the direction of Prof. Horace Williston the literature section of the American Association of University Women will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. E. C. Richards on Center street. The class meetings are held regularly on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Norwood was the scene of a most delightful family dinner on Thanksgiving day. Thirty six members of the family were present including a brother, W. R. Norwood and family from Seattle, Wash., and Thos. Norwood of Portland, Howard Norwood motored down from Sumner, Wash., and remained over until Saturday.

Mrs. Karl Herrett entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Norwood at dinner on Friday, Nov. 27, covers were placed for twelve. During the evening a most delightful musical program was rendered. The Wm. R. Norwoods returned to Seattle on Sunday.

Mrs. George H. Dunsford spent the greater part of last week in Portland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Payne. On Saturday Mr. Dunsford motored down to join her and to attend the Shrine ceremonial. They returned to Salem on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hug and two sons, Walter and Bob, will leave here on Friday afternoon and motor to Mosier, near Hood River, where they will be guests on Saturday at the wedding of Mrs. Hug's cousin, Miss Alice Shogren, to James Wilson. The ceremony will take place at Riverbank orchards on the banks of the Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Page have returned from a short visit in Portland with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Drager have returned to Salem after a visit of four days in Medford with their son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Frey.

Members of the Unitarian alliance scheduled to serve as hostesses at the meeting on Friday afternoon which will be instead a luncheon meeting to honor Mrs. Comstock of Portland, will be hostesses at next month's meeting. Plans are being made at the present time for the bazaar which the alliance will hold in Brownell's electric shop on State street on Saturday, December 5.

Guests at the Munson home the past week were Mrs. Olla Gillett and son Warus of Cosmopolis, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bergman and son, Howard, and Elbert White returned yesterday from Seattle where they have been the guests since Thanksgiving day of Mrs. Bergman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Laine. They were guests at a family dinner on Thanksgiving day and later attended the Oregon Washington football game in the university stadium. They made the trip by motor.
