Sousa and His Band Arrive Tomorrow For Two Armory Concerts

Lieutenant Commander John Phillip Sousa and band, consisting of something over 80 pieces, will arrive in Salem at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, preparatory to giving concerts at the Salem armory tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The personnel of the company includes such soloists as Miss Marjorie Moody, soprano; William Tong, cornet; George Carey, xylophone, and Howard Golden, xylophone. The matinee program will include the following numbers:

- 1—Overture, "Tannhauser," (Wagner), played by the entire band.
- 2—Cornet solo, "Centennial," (Bellstedt), played by William Tong.
- 3—Suite, ensemble, "El Capitan and His Friends," (written by Sousa, and consisting of three pieces—"El Capitan," "The Charlatan" and "The Bride Elect").
- 4—Soprano solo, "Shadow Dance," from "Dinorah," (Meyerbeer), played by Miss Moody. (Flute obligato by R. E. Williams.)
- 5—Largo, "The New World," (Dvorak), played by the band.
- 6—Village scene "Sunday Evening in Alsace," (Massenet), played by the band.
- 7—(a) Saxophone octette, "On the Mississippi," (Klein), played by his plans, further than let it be known he is after the common stock at 25 per cent over par.

Leadbetter is known as a natural born expander, say his associates, and this move may mean a big expansion of the paper industry here, or it may mean a plan for a big financial move on the part of the Leadbetter interests. Seemingly only time will develop just what his plans are.

The Oregon Pulp & Paper company last year paid 6 per cent dividends on its common stock, but the year before paid 12 per cent. The drop is said to be due to the fact that the mill retired over $150,000 in indebtedness last year, which cut materially into the common stock dividends.

KIMBALL TO BE REMOVED TO SEATTLE

By the school remains a question to be settled. Kimball authorities are known to entertain a desire to sell the building to the university. Dr. Doney, on the other hand, states that the university has no use for the building, that it is not suitable for any of the university's purposes, and that it is a liability on the property of the university anyway, having been built on property owned by Willamette.

About half of the building is used for school purposes, the other half consisting of two living apartments for members of the Kimball faculty.

The enrollment of the school now stands at 17 regular students. At yesterday's trustee's meeting in Portland President Hickman was authorized to start east on January 27 and take up the matter of the move with the general education board of the Methodist church. It is expected that the board will furnish $6000 of the estimated budget of $25,000 which will be necessary when the move is made. The Puget Sound conference is expected to furnish $2000 and the Oregon conference $5000, the remainder being secured by local subscriptions and other sources.

President Henry Suzalo of the University of Washington wired a message to Dr. Hickman prior to yesterday's meeting assuring him of hearty cooperation on the part of the university in case Kimball should be moved to Seattle. At Seattle it is planned to use the plant of University Methodist church, which is to be built near the Washington campus. It is also planned to make Kimball an entirely post graduate school. It had been hoped eventually to enroll mainly college graduates at Kimball while located here, but it was found impossible to bring the standards of the school up to that place.

also a heavy stockholder in the new Western Paper & Converting company of Salem.

One guess is that he plans to consolidate all four mills, including the paper converting company here, and put the product of his mills through the paper converting company.

In event some such plan worked out it would mean an almost immediate and big expansion of the paper converting company here. Other guesses are made as to various financial plans that may be worked out, but the one man who knows what is to be done, Leadbetter himself, is saying nothing as to what his plans are. He has been here the past few days in connection with the big deal, but has been mum as to

McCORMICK AND LEWIS BATTLE 10 ROUND DRAW

Frankie Lewis battled his way to a well earned draw with George McCormick of Portland in the main event of the boxing card at the armory last night, principally by sheer aggressiveness and determination. His rushing, slashing tactics in the fifth and sixth stanzas, coupled with his ability to absorb the punishment administered by McCormick in the last two rounds, saved the local lad from a less favorable decision.

For the first time Lewis had the crowd largely with him last night as the result of an altercation that marred the opening of the bout. When the fighters entered the ring Lewis weighed in before the crowd, but McCormick's manager refused to allow him to go so, contending that McCormick had weighed in in accordance with his contract at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Technically it was a small matter in which McCormick had nothing to lose, and a lot of good will to gain, and the "short sport" tactics of the manager was the only jarring spot on an otherwise satisfactory card.

Continuation of the practice started last night to weigh all fighters in ringside should be followed by the commission, in the opinion of most of the fans.

Scott Helling of Portland, took the decision over Joe Jewett in the semi-windup, and Ted Long of Portland, outpointed "Sticky" Foley in one of the four round preliminaries.

Referee Loutt gave a technical knockout to Ted Fox of Independence in the second round, when Young Lealie of Portland lost his bearings under a rain of blows and needed but one well directed punch to put him down for the count.

plans in Salem are arranged and outlined in a logical order, stating that the defects should be corrected. "At present," he stated, "there is often much confusion and complication in reaching desired addresses."

