WRECKED AUTO SEEN BY TURNER PEOPLE

Turner, Oct. 21.—When Mr. and Mrs. Lee Barber and children were returning from Salem on the old rock road, a big sedan with four people in it had skidded on the wet, slippery highway and turned completely over in the ditch. It was pouring down rain and the Barber family did not see the wreck until they were even with the car, so backed up to investigate, fully expecting to see some one crushed beneath the wreckage. A man raised up from inside the car where he had sought refuge from the downpour of rain, and yelled at the Barber family, informing them that the occupants had all miraculously escaped uninjured. The other three passengers had gone on into Salem with a passing car, and he was staying to watch the car, until the wrecking car arrived.
