

TWO CHANGES IN GRIDIRON RULES RECOMMENDED

New York, Dec. 28.—(A. P.)—College football has two faults in the opinion of the eastern association of intercollegiate football officials, which has made four recommendations for changes to the rules committee.

Three of the proposals have to do with unnecessary roughness. It is recommended that tackles above the shoulders be placed in that category in the future. If this measure is accepted a high tackle will result in a penalty of 15 yards.

Years ago, high tackling contributed so many injuries to the game that many officials and coaches contended that the rules should prevent tackling above the waist. There was much argument and finally the majority of leaders in the gridiron sport came to a verdict that a lineman, hit by a charge or trying in himself, could not be expected to fall flat on his face in time to grasp a runner about the knees. The lineman said to tackle when, where and how he could. It was his duty to stop the play.

The second proposal would permit the field judge to use a whistle and declare the ball dead on kicks across the line of scrimmage to prevent roughing the catcher of kicks. The third is designed to eliminate piling, a trick, which, in the old days produced broken noses and some times much more serious injuries. For it was in the pile-up, many times unnecessary, that slugging occurred.

It is proposed that the ball be declared dead the moment that the man carrying it touches the ground with any part of his body other than hands and feet, which would eliminate crawling and make piling, to stop the carrier's progress, unnecessary and inexcusable.

Shift plays and the huddle system were attacked in the fourth recommendation, which recommends that no moving of the feet or swaying of the body be permitted as the ball is put in play. The huddle, developed greatly this year in the west by several teams and in the east, especially by Princeton, calls for the gathering of all players behind the scrimmage line in a closely interlocked circle to receive signals. From the circle the players jump to their positions and the ball is passed.
