The ditch on Norway street in Silverton, dug last summer when the Parker-Schramm company was laying water pipe for the city of Silverton, is still a subject of controversy according to circuit court records. Saturday the Parker-Schramm company and the city of Silverton filed an answer to the complaint brought against them by Frank and Harriet Carpenter of Silverton. In the answer the defendants in the action claim that the ditch did not prevent egress and ingress to the automobile laundry which the Carpenters opened early in the year at the further end of Norway avenue. They say the ditch was lawfully made in pursuance of the construction of a municipal water supply system for the city of Silverton and that the inconvenience, if any, sustained by the plaintiffs was and is a necessary and inevitable inconvenience.

CANSE IS BACK FROM TRIP TO CONVENTIONS

President John M. Canse, of Kimball School of Theology returned yesterday from an extended trip in the east. He attended several educational meetings, including two conferences of theological school executives. One was at Detroit, Mich., a day of more than a week. A volunteer convention. This was the largest gathering ever held bringing together representatives of seminaries of all denominations that train their ministry. The central idea throughout the discussions was the cooperation of all churches, looking toward the more unified program of Protestantism. Dr. Canse represented the Pacific States division at the closing session.

The other meeting of theological school presidents was at Atlantic City, held January 10, at the St. Charles Hotel. This meeting brought together the executives of the several Methodist Episcopal theological seminaries. A memorial to the General Conference that meets at Kansas city in May, looking toward a better support of such schools, received considerable attention. There is a growing belief that the churches must more adequately support their training schools for the ministry and this memorial is calculated to bring together all standard seminaries of the church, under the Board of Education and with a systematic sharing in support from all the churches.

Kimball School seems to be a pioneer in this advance movement, as under the present administration all the annual conferences of the patronizing territory are committed to a definite financial support.

President Canse also visited New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington city, meeting members of several church boards to whom he is satisfied the old Oregon families are in possession of many books and early letters of real value to the re-writing of Northwest history. He says that arrangements are being made to create a department in the library at Kimball School of Theology to receive all such souvenirs of the pioneer day. Next week there will be in New York City a meeting of the commission of the Methodist Church looking toward a better cooperation in this neglected field. Dr. Canse is given credit for initiating this movement at the last general conference of the church.

The labor situation at the United States employment service office in Salem has not improved during the week ending Saturday, January 21. During the week 138 men applied for work and only 44 were placed. Eighty men applied for common labor and 27 were placed. Only three women were placed out of 24 applying for work.

RALPH FINED $250 ON LIQUOR CHARGE

William Ralph, 205 Bellevue, was fined $250 in Salem justice court today as his sentence on a charge of unlawfully possessing intoxicating liquor. He pleaded guilty last Wednesday and requested that sentence not be passed at once.

Justice Brazier C. Small warned Ralph that both he and his wife would be in serious trouble if liquor charge was again preferred, and advised Ralph that he escaped a jail sentence only because of his previous good reputation as a citizen.

Ralph declared when sentence was passed on him today that he did not know the liquor found by officers was in his house and that it got there without any knowledge of his. Small advised him that it was his duty to see that liquor did not get into his house.

WOMEN'S CLUBS OF STATE HERE

Business and professional women from Portland, Albany, Corvallis, Eugene, Silverton, Dallas, Astoria, The Dalles, and Roseburg are in Salem today to attend the state dinner of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's club. Albany club will send one of the largest delegations. Twenty reservations have been made for the Albany group.

State dinners are held several times each year in various parts of the state. This is the first time in more than two years that the all state meeting has been held in Salem.

The executive board will meet at 5 o'clock tonight and a banquet will be served at the Marion hotel at 7 o'clock. Miss Mozelle Hair of Eugene, state president, will preside.

There are 16 affiliated clubs in the Oregon federation with a total membership in the state of 801. The national membership is estimated at 46,700 with 820 clubs in 48 states.

Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, will be the principal speaker at the banquet tonight.

STORE ROBBED AT INDEPENDENCE

Independence, Jan. 21—Gaining entrance through a skylight, thieves made way with a quantity of merchandise from the O. A. Kraemer men's furnishing good store Friday night. Kraemer estimates his loss around $500.

