

LOCALS

J. Kemp, riverman, is making preparations to take the old Beuna Vista ferry down the river to Newberg tomorrow to be put into service there as soon as the bridge is closed to traffic for reconstruction. The county court has purchased a new cable here for use on the ferry and this will be taken down with the boat. Kemp had charge of taking the new Beuna Vista ferry up the river from here and is expected to be in readiness for tomorrow's voyage.

See the Star six Cabriolet. The only real cabriolet in its price class. Now on display at the Salem Automobile Co.

Salem Cherrians will hold regular drill tonight at the city hall. Tomorrow night they will hold their monthly banquet at the chamber of commerce at 6 p. m., a half hour earlier to allow them to take part in the observance of Flag day by the Elks, Salem lodge No. 336.

Nearly new piano now in storage, owner leaving, will sell for ten dollars per month, to responsible party, or will discount for cash. To see piano write Box 138 Journal. 140

Tomorrow, June 14, national Flag day, will be observed by Salem-Elks with appropriate ceremonies at the temple preceded by a parade which will include the American Legion drum corps, the Cherrians and other organizations. The parade will start at 7:30 p. m. with the exercises an hour later.

B. & B. Optical Co., 370 1/2 State.

A Rennie of Corvallis is a business visitor here today.

Beach cottage for sale at Nesko win. New and partly furnished, has five rooms, fireplace, modern plumbing, shower, garage in basement close to store and beach. Roy H. Miller, 1384 Court street, telephone 1991M.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Weld, Mrs. H. R. Kauffman and Mrs. J. Norgand of Toledo were registered at a local hotel over the week end.

Dahlia closing out sale, state fair collection 24 bulbs $1. Gladiolus mixed, 24 bulbs $1. Petland, 273 State.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Merriman and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Root and son of Medford were Salem visitors Sunday.

See the Star six Cabriolet. The only real cabriolet in its price class. Now on display at the Salem Automobile Co.

Among those registered at local hotels for the week end were C. W. Harris, Fossil; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Martin, Marshfield; Mr. H. Klockers, North Bend; and Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Gates, The Dalles.

Love, the Jeweler, Salem.

W. F. McAdams, popular special mail delivery man for Uncle Sam here today for Detroit to spend his two weeks vacation at Skiff camp. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Daugherty and son James accompanied him.

Fullerton's selling out sale, selling suits for $7, $8 suits at $10, suits left to day at $22. If you value money investigate this selling of high grade suits.

Virginia B. Donaldson in a motion filed in circuit court in connection with her divorce suit against James H. Donaldson, has filed a motion in circuit court to require the plaintiff to deliver to her their minor daughter. She states in her motion she left the daughter with Mrs. J. A. Carpenter, 1445 Highland avenue, while she was away at work and that the attorney for her husband called on Mrs. Carpenter and persuaded her to give up the child.

C-h-e-r-r-i-a-n-s-You will be safer to deal with Willamette valley's only permanent shippers. We will pay the top. Young & Wells, warehouse east end of Polk county bridge, phone 2475.

Two of the most enjoyable featured of the 82nd commencement of Willamette university seniors were the vocal solos, "The Two Grenadiers," Schumann, sang by Lloyd Thompson and "Farewell Willamette," sang by Joe Nee, bass soloist with the Willamette glee club.

See the Star six Cabriolet. The only real cabriolet in its price class. Now on display at the Salem Automobile Co.

Cruel and inhuman treatment is charged in a divorce complaint filed by William McKinley Andres against Katherine E. Andres.

O. E. Brooks, cherry grower, is urging other growers to be on the lookout for the cherry maggot fly and to take precautions by spraying the fruit at this time. Because of the fruit ripening so late the growers are anticipating a hard fight to prevent the fruit from being wormy.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the county clerk by the Standard Furniture company. Incorporators are L. C. Liedstrom of Salem, Lewis E. Cable of Portland and N. H. Woodman of Tacoma. The capital is placed at $10,000 and principal place of business is Salem.

