True Dramas of the Heart

WHEN a man or a woman has really lived—has faced some great problem of love, marriage, sacrifice, temptation, sorrow—that story is worth the telling, purely as a record of human experience.

Life paints no false pictures. Its never-ending drama is all the more thrilling because its characters, its events, its eternal conflict, are true.

It is such stories that each month make up the contents of True Story Magazine—stories that fire the interest and grip the imagination as mere fiction can never do.

In the August issue of True Story, for example, there are seventeen vividly dramatic, profoundly absorbing features that ever-present student of life should read. Your newsdealer has it. Get your copy today.

To Discuss World Federation

San Francisco, Cal.—An international organization of business women is the ambition of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, which meets in annual convention in Oakland for a week beginning July 17.

"The business women of the world, linked in an invulnerable chain of similar interests, similar experiences and similar ideals, a lasting bond for world peace," is the goal of some of the leaders of the present national group. The organization has already extended to some foreign countries, but so far there has been no formal international organization. The advisability of making this change in policy will form one of the most important problems for discussion at the national convention. Miss Harriet Taylor of New York city is chairman of the international committee and will present plans for including prominent women leaders of foreign lands.

Delegates to the national convention will come from every state in the union and will represent 60,000 women members, active in a variety of business and professional fields. The president, Lena Madison Phillips, is a practicing attorney in New York city. There are 900 clubs in the organization at present.

Four thousand women are expected to attend the Oakland meeting, which will be held in the civic auditorium.

HOW MANY WOMEN GET UP SINGING

Two Women Find Health Essential to Happiness

MRS. BELLE THOMPSON
ROUTE 2, ROSSVILLE, GEORGIA

Springtime streamed in through the open windows. The green fields of Georgia were basking in the sunshine. Somewhere a bird was trilling. It was a day to be happy.

"My mother-in-law," says Mrs. Belle Thompson, Route 2, Rossville, Ga., "told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I took six bottles of the Vegetable Compound. I could sleep and would get up in the morning singing and feeling fine. I am the mother of three children, and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me."

Another Happy Woman
Deatur, Illinois.—"I took your medicine for weakness. I would sometimes have to hold myself up with my hands. I was this way for five years, off and on. I read in the newspapers where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped a lot of women, and I thought I would take it. I am now getting better so fast that every month I can feel a difference. My work now is cooking. If you like, you may use these facts as a testimonial. I am willing to help you boost your medicine."—Mrs. Inaue Rice, 635 Greenwood Ave., Deatur, Ill.

SAILORS ACCUSED OF DESERTING NAVY

Self retirement proved costly to Sanford Smith and Arthur Gotthart sailors, who were arrested here the latter part of June by prohibition officers and charged with possession of mash. Both men were taken into custody here Tuesday by the United States navy to answer a charge of desertion.

Smith and Gotthart were seamen on the U. S. Holland, a submarine tender, in the Pacific fleet. They had been given 30 days leave of absence and had been spending their vacation with Art Kieper, Buena Vista farmer, who was also arrested in the scrape. Their furlough ended while waiting for the hearing.

If convicted of desertion they will face a term to exceed one year in a federal penitentiary. They announced that they would plead not guilty at court martial.

Blemished Skin Clears Up Quickly

Sunshine and wind are not always so kind to us. When dainty complexions and hands are exposed to their burning and roughening effect they become freckled, tanned or discolored; usually in spots.

A minute's care will whiten the skin again. Simply squeeze the juice of two lemons into a three ounce bottle of Oronite White, which you can get from your nearest store, and massage the complexion and hands with this lotion.

You will be delighted with the way it clears your skin and revives its youthful charm.—Adv.