Touching on the question of municipal parks, the speaker declared that the city should secure park sites as soon as possible and before property values go up by reason of the city's growth.

Regarding the sewer system, Williams advocated establishment of septic tanks rather than a continuation of the present system of merely allowing the sewage to flow, untreated, into the Willamette river.

He also advocated establishment of more street lights of weaker candlepower. "The lighting system we now have is practically obsolete," he stated.

"All these things are problems for us to consider and we cannot expect to get ahead without coordination and co-operation on the part of everybody."

Sheik Bandit Faces Deserted Sweetheart Before Young Bride

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Martin Durkin, "sheik bandit," who faces two murder indictments, and Betty Werner, his former sweetheart, for the comfort of whose baby boy Durkin walked into a police trap which cost two lives, faced each other in the state attorney's office.

Excuses and explanations sprang from each, while Durkin's 18 year old bride looked on out of carport.

Yesterday Durkin said Miss Werner had helped "frame" him. Previously Betty was quoted as having said she was "through" with him. Prior to that they had sworn undying love.

"You couldn't find me so you took the next best you could find," were Betty's first words.

Durkin countered that he had read a newspaper quotation that she was "through."

"I read lots about you Marty, but I didn't believe any thing," Miss Werner replied.

"No matter where you were, I would have come to you," replied Durkin. "I put advertisements in the newspaper telling you to come to Michigan and meet me or communicate with my mother, but you did neither."

The next remarks, lost to those near them caused the prisoner to smile.

"Don't stand there and laugh," Betty fairly shouted. "Go back to your wife and don't make a chump of her as you have me."

Durkin returned to his wife and three kisses brought a smile to her face.

Senator Reed said it was time for the American people to awake to "the horrible fact" that there is an offensive and defensive coalition of 55 nations, forming the league of nations, to make war upon the United States, should this country attempt to resort to arms to enforce its rights without the consent of the league.

"If the people understood this there is not a county in the United States," he declared, "in which soldiers would not be drilling within 48 hours."

Senator Reed continued his speech throughout most of today's session. At one point, he charged, that a "trade had been made with the man in the White House" and branded as "disloyal" the efforts of the court supporters "to take the United States across the seas into the affairs of Europe."

Turning to leaders in the fight for the court he shouted: "If that does not please you, gentlemen, make the most of it."

BOOTLEGGING IN ANTHRACITE

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Anthracite bootlegging, a new industry which sprang up as a result of the hard coal strike, is growing rapidly.

Starting in a small way the practice has spread, until hundreds are engaged in it.

Some of the bootleggers' supplies are picked from the culm banks. This is permitted by nearly all the coal companies, the only restrictions being against the use of trucks and the sale of the recovered coal. These restrictions, however, are ignored by the bootleggers, who deliver most of their coal at night and collect from $10 to $20 for a short ton of inferior grade.

The greater part of the supply is taken from outcrops and old workings in isolated places. Fleets of trucks are busy nightly in the vicinity of Wilkesbarre and Hazel ton.

Scores of arrests have been made and officers of the United Mine Workers have endeavored to stop the practice without success.

YOUR FAMILY AND FUEL

For the kiddies you buy whole milk because you know that it contains 680 calories to the quart while skim milk contains but 320.

Whole milk costs a little more in first cost but there is no question which is the cheapest in results. No, there is no question about that because it is the calories, not just the quart, that furnishes the necessary fuel to keep the kiddies warm and glowing even in the coldest weather.

Now how about the family, how about the fuel for the family? Ordinary coal, you know, may contain as low as 8,222,000 calories to the ton while good coal contains as high as 17,200,000 to the ton.

Good coal costs a little more in first cost but there is no question which is the cheapest in results. No, there is no question about that because it is the calories, not just the ton, that furnishes the necessary heat to keep the home and family warm and cozy even in the coldest weather.

these attorneys request you to do," Kowitz was asked.

"Yes," he replied.

In the absence of any statutory or charter inhibition to forbid a member of the city council from being elected or appointed to another city office, Kowitz said that he and his friends were basing their contention upon a principle of common law that had been sustained in the supreme court. With Williams unconcerned as to whether Kowitz turns over such records as he may hold or not, the city officials recognizing Williams as the qualified attorney, as indicated by Mayor Glesy's statement and the action of the council Monday evening instructing Williams to institute proceedings against the Canadian junk yard on North Capital street, the situation is considerable of a farce.

If Kowitz and his backers expect any action they will have to make the first move themselves, their recourse lying in an action to compel the payment to Kowitz of the city attorney's salary.

Meanwhile the Williams forces, to avoid any question as to the city's liability for salary claims Kowitz may make, will ask the council at its next meeting to ratify Williams' election.
