300 Guests At O. E. S. Xmas Party

A program of some of the most beautiful of the Christmas carols interspersed with the Scripture accounts of the first Christmas was enjoyed by a group of nearly 300 Eastern Star members at the annual Christmas party of Chadwick chapter in the Masonic building last night. The program was planned as a surprise to the group. Distribution of gifts from the big Christmas tree followed the program.

Mrs. Rose Babcock and Mrs. Percy Cupper opened the formal program with the singing of "Silent Night, Holy Night." Mark's account of the birth of the Saviour was read and immediately following Mrs. Cupper sang "The Infant Jesus." Luke's account of the birth was read next and then Mrs. Babcock and Mrs. Cupper sang "The Star of the East," the Eastern Star song. Mrs. W. Carlton Smith sang "The Birthdays of the King," and the formal program was closed with the singing by the entire audience of "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Joy to the World."

Gifts from the big tree were then distributed by Rev. Martin Ferry and his assistants.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Ida Niles and included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. William McCall, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harrison, Miss Nellie Taylor, Mrs. Gertrude J. M. Pate, Mrs. Cora Boyer, Mrs. May Chambers, Miss Chadwick, Miss Ada Chapman and Paul H. Hauser.

Seventy invited guests formed an appreciative audience at Robert's recital hall Tuesday evening, when Lena Belle Tartar presented pupils in an interesting musical. The hall was attractive with decorations of the Yuletide, including an electrically illuminated tree. Following the vocal program, Prof. Roberts entertained with organ solos on the newly installed concert organ which is one of the sweetest toned instruments of its kind in the city.

Frances Martin and Virginia Berger greeted the guests. Josephine Albert, who is home from Eugene for the Christmas holidays joined enthusiastically with the soloists in the program. The piano accompaniments were sympathetically played by Lois Plummer and Lucile Cummings, violin obligations were acceptably played by Leonard Charwick for solos by Lucile Cummings and Thelma Davis.

The following program was given:

Etokta Club Xmas Party Yesterday

Mrs. A. P. Hale, 593 Marion street, will entertain the Women's Bible class of the First Methodist church at a Christmas party in her home on Friday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock. Each member is asked to bring a gift for the tree.

Mrs. Virginia Donaldson had as her house guests on Sunday and Monday Mr. and Mrs. Lou Dunbar of San Francisco. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar are members of the Fanchon and Marco company which played here during the week-end.

All College Dance Here December 29

Extensive plans are underway for the all college dance which will be given in Castilian hall on the evening of December 29, Thursday of "Christmas week," under the leadership of a group of prominent Salem women. The affair is being given in special honor to members of the younger set who will be in town for the holiday season.

The committee in charge of the affair includes Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. W. Connell Dyer, Mrs. Asabel Bush, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. Davie W. Eyre, Mrs. Chester Cox, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., and Mrs. Fred Thilssen.

Much informal discussion, some poetry and much prose, entertained the group of Salem men and women members of the writers' section of the Salem Arts league, who met last night in the fireplace room of the library.

The evening's program was opened by Charles J. Leslie who read a letter which the Spanish War Veterans sent to senate members requesting more aid to one of the nation's heroes, a man who during the early days of experimentation with serum in fighting malaria, allowed himself to be used in the experiments. Mr. Leslie then read an interesting story, "Tommy Gets a New Organ," in which he interviewed Professor T. S. Roberts at his new studio organ.

Mrs. Blanche M. Jones gave a poem, "December in Oregon," and an article on nomenclature.

Mrs. B. L. Reeves was a special guest of the group last night. During the evening Mrs. Reeves read several chapters from her new book, "Book of Remembrances of Marion County Pioneers." One chapter which was particularly enjoyed was her account of a trip down the Columbia river in a canoe in 1843.

Writers were then introduced to several new books by the city librarian, Miss Maude Covington.

Interesting accounts of his visit in Boston with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Paulus (Lucile Tucker) were given by Robert Paulus who returned from the east only a few days ago. Mr. Paulus also gave a clever description of "Service in New York City," a poem which she calls "Shattered Idols," was read by Dr. Rowland. Mrs. W. P. Fargo gave sketches which she has written for her University extension work and which has been highly commended by her teachers.

An article in the Christmas issue of the Spectator reviewing the work of the northwest writers during the past year was read by Mrs. Franklin. Dr. P. C. Franklin then reviewed Dr. Sherman's "Moral Self."

Two hundred children and their parents will be guests at the Christmas party at which Mrs. Ralph White will be hostess on Thursday evening in Castilian hall. A Christmas tree will hold gifts for all the children. A short Christmas play will precede the distribution of the gifts. Several ensemble dances by the ballet pupils will be included in the program.

