REMOVAL OF CUPOLA FROM SCHOOL SOUGHT

Talk of removing the condemned cupola from the roof of the Washington school, now being remodeled for occupancy this fall, was the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the city school board last night but no definite action was taken on the matter.

It is conceded however that the cupola is unsafe and it will be only a matter of time before the old landmark is removed into oblivion.

Purchase of furniture for the new Leslie junior high school was negotiated together with new carpeting for the office of the superintendent. Each school in the city is being completely renovated by the corps of janitors and special workers in preparation for what is expected to be the biggest year in Salem's school history. Walls, floors and furniture are being replaced, roofs inspected and grounds improved.

Leave of absence was granted to Isabel I. Bartlett, fifth grade teacher at Highland school for five years, and the resignation of Miss Georgia Crofoot, fifth grade teacher at Englewood, was accepted, that she might continue her university work this year. Miss Bartlett will return next year.

Winfield, Kas.—(7)—A 43 year old grandmother, Mrs. W. S. Dalton, has received a degree from Southwestern College here.

Mrs. Dalton, finishing a regular four year course in three years, rates among the five highest honor students of the 1927 graduating class. Last year she and her son, Joe, 18 years old and a sophomore at the same college, took three courses together. Her granddaughter, Virginia Lynn Kindt, is seven months old.

Because of her high scholarship, Mrs. Dalton was elected a member of the Pi Gamma Mu, national social science organization, and to the Order of the Mound, the Southwestern scholastic organization.

She was offered the Kansas University fellowship, but refused it because of other plans.

While she studied Mrs. Dalton kept house and was active as president of a commercial college which she founded in 1917.

Next year she will teach business English at Southwestern College.

Portland, Or., July 13.—(7)—The radio has been especially helpful in the educational program carried out by the Pacific coast nurserymen. It was declared at their meeting today.

A report from the educational committee presented by C. B. Lewis, told of increased public interest in shrubs, fruit and flowers, due to the work of the association.

Today's session was devoted entirely to committee reports.

Landscaping, reduction of standard rose varieties, the bulb industry were among the subjects discussed.

D. W. Coolidge of Pasadena, Cal., gave a short address on "A Former Oregon Plant." Mr. Coolidge formerly was located in Oregon.

Tomorrow, the most important problem for discussion is the reforestation of the northwest. A business meeting and election of officers will follow.

Portland, Or., July 13.—(7)—"It won't be long now," say attorneys of Multnomah county clerk's office, until divorces exceed marriage in number in Portland, unless conditions change.

A total of 932 divorce suits were filed in this county during the first six months of this year, as compared to 915 the first six months of 1926. Eleven hundred and forty-seven marriage licenses were issued during the same period, as against 1178, last year.

In January, 1924 divorce suits were filed, as compared to 135 marriages, while February registered 165 divorce suits against 127 marriage licenses.

Portland, July 13.—(7)—Whooping cough and measles made an upward jump on the records of new cases reported in the state for the week ended July 9, issued by State Health Officer Stricker.

Twenty-two new cases in Washington county, as against only four in the previous week, indicated a possible trend toward epidemic in that county. There was a slight increase in the number of cases reported in Portland also.

Jackson and Josephine counties added the greater part of the 21 new cases of whooping cough reported. Curry, Gilliam and Lake showed clean bills of health in the matter of contagious diseases. Only three cases of scarlet fever were reported, one in Morrow and two in Baker county.

Portland, Or., July 13.—(7)—The Swan Island airport of the Port of Portland will not be dedicated in September, following the national air races at Spokane, according to a decision reached, when it was found the field would not be in condition for any extensive flying this season.

The field will be the control point, however, for the Pacific coast air derby from San Francisco to Spokane, on September 19 and 20. This event will bring about 50 planes to the field for a day and the damage to the turf may be slight.

Construction of hangars and other equipment for the field, regulations and tariff and all other matters relative to aviation have been placed in the hands of a special committee.

Funeral services for the late John W. Cochran, 59, assistant collector of internal revenue who died in Portland, Sunday, were held in Portland, Tuesday morning with interment in the family plot here in the afternoon with Salem Lodge No. 4, A. F. & A. M., in charge.

Honorary pallbearers were United States Senator Charles L. McNary, Governor I. L. Patterson, Ralph E. Williams, Phil Metcalf, George E. Waters and Jay Bowerman, with Thomas H. Tongue of Hillsboro, Clyde G. Huntley, L. Louis J. Wolf, William R. Logue of Oregon, Howard Latourette and Clark Williams of Portland.

