DALLAS BLAZE IS CAUSED BY FLIVVER FIRE

Dallas, July 21.—The Dallas fire department was called about 10:30 Tuesday evening to the home of Walter Erickson at 120 Birch street where they found the garage and house in flames. The roof of the garage had fallen in before the alarm had been turned in and it was impossible to check the flames, and attention was given to adjoining property which was not even scorched although within 15 feet of the Erickson dwelling.

Upon investigation, Fire Chief Kelly found that the fire had in all probability started from a short circuit in the wires of a Ford car, standing in the garage which was built up against the side of the house. The loss is estimated at $2300 partly covered by insurance. In commenting on the fire, Chief Kelly stated this demonstrates the danger of permitting property owners to build garages attached to, or near dwellings, unless built of fire-proof materials and it is hoped the city council will give the matter their attention.

"David Belasco's advice impressed me"

Walter J. Leather is telling Joyce Todd as they start for an all-day motor jaunt through the Berkshires.

David Belasco, dean of the American Theatre, writes:

"The voice is to the actor what the chisel is to the sculptor. He must beware of dulling its qualities. Naturally I am vitally concerned about the voices of my players, so I always advise the one cigarette that I discovered many years ago that does not impair control of the subtlest vocal shadings or cause huskiness or harshness. I mean the 'Lucky Strike.' It is the player's best friend."

David Belasco

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.
