YOUNGEST ANNEXES BASKET AT SOCIAL

Brooks, Or., Feb. 21.—A combined basket social and entertainment at the Brooks school house Friday night was reported a financial success. The proceeds are to go for playground equipment.

A dental lecture by Dr. Frank of the Marion county health demonstration, illustrated with motion pictures, was first on the bill.

Anteloneer Woodley and family of entertainers gave a number of selections and skits. His troupe was not quite complete owing to his eldest son being sick and unable to appear but a very creditable entertainment was given regardless.

The baskets brought good fills but there was a noticeable shortage especially among the juniors. The youngest purchaser was Master Robert Archie Bailey, age 4, who proudly and loudly bit "two-bits" for his little friend's basket and received it with applause. Cakes were also auctioned with good results.

After the close of the bidding tables were provided in the basement for the supper. Cake and coffee was served to those unfortunate in getting no baskets. About $25 was taken in.

TURNER'S GLEE CLUBS PRESENT MARION RECITAL

Turner, Or., Feb. 21.—The boys and girls glee clubs of the high school have begun making preparations for the contest between high school glee clubs to be held in Forest Grove sometime in the latter part of April. Twelve numbers are being practiced of which are to be the entry numbers and the other six warming up numbers. These latter are not judged in the contest but are merely preparatory numbers to the ones following, each entry thus is composed of two numbers the last one being judged.

Among the entries will be a boys' quartet, girls' quartet, glee club, large mixed choruses, small mixed choruses with probable entries in high and low voices.

Last year at the same place the Turner entrants placed second in group C with only half of the numbers they will have entered for this year. At the time much favorable comment was made by critics on members of the glee clubs through the newspapers and otherwise. The recognition given along with that of such schools as Jefferson and Lincoln high schools of Portland was very gratifying to members and instructors as well as to the community at large.

The certificates of award for the places won at the interstate contest of last year were received yesterday. They represent two first places and one third which placed them second in group C. One first award went to the girls' quartet one to the small mixed chorus and third award to the girls' glee club.

Mrs. E. E. Bator is instructor. The boys glee club is scheduled to sing at Marion, February 25.

Old Paper Has Death Account Of Washington

MARION, Or., Feb. 21.—D. B. Hill, cashier of the Mill City State bank, has three old newspapers which he values very highly. One of these was printed at Kingston, New York, (Ulster county), January 4, 1860, and has in it an account of the death and burial of George Washington. Another one, the Rebel, printed at Chattanooga, Tenn., August 9, 1862, containing much news of the Civil war, then in progress, also advertisements of slaves for sale. One peculiar feature is that under the terms of subscription it reads that "No subscription received for a longer period than one month," the rate being $1 per month.

The third paper was printed at Vicksburg, Miss., July 2, 1863, and is printed on the back of a piece of wall paper. The type for this issue was set up while the Union forces were battering away at the city, but did not go to press until after the city was captured. In one corner of the paper is a note as follows:

"July 4, 1863, two days brings about great changes. The banner of the Union floats over Vicksburg. General Grant has 'caught the rabbit'; he has dined in Vicksburg and he did bring his dinner with him. The Citizen (name of the paper) lives to see it. For the last time it appears on 'wall paper.' No more copies will be printed. In one corner of the paper is a note as follows:

Wings on your Car!

The majority is always right, after they make enough mistakes

By HUGH WILEY
«The Wildcat»

The leapfrog leaps from bank to bank To justify his name; Your car, with Ethyl in the tank Can almost do the same.

Thirty days hath September, This month, twenty-eight, To neutralize the shortage Do not sleep so late; Or save time in another way, Expand the month to par—Just tell the gas man "Ethyl," Meaning speed "Wings on your Car."

The majority is always right, after they make enough mistakes.

Hitch your wagon to a star, Over the Alps lies Italy; Ethyl means "Wings on your Car"—Means you're setting "prittily."

There's an unseen detour at every hairpin turn, It's a one-way road without a bend; The sign reads "Go" for the guys with speed to burn, It's equipped with floral tributes at the end.

Mosquitoes never bother you much during an earthquake.

Sooner or later, originality back of a steering wheel gets festooned with flowers.

Every now and then one fact can offset a lot of news.

The early bird is sometimes relished by the cat.