Senior ballet girls will assist Mrs. White in receiving her guests.

Mrs. Halik, Mrs. Mesch Hostesses

The F. E. Halik home on Saginaw was a lovely setting yesterday for an attractive eight table bridge tea at which Mrs. Halik and Mrs. T. F. Mesch were hostesses. The living rooms of the Halik home were exceedingly beautiful with a profusion of Christmas greenery in which were hidden dozens of little red and green lights. The soft lighting through the fir boughs, mistletoe and holly completed a charming effect.

The Christmas motif was followed in the card accessories and at the tea hour the color plan of green and white. Daughters of the Nile colors was cleverly used. Practically all of the guests were Daughters of the Nile.

Mrs. Harold Irish of Silverton won the first prize for high honors at bridge. The second prize went to Mrs. Alice Hoff and the third to Mrs. C. J. Vibbert.

At the tea hour Mrs. George Dunsford, Mrs. J. Boyd and Mrs. Glenn Niles assisted.

In the guest group were Mesdames David Wright, P. A. Eiker, Clair Vibbert, William McGilchrist, Jr., R. W. Hans Seltz, O. A. Olsen, Paul H. Hauser, W. F. Buchner, E. H. Kennedy, Lucille Sweeney, V. E. Kuhn, G. L. Newton, Fred Williams, W. J. Liljequist, Charles Pratt, C. G. Miller, Floyd Patty of Silverton, Fred N. Evensen of Silverton, Harold R. Irish of Silverton, Bert Pluck, Albert Smith, John Steinhilmer, Lorraine Burnett, W. V. Crandall, Alice Hoff, P. E. Shafer, M. C. Jettys, Lloyd LeGarde, G. Alexander, George Dunsford, J. Boyd, Glenn Niles, and the hostesses, Mrs. Halik and Mrs. Mesch.

Mr. and Mrs. Halik are planning to leave shortly for Southern California where they will spend several months. Mrs. Mesch will also leave in a very short time for California as she plans to spend Christmas in San Francisco with her parents. However she will return to Salem after the holidays.

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Powers have taken an apartment at the Royal Court.

The Misses Kantner Hostesses

The Misses Constance and LaVerne Kantner were hostesses at an attractive affair in their home on North Commercial street last night when they entertained at a 21 cover dinner. Tables were arranged in the dining room with lovely centerpieces of holly and red tapers.

Covers were placed for Miss Jessie Miller, Miss Elizabeth Schott-hoefler, Miss Minnie Saalfeld, Miss Myrtle Davis, Mrs. Glenn Gorton, Miss Opal Bumphrey, Miss Anne Schubert, Mrs. Perry, Miss Esther Lampkin, Mrs. Walter Lampkin, Mrs. Leslie Springer, Miss Marcelia Caspell, Miss Verda Olmstead, Miss Ruby Wiederkehr, Miss Frances Wiederkehr, Mrs. Myrtle Hatch, Miss Katie Rinehart, Miss Edith Welborn, Mrs. Tyler Morley, Mrs. W. C. Kantner, and the hostesses, Miss Constance and Miss LaVerne Kantner.

After the dinner the group assembled in the living room where a huge Christmas tree held gifts for all the guests. The remainder of the evening was spent with sewing and music.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS OF MERIT

That will carry your good wishes for many months to come

Purses make a very appropriate gift and we have a very large selection. Every woman should have three and at least two. Daytime purses of leather and evening bags are here in abundance.

Umbrellas for kiddies and grown-ups. Gloria or silk in ten and sixteen rib quality steel frames. Handles, tips and ferrules to match are carved of wood, amberett and other colorful compositions.

Vestees, lace collar and cuff sets and silk scarfs are packed in holiday boxes and make an ever acceptable gift. From dainty little collars to imported sets are all in a class of their own.

Gloves of fabric with fancy cuffs embroidered in brilliant colors are something that will surely please. Then too there are the French imported skins that every woman should have for dress wear.

And "Oh Bess," the kerchiefs. Hand tinted georgettes and Crepe de Chines, just the daintest, loveliest things you ever looked at. Yes, and there are some to use, too—lawns, linens 'n everything.

Our jewelry department has grown by leaps and bounds. Probably because there are so many nice things at prices so reasonable it is almost unbelievable.

Why, Hosiery, of course—why in the world didn't we think of that before. Nice sheer chiffon or service weight, full fashion all put up in gift boxes. One or three pair to the box just as you desire.

There are hundreds of other things here too that just fit into that Christmas list
