

SALM TO SUE ROGERS HEIRESS FOR A DIVORCE

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Saying his wife had been "heartless" in not letting him see their baby, Count Ludwig Salm Von Hoogstraeten, plans to sue her for separation on the grounds of desertion. He seeks "the protection of the American courts" and the custody of the baby.

His attorneys announce they are drawing up papers for the suit.

At Palm Beach, where the former Millicent Rogers went with her son and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rogers, just before her titled husband's arrival from Europe a week ago, the countess was playing cards and puffing a monogrammed cigarette when informed of the suit.

She shrugged her shoulders, flipped ashes from her cigarette, and said:

"I have nothing to say."

Count Salm was in his shirt sleeves in his lawyer's office reading a pile of letters when his statement was made public.

The statement said that on his arrival in New York the count sent his wife a telegram asking that he be permitted to see the baby in New York. The telegram said he regarded her conduct as heartless. Her lawyers answered, he sets forth, that it was necessary to keep the infant in the south during the winter.

LOSES $10,000 NECKLACE AT TEA

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Tobin Clark, New York society woman, lost a $10,000 necklace during a tea party at the home of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt in Fifth avenue, on the afternoon of November 21, it was learned today.

Police were notified of the loss after guests and servants had searched the house without finding the necklace. Detectives also were unable to find any trace of it. Mrs. Clark refused to discuss the loss of the jewel she referred news paper reporters to her attorney, Frank L. Polk.

SAY MITCHELL CRIBBED BOOK

Washington Dec. 10.—An effort by the prosecution to question the authorship of part of Colonel William M. Mitchell's book "Winged Defense," failed today before the army court martial trying the air officer.

Major Allen Gullion, the assistant judge advocate, sought to bring the subject before the court through the testimony of Captain Thomas C. Hart, a navy officer, and to prove that Colonel Mitchell had deliberately "cribbed" some of the passages but the court held that it would not be advisable to open such a phase of the controversy.

The rule "false in one, false in all," was argued by Major Gullion who asserted that the testimony should be received to impeach the accused as a witness.

To this Representative Frank J. Reid, defense counsel, replied: "I say fool in one thing, a fool in everything," adding that he could excuse Major Gullion on account of "the condition of his mind."