Elks attention. Flag day exercises will be held at the Elks temple Tuesday evening at 8:15 p. m., to which the public is invited. All Elks are urged to take part in the parade, which will be headed by the famous Australian band, now touring this country, also the Salem Elks band and the Legion drum corps. Members will form in line at 7:15 p. m. and move promptly at 7:30 p. m. as musicians must be at Capitol theatre at 8. 141

Mrs. Nettie Spaulding and LeRoy Gard, of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Brown and family, of Hubbard, were among the 110 relatives and old time friends who attended the third annual reunion of the pioneer Gard family at Canemah park near Oregon City recently. Z. S. Gard, of Baker, honorary life president of the reunion, was the guest of honor. The reunion was held at the Canemah park, which was the site of the family of Timothy and Mahala Gard, which crossed the plains by ox team because of ill health. The Gards and their children, LaVina, Eliza, Minerva, John, Milo and Zack came from Illinois in 1854 and settled in the Beavercreek district on the Gard donation land claim in Clackamas county.

Bargain dance Mellow Moon tonight. 140

Taylor's beach now open, swimming and water sports, 21st and State. 140

J. J. McMahon, lieutenant in the state traffic department, was in the city today on his way to Oregon City, where he has been transferred from Southern Oregon.

You must see Captain Salvation, last times Capitol tonight. 140

C. A. Swope, local attorney and Secretary of the Lions club, will give the annual flag day address for the Tillamook Elks lodge Tuesday night.

A. Louis Belotti, of San Francisco, a silver fox breeder, is looking over fox farms in the district.

Tonight at the Mellow Moon, big bargain dance, Ken Boyle and his peppy dance band. Ladies 25c, gent 35c. 140

Mrs. Dora Bowers arrived this morning from Albany, to spend several days in town.

Watch for the Blackstone arrow. 140

F. J. Carlton of Tillamook was registered at a Salem hotel during the week end.

Bargain dance Mellow Moon tonight. 140

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Geddes of Roseburg are local visitors.

What you gonna do tonight Joe, what's a mean, am I do tonight, this is Monday ain't it well, I am gonna step over to the Mellow Moon. They got music there boy, Ken Boyle and his band, and only cost me 35c and two bits for Lil.

Fred Young of Coquille and G. W. Kenneth of Eugene are spending a short time in Salem.

Dad Watson Crystal Garden tonight. 140

L. J. Simeral, member of the city council, member of the school board and candidate for reelection to the board next Monday, was down town this morning—the first time since his severe illness of last week. Simeral's recovery has been rapid.

Wanted, one waitress, do not apply if not experienced. Black Cat restaurant. 141

A big flag, 10 by 15 feet, will be officially presented to Parrish junior high school by the state organization of the Women's Relief Corps on June 22. The corps will be holding a state convention in Salem at that time.

Wanted, old newspapers and magazines, we pay top prices. Capital Bargain House, 215 Center St. Call 393. 140

Staff nurses of the Marion county state hospital are attending the northwest division of the American Nurses' association which is in convention in Portland today and tomorrow. Half of the staff are attending today's meeting and the others will take part tomorrow. Tonight the entire group will see "Rosario," the Rose Festival pageant. Dr. W. B. Morse of Salem gave the address of welcome this morning. The entire program at the luncheon tomorrow will be directed by the Marion county nurses. Dr. Walter H. Brown, director of the demonstration, will be the principal speaker. Miss Elnora E. Thomson, director of the county nursing service, will lead the discussion tomorrow afternoon.

Administrator's sale. Entire estate of Adaline C. Carter, dwelling house and four large lots on newly paved street, all must be sold forth with to close estate. See John Q. Carter, or Carey F. Martin, 413 Masonic building. 140

Walter H. Fleming, sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary for forgery from Marion county in February, 1926, and who was paroled February 10, 1927, was brought back to the prison Sunday night by Warren Edwards from Wallace, Idaho, where Fleming was picked up for passing worthless checks.

