EGGS DROP IN SPITE OF COLD BUTTER FIRM

Portland, Jan. 21.—(AP)—With receipts heavy in spite of the cold weather and outside markets easier, local egg values lost part of the previous day's gain. Today extras and firsts are a cent lower at 32c@33c respectively. Other grades held unchanged.

Receipts during the past 24 hours totaled 1,868 cases, a very heavy run under mid-winter conditions.

Butter production also continues heavy for winter conditions.

Country meat arrivals were more liberal along the street this morning and the trade let eager for supplies. Retail butchers are still in the market for fancy calves, but they balk at the 18c market. Seventeen cents is about their limit on choice light hogs. Receipts today were badly frozen.

The poultry markets remain generally steady with the demand moderate.
