Suggestions to pre-Christmas husbands—Why not stuff 600 hens and a couple of cows and 10 good improved acres worth $7500 in her stocking and you can trade your town home for it; or how about a 3 acre improved place where the high fogs float and the fir tree dusk and high snakes a natural Christmas tree and worth $5250 and you can trade a house on it; or why not trade a small tract or a Portland property for a 400 acre ranch worth $20,000 with good improvements and 100 acres of fine timber and raise reindeer for Santa Claus; or could you please your wife better than to buy her a nice home and what would be nicer than to celebrate the yuletide in your own beautiful home and we have it for you all done up in a nice Christmas box and tied with blue ribbon—5 rooms with beautiful hardwood floors through out, and all of the built ins and fireplace and everything to make a happy household and right in the best part of town and $5500 is the price and you can afford it.

To the Editor:—The Grand Army post has in the City View cemetery a very prominent spot for the burial of comrades of the Civil war. From time to time comrades have been laid there and some are without markers or headstones. The government furnishes these for all that have their army record.
Will you kindly publish the following names and ask that anyone who knows or can help us in getting this information or locating relatives who might know of these comrades to please write or phone Mrs. Mabel Lockwood 247 North Commercial street, phone 715-J: W.