Bargain dance Mellow Moon tonight. 140

Dr. George D. Bishop of the U. S. bureau of animal industry will leave Seattle for Alaska June 29 where he will be inspector in charge of tuberculosis radiation for Alaska under orders from the federal government. This will be Dr. Bishop's second summer in the Alaskan territory as he spent the summer of 1926 in the north land. Mrs. Bishop will join him a little later on and accompany him throughout the remainder of his trip.

Phonograph loud speakers. I now have for sale the new loud speakers for the Edison, Victor and Columbia phonographs. Come and hear them. Geo. C. Will, music and sewing machines. 140

Rev. D. H. Leech, district superintendent of the Methodist church, was in Corvallis Sunday night to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the high school. Rev. Leech was formerly pastor of the Methodist church of that city, as well as at Albany and Eugene.

BOYS AND GIRLS BOTH TAKE ART SCHOOL COURSE

Nearly as many boys as girls are enrolled in the art department of Parrish junior high school proving that the art department there is not considered a "sissy" course. According to figures submitted by Miss Vivian Hargrave, in her annual report to the city superintendent, 65 girls and 51 boys were enrolled during the first term and 59 girls and 44 boys during the second term.

As part of the attempt to teach the pupil to "see" the things he lives with each day, an architectural contest was held during the last year with a study made of the architectural contest was held during the last year with a study made of the architecture of buildings in Salem. The contest was sponsored by Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, of Willamette university. The first prize in the contest was won by the second year class of Parrish and the second went to a McKinley student.

The puppet show produced by Parrish students this year was written up in detail and sent to the "Design" magazine where it will appear in an early issue.

Soap sculpture, carving in white soap, making of lamp shades, batik, block printing, and etching ship models were other features of the art course. The ninth grade class in stage craft designed and made all stage sets used in the operetta "Cinderella," given by the music department.

300 IN MANUAL TRAINING WORK

The 300 boys enrolled in the manual training department at Parrish junior high school during the last year built a cabinet in the Parrish gymnasium for state scenery. They built seven bookcases for classrooms; they built a rack for the school periscope; they made map racks for grade schools, repaired chair rails in the gymnasium; they made a cabinet for the high school and 22 pairs of book ends for the art department.

Other jobs completed by the boys in the department included the building of a table for the school, an oak oak base for a statue at the high school, towel cupboards for shower rooms, waste paper boxes for school lawns, jumping standards for high school athletic department, screen doors for the domestic science department at Parrish school, 29 viking boats for the department, and 30 tree supports.

The report of activities of the department has been filed with the city superintendent, George W. Hug, by the teacher, E. S. Barker.

United States Senator Charles L. McNary, of Salem, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, is scheduled to address the chamber of commerce at Oregon City Tuesday noon.

Sewing machines and genuine sewing machine supplies at Geo. C. Will's music store. 140

Roland K. Page, of Salem, Saturday learned that the speed limit through Oregon City is 20 miles an hour in stead of the 45 miles an hour he was charged with by the arresting officer. Page was permitted to continue on his way after depositing $10 bail.

Wanted Rudder instantaneous automatic water heater in good working condition and cheap. Call 2016M. 142

Mrs. Fred Aldrich arrived Saturday night from Cleveland, Ohio, and will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson during the summer.

Watch for the Blackstone arrow. 140

Lindbergh welcome home, Crystal Garden tonight, Dad Watson. 140

In a game between the "balldist" and the "long hairs" between employees of the Hammond Lumber company office, store and mill at Mill City, with the participants not having a bat or glove in hand for ten years, a collection was taken to the amount of $23.50, which was turned over to Dr. Henry E. Morris, chairman of the Red Cross activities in the district, for relief work in the Mississippi river district. In the letter accompanying the check and telling of the game, A. A. Holt-house failed to give the score or who won the game.

