NIMRODS ASK AID FOR CASCADE LAKES

JAKE SCHAEFER USES FATHER'S FAVORED STYLE

By MAURICE DALY

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—It is but natural that old memories returned last night when Jake Schaefer employed the marvelous style of his father to triumph over Welker Cochran in the third block of their 18.2 balk line match for the world's title, now held by Cochran.

Schaefer, who has won the first three blocks of this 1500 point struggle, now leads by 900 to 590 points. Cochran's last chance to keep his crown will come this afternoon and evening when the final two blocks will be played. The champion faces a man-sized job.

The game last night was sprinkled thickly with difficult shots by both men. In the 21st inning Cochran thrilled the spectators by snapping into his stroke and displaying the technique for which he is famed.

The matchless skill of old Jake Schaefer's son imbued the old timers with thrill after thrill in the 22nd inning for the challenger. Balk line nursing, which many billiard neophytes would learn or have given a year of their lives to learn; mass shots which drew bursts of applause—all reminiscent of old Jake.

On an on drove young Jake, his features fixed in a grim mask of concentration. An easy carom proved his undoing but only after he had made the high run of the evening, a string of 137.

Cochran tried determinedly, but it was useless. Seven points, a molehill of this mountain of 1500 and he was back in his chair while the challenger reeled off four fast points to end the block.

Schaefer's average for the night was 37½ to 24 6-7 for the champion.

ORANGEMEN EKE OUT 27 - 26 WIN

Denver, Colo., Dec. 21—The Pratt Book store professional basketball five fell victim to the Oregon Aggies' percentage system in a tight game played here Monday night as the second step on the eastern tour of the Beavers.

Leading 17 to nine at the half the Beavers succumbed to the high altitude and barely emerged with a 27 to 26 victory.

The Aggies left Tuesday for Omaha where they will engage Creighton university in a two game series December 22 and 23.

FRESHMEN CAPTURE FIRST HOOP TILT

Dallas, Dec. 21—Willamette Frosh under the direction of Leslie Sparks invaded Dallas successfully Tuesday night defeating the local high school 26 to 18.

Fritz De Harpport tallying 18 points was the scoring ace of the freshmen who jumped into a 10 to five lead in the first quarter which they held for the remainder of the game with a slight gain in the third and fourth quarters.

Sparks used two full teams both of which showed up well, giving promise of a successful hoop season.

Gerlinger, center, and Svnon, forward, showed up best for the locals, scoring half of the 18 points.

The two teams will play a second game in Salem January 4.

Havana — Adolfo Luque, pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds was fined $30 in correctional court for attacking Mike Gonzales of the Chicago Cubs, who was umpiring a ball game between the Aledares and Havana Cubs.

Kansas City, Mo. —Russell Hall of Los Angeles, president and organizer of the Professional Baseball Players' association, will be a guest of professional baseball players in this section Friday.

Oregon Sportsmen Rally Against Reclamation's Inroad On Clear Lake

By DWIGHT O'DELL

Oregon sportsmen are mustering resolutions against the proposed irrigation projects which would take water from Clear Lake, generally conceded to be the head water of the McKenzie river. Lane, Linn, Benton, Marion and Deschutes county organizations have registered already their disapproval of the move.

Clear lake, which lies in the Cascades almost midway between Albany on the west and Prineville to the east, has never been stocked with fish in the memory of the present generation of sportsmen.

Despite its practical inaccessibility by automobile it has been a haven for nimrods of the entire state who each year take large numbers of fish from its waters, until the supply is gradually diminishing.

At the meeting of the Santiam association in Albany last week the task of restocking the lake was discussed and the project was received with favor. Sportsmen demand however that the state fish commission lend its full cooperation to the move.

Another body of water which is a jewell for men who like to buck into the real wild west is Pamelia lake at the base of Mt. Jefferson which has a stock unsurpassed in quantity in the Cascades. Three Salem men were the first non-professionals to break through last spring and were followed a week later by a party of nine local sportsmen. Due to the high altitude Pamelia is open less than four months during the year giving it ample protection from fish hogs.

Any attempt to reach the lake by an amateur trailsman is practically useless before May 25, Iola Smith, Doug O'Hara, Daryl Evans and C. E. Kendall, the latter a professional packer, went through June 18 last summer out of Detroit. So difficult was the trail that it took the four more than six hours using fast trail horses to travel between 19 and 20 miles, all a steady, upyard climb.

Anyone enjoying comfort on their week end fishing trips should not attempt Pamelia lake for it is a back breaker to a novice horseman but the sportsman who wants real fishing, scenery, and a great trip, don't pass it up.