Cochran is survived by his widow, Rhea Wilson Cochran; a sister, Mrs. George T. Pratt of Orenco, and Gates Cochran, a brother, of Lyons.

Sailor refuses to admit murder

New York, July 13.—(7)—Virtually abandoning their efforts to obtain a confession, police today continued to weave a web of circumstantial evidence about Ludwig Halversten Lee, 38, sailor-janitor, held as Brooklyn's double axe murderer.

Having formally pleaded not guilty, Lee, after 26 hours' grilling, continued adamant in his continued denial of any connection with, or knowledge of the deaths of Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Brownell, 69 year old seamstress, and Mrs. Alfred Bennett, 54, mother of four children.

The case is expected to go to the grand jury tomorrow.

New Mexico honors woman stunt flyer

Santa Fe, N. M.—(7)—Katherine Stinson, first woman aviator to demonstrate night flying and skywriting, has been brought out of her retirement to receive new honors.

Gov. Richard C. Dillon of New Mexico chose her to represent the state at the meeting of the Association for the Development of Commercial Aviation, held at St. Joseph, Mo., Miss Stinson was the only woman delegate.

Long before the world war, Miss Stinson made exhibition tours which took her over the world. Many medals were bestowed on her in Europe and the Orient.

St. Louis, Mo.—"We" seem to be as popular as ever. The chamber of commerce is getting 200 letters daily by air mail in response to its offers of pictures of "Lindy," and the youthful and the Spirit.

SELF DEFENSE PLEA BY SLAYER OF DAN HANLEY

Portland, Ore., July 13.—(7)—"I killed him in self-defense," said Mrs. Hanley, wife of the slain man, and from whom she was recently divorced, had apartments in the Hartwick house. For about a year, Hanley has not been working, his former wife said. She had been furnishing him with some money from her labors as a seamstress, and paid his room rent.

Despite warnings to stay away, Hanley had visited the lodging house several times recently, abusing his wife while there, Hartwick said.

On his visit yesterday, Hanley demanded that Hartwick produce Mrs. Hanley, who was out shopping at the time. The landlord remonstrated with Hanley and was threatened. Hanley left, promising to return, and "kill the two" of them. Hartwick stated later.

Hanley later returned and entered the room crying: "I'll kill you, and then I'll kill her!" Hartwick stated.

"Not until he was so close I could feel his breath upon my face, did I fire the pistol," Mrs. Hanley said. "I shot from the hip. Hanley rolled over, dying almost instantly."

Mrs. Hanley had seen her husband through the glass in the front door and escaped by jumping from a window.

Hartwick was arrested and formally charged with murder.

Oil distributors build plant here

Gilbert-Smith Oil company, distributors of Richmond Oil company products, announced yesterday that they will invest approximately $25,000 in a storage plant and business offices to be erected on the Pacific highway, north of the city limits, directly opposite the Valley Packing company.

Construction has already been started with completion of the project expected by August 1. Gilbert Anderson, Salem contractor, is in charge.

Both F. W. Smith and E. D. Gilbert, members of the new firm, are Portland men. Smith is an OAC graduate.

TRIPARTITE NAVAL PLENARY SESSION

Still another objection is that the United States would be unable to determine in advance just how far it can go in acquiring parity with Great Britain by the actual construction of ships.

Receiving the press, this afternoon, Hugh Gibson, America's chief representative, denied that a division exists in the American delegation. He denied also that the Americans ever demanded the right to build twenty five 10,000 ton cruisers.

Asked if the convocation of a plenary session should be interpreted as a good omen, Mr. Gibson replied he preferred not to interpret until his own group actually develops tomorrow. He added his understanding was that it would merely be a general summing up of the situation.

The police are investigating to learn if they did there for more than an hour.

According to young Brill who told the story of the party to the police, the Peck girl drove the car from San Pedro, following the car behind another speeding car. At Main street and 108th, she decided to pass the car when it suddenly turned to enter a side street. She reversed the car. It skidded with the brakes on, 100 feet, struck a curbing and rolled over and over across 30 feet of lawn to crash into the front of the real estate office.

Nearby residents who heard the screams, came to the aid of the party.

Young Dietrich and Goldberg were dead. Humes died on the way to the emergency hospital in a police ambulance.

The police said a charge of suspicion of manslaughter would be brought against the girl, if she lived, and that the Myers boy, if he survived, would be charged with suspicion of manslaughter. They reported they found no evidence that any of the party had been drinking liquor.

PARIS SUMMER FETE

Paris.—(7)—Mlle. Aline Lesage was the central figure in the recent Spring Fete which ushered in Paris' summer season. She rode in a Cinderella coach of white horses from the Bois de Boulogne to the Hotel de Ville.