Lindbergh welcome home, real old time dance. No Jazz. Crystal Garden tonight. Rousing reception. 140

Dad Watson Crystal Garden tonight. 140

A requisition on the governor of Ohio was issued by Governor Patterson Saturday for the extradition for Ray and Roy DeAutremont, who are wanted in Jackson county as suspects of the Southern Pacific train robbery and murder four years ago. The sheriff of Jackson county left Saturday night for Ohio, the papers preceding him by air mail. It is said the brothers should be returned to Oregon within 12 days.

Elliott trio singers, Dad Watson 8 piece real old time orchestra. Lindbergh welcome home, Crystal Garden tonight. Sign the autograph service album to be presented to Colonel Lindbergh. 140

Miss Astrid Hofseth, R. N., superintendent of the Salem hospital and Miss Grace Taylor, R. N., health demonstration nurse, returned from San Francisco Sunday night after attending the 33rd annual convention of the National League of Nursing association. There were 250 educators present, many connected with universities and schools for nursing.

Indications point to a large attendance at the Lindbergh welcome home real old time dance, Crystal Garden tonight, Dad Watson. 140

Bargain dance Mellow Moon tonight. 140

COMPANION ON HUNTING TRIP

(Continued from page one)

to tell you of the incidents leading up to and immediately following the drowning of Mr. Clifford Brown in Wolf river, June 3.

We anchored at the head of Gardner canal Thursday evening, June 2 at 8:22 p. m. Mr. Clifford Brown, Dr. Stewart and I went over to Wolf river flats immediately hunting. We

Eliminating the old system of inviting practicing lawyers of Salem to assist as law instructors, the trustees of Willamette university voted Saturday afternoon that hereafter full time professors of law would be employed to receive appointment from the trustees.

Although results from the present system of instruction have been highly satisfactory, Willamette graduates passing the bar examinations with a higher ratio of success than those of any other school, the desire for complete standardization made a change a plausible one.

Five alumni of the law school were appointed as a committee to investigate further means of obtaining increased efficiency.

Reports read before the trustees showed that the university is in the best condition ever experienced, although collections on many of the endowment pledges have been retarded by general business conditions. Approximately $150,000 was received in the business office during the year.

Success in practically every line of competitive student activity was reported, all of which were commended by the executive body.

The library appropriation was increased and a full time assistant was appointed. Margaret Johnson, part time assistant for two years received the position. Recommendations for regular office hours to be set by Dr. C. A. Downs, head of the student health service, were offered. Further improvements to lawns and buildings were left to the discretion of the administration.

The period of office for 24 trustees was extended by re-election. Those retaining office were E. T. Barnes, M. C. Findley, R. J. Hendricks, T. B. Kay, A. A. Lee, Lloyd Reynolds, B. L. Steeves and Paul B. Wallace of Salem; E. S. Collins, T. M. Collins, W. C. Culbertson, E. C. Gill, A. L. Howarth, Phil Mettschman, Miss Bertina Moore, B. Earle Parker, Bishop W. O. Shepard, E. L. Wells, C. H. White and Neil Zimmerman of Portland; J. H. Booth, of Roseburg; Roy Booth, of Eugene; L. L. Moon of Pendleton, and A. A. Schramm of Corvallis. B. A. Steeves of Salem is president of the board of trustees.

I passed a cold night and slept fitfully.

At day break I arose and started back down the river figuring that by the time I should get back to within reasonable distance, there would likely be a relief party up from the ship. At about 11 a. m. the boat was down to where the accident had happened. I heard the horn of a relief party across from me on the west side of the river. I answered with my whistle and soon we were opposite each other on the banks of the river. They hailed to me asking where Brown was. I waved my hand intending to indicate that he was no more. They evidently understood me. When I did not know where he was. Then one of them yelled: "When did you see Brown last?" I answered back: "At 1 o'clock yesterday. The river got him. We were dumped. I made shore but he couldn't." I then told them to send a boat to the mouth of the river and pick me up. I arrived at the river mouth on the west side about 1 o'clock and George got there with a boat for me about 1:30.

SEARCH FOR BODY

Sunday, the 5th, two parties of us went out (one on each side of the river) and starting from where the accident happened, worked down the river in search of Clifford Brown's body. We lashed shark hooks and poles and explored all his body and sides. I saw a night lodge between the scene of the tragedy and tide water. Also explored behind all accessible windfalls and snags as well as searching the tide flats at low water.

SECOND SEARCH FUTILE

Tuesday, the seventh, two parties searched again but with no results. Then being the opinion of Dr. Stewart and myself, as well as others of the party, that the icy waters of the river and inlet would likely keep Clifford Brown's body down for a fortnight and maybe longer, the search was abandoned.

We left the head of Gardner canal at 6:55 p. m. the 7th. At 9 o'clock we stopped at Kinano village and hired Chief Johnny Paul and his people $1000 reward for the recovery of Brown's body. We arrived at Butedale at 5 o'clock the morning of the 8th. Customs Inspector Joe McFee advised me to wire the provincial police and American consul at Prince Rupert. This I have done and am awaiting a release from them before proceeding. I am filling a carbon copy of this letter with Mr. McFee and swearing to it as an affidavit of the details of the accident.

Respectfully, ROE DYKEMAN, Master Yacht "Westward."

11 INDIANS READY FOR REDWOOD RUN

San Francisco, June 13.—Eleven Indians of the Karok and Zuni tribes from Oregon and New Mexico were ready for the starting gun here tomorrow morning, sending them on the 470 mile Redwood highway run, ending at Grants Pass, Ore. Al Jennings, ex-train bandit and mayor of Crescent City, Cal., is expected to fire the starting gun. They run for cash prizes aggregating $2775.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends for the beautiful floral offerings and kindness shown during our recent bereavement.—Mrs. Mary A. Whelan and family. 140

INSTRUCTORS IN LAW PLACED ON FULL TIME ROLL

Eliminating the old system of inviting practicing lawyers of Salem to assist as law instructors, the trustees of Willamette university voted Saturday afternoon that hereafter full time professors of law would be employed to receive appointment from the trustees.

Although results from the present system of instruction have been highly satisfactory, Willamette graduates passing the bar examinations with a higher ratio of success than those of any other school, the desire for complete standardization made a change a plausible one.

Five alumni of the law school were appointed as a committee to investigate further means of obtaining increased efficiency.

Reports read before the trustees showed that the university is in the best condition ever experienced, although collections on many of the endowment pledges have been retarded by general business conditions. Approximately $150,000 was received in the business office during the year.

Success in practically every line of competitive student activity was reported, all of which were commended by the executive body.

The library appropriation was increased and a full time assistant was appointed. Margaret Johnson, part time assistant for two years received the position. Recommendations for regular office hours to be set by Dr. C. A. Downs, head of the student health service, were offered. Further improvements to lawns and buildings were left to the discretion of the administration.

The period of office for 24 trustees was extended by re-election. Those retaining office were E. T. Barnes, M. C. Findley, R. J. Hendricks, T. B. Kay, A. A. Lee, Lloyd Reynolds, B. L. Steeves and Paul B. Wallace of Salem; E. S. Collins, T. M. Collins, W. C. Culbertson, E. C. Gill, A. L. Howarth, Phil Mettschman, Miss Bertina Moore, B. Earle Parker, Bishop W. O. Shepard, E. L. Wells, C. H. White and Neil Zimmerman of Portland; J. H. Booth, of Roseburg; Roy Booth, of Eugene; L. L. Moon of Pendleton, and A. A. Schramm of Corvallis. B. A. Steeves of Salem is president of the board of trustees.

I passed a cold night and slept fitfully.