On that occasion she was called "Parisette Premiere" and represented the working girls of Paris. She works in a winery run by her father and is proud to be called a harvest girl.

Like the average French girl, "Parisette" makes many of her own clothes. She knows fashions better than vintage and considers it a woman's first duty to always look her best.

New York.—A deluxe stowaway is getting a fine view of England from a grol window. Daniel David Klein swam in the pool, ate in the first class dining room and slept in the stateroom of the Majestic for three days until caught. The liner arrived at Southampton from New York, he got 30 days and when his time is up he is coming back in the Majestic cabin room.

HAMILTON ELECTED DIRECTOR OF FIRST

W. M. Hamilton, local manager of the Portland Electric Power Co., at the semi-annual meeting of the board of directors of the First National bank, was elected to the directorate of that bank.

H. E. Bakin, who for eight years has been connected with the bank was promoted from the position of assistant cashier and trust officer to that of assistant vice president and trust officer to that of assistant vice president and trust officer.

Custer E. Ross was elected secretary of the board of directors. He was for many years leading attorney at Silverton and one of the best known attorneys in the county, removing his offices to Salem a number of months ago. He is counsel for some of the largest corporations in the state.

OREGON DRUGGISTS DEPLORE TENDENCIES

Bend, Or., July 13.—(7)—Oregon druggists in annual convention here deplore the tendency of drug stores to become beauty parlors, musical shops and restaurants, in which pharmaceutical training is relegated to the background.

"I shudder to think what the drug stores of the future may become if present tendencies continue," said L. D. Russell, Portland, president of the association.

Jay H. Upton, central Oregon senator, told members of the association they should acquaint themselves fully with the state's scenery, in order to be of service to tourists with whom they come in close contact.

THOUSAND PERISH IN CHINESE FLOODS

Shanghai, July 13.—(7)—Floods in south China province on July 6, caused the deaths of more than a thousand persons, it is said in belated reports received here. Tens of thousands of people are said to be homeless.

C. J. HURD OF O.A.C. PASSES

Corvallis, July 13.—(7)—C. J. Hurd, extension specialist on marketing and organization at O.A.C., and former representative from Lane county, died here last night, of heart disease, age 62, following a week of illness, brought on, according to physicians, by overwork in connection with the organization of the prune industry during the last three months.

Hurd came to Oregon in 1898, and engaged in farming at Santacita, near Eugene. In 1913, he was elected to the legislature and served one term. In 1917, he became county agent of Douglas county and promptly three years later to assistant county agent leader for the state. He entered his present position in 1923, and has been identified with cooperative marketing for the last 10 years and active in all forms of farm organization work.

Hurd was advisory member on a committee of nine to perfect details of the grower-packer prune marketing plan. He is survived by his widow and three sons and a daughter, all grown.

FIRST MARRIAGE LIEN ON EARNINGS

Chicago, July 13.—(7)—The obligation of a first marriage constitutes a first lien on a man's earnings, and the second marriage can only be considered in the nature of a second mortgage until the alimony payments of the first are completed, Superior Judge Harry A. Lewis ruled in freeing Orlando F. Blake, member of the Cook county jail anti-alimony club.

Blake's wife, Mrs. Catherine M. Blake, is suing him for separate maintenance and had him committed to jail when he failed to pay her temporary alimony. Blake told the court that he had a job, but could not work at it because his wife insisted on keeping him in jail. Even if he did work, he said, he could only make enough money to support his two children by a previous marriage.

DRIVER KILLED

Portland, Ore., July 13.—(7)—Ernest C. Coble, 33-year-old truck driver, was instantly killed today when the heavy dirt truck he was driving backed over a fill on Canyon road, toppled completely over, crushed him in the metal cab as he held the wheel.

Uniontown, Pa.—Once regarded as the world's greatest coal operator worth $70,000,000, Josiah V. Thompson is now without funds. He went into bankruptcy in 1915.

How do you know it's good

When you buy any product, you expect to get full value for your money.

But how do you know you're getting it? No wise person wants to take a chance every time he buys something new—or something he has not tested personally.

Here is a test you can rely upon for safe quality and full value: "Do you see the product you want advertised consistently and persistently?"

If you do, it is good value. No sane merchant or manufacturer would continue to spend good money advertising poor merchandise. Every advertised product has been tested for you—by hundreds of other people. They have bought and approved it—else it could not continue to be advertised.

Think of this when you are making your selection of any kind of product. Choose the one that is advertised—and your money is protected.

Read the advertisements to know what is best to buy and where to get it