At day break I arose and started back down the river figuring that by the time I should get back to within reasonable distance, there would likely be a relief party up from the ship. At about 11 a. m. the boat was down to where the accident had happened. I heard the horn of a relief party across from me on the west side of the river. I answered with my whistle and soon we were opposite each other on the banks of the river. They hailed to me asking where Brown was. I waved my hand intending to indicate that he was no more. They evidently understood me. When I did not know where he was. Then one of them yelled: "When did you see Brown last?" I answered back: "At 1 o'clock yesterday. The river got him. We were dumped. I made shore but he couldn't." I then told them to send a boat to the mouth of the river and pick me up. I arrived at the river mouth on the west side about 1 o'clock and George got there with a boat for me about 1:30.

SEARCH FOR BODY

Sunday, the 5th, two parties of us went out (one on each side of the river) and starting from where the accident happened, worked down the river in search of Clifford Brown's body. We lashed shark hooks and poles and explored all his body and sides. I saw a night lodge between the scene of the tragedy and tide water. Also explored behind all accessible windfalls and snags as well as searching the tide flats at low water.

SECOND SEARCH FUTILE

Tuesday, the seventh, two parties searched again but with no results. Then being the opinion of Dr. Stewart and myself, as well as others of the party, that the icy waters of the river and inlet would likely keep Clifford Brown's body down for a fortnight and maybe longer, the search was abandoned.

We left the head of Gardner canal at 6:55 p. m. the 7th. At 9 o'clock we stopped at Kinano village and hired Chief Johnny Paul and his people $1000 reward for the recovery of Brown's body. We arrived at Butedale at 5 o'clock the morning of the 8th. Customs Inspector Joe McFee advised me to wire the provincial police and American consul at Prince Rupert. This I have done and am awaiting a release from them before proceeding. I am filling a carbon copy of this letter with Mr. McFee and swearing to it as an affidavit of the details of the accident.

Respectfully, ROE DYKEMAN, Master Yacht "Westward."

11 INDIANS READY FOR REDWOOD RUN

San Francisco, June 13.—Eleven Indians of the Karok and Zuni tribes from Oregon and New Mexico were ready for the starting gun here tomorrow morning, sending them on the 470 mile Redwood highway run, ending at Grants Pass, Ore. Al Jennings, ex-train bandit and mayor of Crescent City, Cal., is expected to fire the starting gun. They run for cash prizes aggregating $2775.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends for the beautiful floral offerings and kindness shown during our recent bereavement.—Mrs. Mary A. Whelan and family. 140

ALGEBRA HARDEST FOR SCHOOL PUPILS

Seventeen teachers taught mathematics to 1326 senior and junior high school students during the school year 1926-27, says Miss Beryl Holt, department head, to the city superintendent in her annual report. Arithmetic, two years of algebra, plane and solid geometry and trigonometry were taught.

Algebra was the most difficult apparently as most of the 8 per cent of failures were made in these classes. Thirteen per cent of all the students received a grade of "one," the highest grade given. Thirty per cent of the high school students "elected" mathematics; 10 per cent of the senior class elected a fourth semester of algebra called "college algebra."

91 GRADUATES AT WILLAMETTE LISTEN TO DANA

"Think for yourself. Modern society cannot be served by the man who is just good enough for the commonplace and fails when he confronts an emergency." These two lines rang out this morning as the keynote of Marshall Dana's commencement address to 91 seniors of Willamette university.

That today the challenge of recitation changes to the challenge of demonstration, building the graduates of 1927 out into the greatest year of accomplishment the world has ever known, accorded Mr. Dana.

The speaker commended the sledge hammer blows struck by young men and women at the shell like traditions which decay in uselessness. Flaming youth received praise for its continuance of the spirit of the west.

"You, going out into the world should cultivate friendliness, for friendliness breeds happiness and happiness is the forerunner of success. What could make one more happy than a true appreciation of the heritage which is yours here in marvelous Oregon," said Mr. Dana.

Preceding the address, Prof. T. S. Roberts played the organ prelude and professional "March of Priests" by Mendelssohn, followed by the invocation by President John W. Canine of Kimball school of Theology, and the scripture lesson by Rev. S. J. Chaney, on whom the degree, Doctor of Divinity, was conferred. The Willamette male chorus sang "Recognition of Land" by Grieg.

Immediately following, Miss Helen Bridgman played "Over the Steppes" by Schytte, a piano solo.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN

Seventy nine bachelor of arts degrees, 12 bachelor of laws, two master of arts, one Doctor of Divinity and one diploma in music were conferred by President Carl G. Doney.

Commencement honors with election to Alpha Kappa Nu were awarded Joel V. Bertram, Philomath; Daryl M. Chapin, Salem; Irene V. Clark, Portland; Ruth A. Drew, Prosser, Wash.; Mary M. Erickson, Salem; James A. McClintock, Roseburg; Eleanor Merewether, Portland; Hazel R. Newhouse, Newberg; Sadie Jo Reid, Portland, and Rose Wetherell, Baker.

Prizes in oratory were awarded to Robert Witty for second place won in the State Peace contest, second place in the Pacific Coast Forensic league and first place in the competition for the Keyes prize. Charles Redding was awarded second place in the latter award.

Charles Redding, Robert Witty, Margaret Fry, Tra Brethaupt, Hazel Newhouse, Elaine Chapin and Walter Hilt received the university prizes awarded for successful competition in debate and oratory.

STEEVES PRIZE

The Steeves prize of $10 was awarded to Margaret Rice, Salem, for general excellence in Latin. Dorothy Ruth Fisher received the Joseph Albert prize of $25 to the student nominated for highest character service and wholesome influence shown during the year. The $25 award in calculus given by William Burghardt Jr. was won by William Curtis Reid, Salem. To James McClintock of Roseburg, the student who was chosen as the man who had done the most real good for his fellow students, was awarded the Colonel Perry Willis prize of $25.

Class reunions are being held during the afternoon at various fraternities and sorority houses. The alumni banquet will be held tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Willamette gymnasium. Tickets are being sold by representatives of the association in Eaton hall on the campus.

Baccalaureate services were observed yesterday with a brilliant sermon before a capacity audience at the First Methodist church by President Carl G. Doney of the university.

At city hall, Mayor Walker presented the city with a scroll commemorating his famous flight.

In reply Lindbergh said his New York reception was greater than those of Paris, Brussels, London and Washington, "all put together."

"When I was preparing to leave for Europe," he said, "I was told that if we landed in Le Bourget we might expect a rather demagogic reception. After one-half hour at Le Bourget, I didn't believe anyone in New York would have the slightest idea of the reception given us."

"And again at Brussels and also at London. Why, in London 1500 of the pride of Scotland Yard were lost in a crowd at orion as completely as though they had been dropped in the ocean. Except around the car in which I was and around the plane, I don't recall ever seeing two of them together."

"At Washington there was another enormous reception, but at New York I believe there was a reception greater than all four put together. I wonder what those London bobbies would have thought of their position here."

LINDBERGH SPEAKS

Lindbergh then went over mate-

SONG COMPOSER HEADLINES ACT

Singing his own song compositions, among which are such well known popular songs as "Pal of Mine," "Hindooistan," and "The Curse of an Aching Heart," Henry Pink is headlining the Fanchon & Marco stage presentation of the "Spring Idea" at the Elsinore theater today. In addition he is giving a comedy monologue that has won him enthusiastic praise all along the circuit.

Aside from his reputation as a popular composer Pink is best known to the newspaper readers of Salem as the purchaser of Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm's private yacht, the Half Moon, which was later wrecked on the California coast. On his Salem visit he is evidencing particular interest in the showing of "McFadden's Flats," the current attraction at the Oregon theater starring Charlie Murray, a close personal friend of Pink.

The usual well trained Fanchon & Marco chorus adds to the effectiveness of the "Spring Idea," which will close its showing tonight.</