The theft was discovered Saturday morning when Kraemer opened his store for the day. A check revealed about 20 suits, overcoats, shirts, suitcases and perhaps other merchandise that will be discovered later. The loot was taken from the store by way of a back door.

Sheriff Hooker was notified and sent a deputy to investigate. A call was also sent for Joe Murray, berillion expert at the state penitentiary, in the hopes that fingerprints might be found and photographed.

BLIGH'S MONUMENT GOES TO OBLIVION

Air drills and pick axes sounded the death knell to Frank Bligh's derrick on the courthouse parking strip early this afternoon. In a few hours' time the concrete base had been broken down and all debris removed in a big truck.

The steel derrick was removed day before yesterday and placed in storage at the Salem Iron works. Bligh has as yet made no plans for its disposition. The steel was cut through at the base by acetylene blow torches.

The only visible evidences of Bligh's attempt to construct a sign across State street remaining tonight are an uneven patch of dirt in the green lawn and the absence of two rebarushes in the row stretching the block length.

ASK HUMANE OFFICER TO GET PLACE FOR BOYS

Just what people think a humane officer's duties are and how much a county officer can look after the affairs of other counties is perplexing Dr. W. G. Morehouse, veterinarian and county humane officer who is in receipt of a letter from a county seat town within 50 miles of Salem. Because of the nature of the communication names are omitted. The same spelling is used.

"Can't there be something done about the boys who deliver the... paper, they have to sit on the cold sidewalk for 1/2 to 3/4 quarters of an hour every... to fold the papers," the letter reads.

"I think there should be a room for them to fold in out of the storm and cold, either the agent or the... should furnish a place. Now the (home town paper) furnishes a place for their boys, if it was a dumb brute being so treated there would be some thing done in a hurry. Just call around any time and see for yourself if this is not so, they have been sitting in the cold there every day for almost 4 weeks, the parents don't care what it is or their boy might lose his job, this is from one who lives near and knows what he is talking about, a non resident at that."

"don't let Mr. ... know how you got the word as he might fire the whole bunch of delivery boys, thereby doing them an injustice."

"There is no use to notify the police here, he won't do any thing."

NEW DORMITORY AT UNIVERSITY

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan. 21. (Special)—When men students enter the University of Oregon next fall they will find attractive and up-to-date living quarters for more than three times as many as can now be accommodated in Friendly hall, the present dormitory. It is announced, following the approval given today by the board of regents for the immediate erection of a new dormitory, to cost $300,000.

This structure, which will be constructed under the enabling act passed by the last legislature, will house 228 men in a three-story brick, fireproof, unit type quarters. The enabling act, passed for the benefit of the university and the agricultural college, allows the institutions to construct buildings for dormitories, finance them with bonds and then repay the bonds with income from the buildings themselves. No state money will be used, it is pointed out.

CHAMBER TO HEAR ABOUT INDUSTRIES

The luncheon programs of the chamber of commerce in the immediate future will deal with the problems of bringing more and greater industrial development to the city. Otto Hillman, fuel dealer, is chairman of the industrial committee and is cooperating with the program committee in securing suitable talent.

George H. Wisting, manager of the industrial department in the Portland chamber, will address the luncheon next Monday on the subject, "Economics of Industrial Development," treating the subject in the light of what line of industries

HEALTH BUREAU PROGRAM FOR COMING YEAR

Sanitary control in Marion county, safety of the milk supply, the water supply, and the sewage disposal problem, will be emphasized by the county health officer and the Marion county child health demonstration during the remaining two and a half years of the demonstration program.

This statement was made this morning by Barry Smith, director of the Commonwealth Fund which is financing the five-year health program in Marion county. Mr. Smith leaves tonight for New York after a four-day visit in Salem.

"During the past two and a half years," said Mr. Smith, "the emphasis of the demonstration program has been placed on child welfare, the nursing service, the dental clinic work, and the teaching of health education in the schools. This work will be maintained, but more emphasis will be placed on the sanitary control as a preventative to the development and spread of disease in the county."

A chimney fire at Liberty and Union streets called the fire department out at 7:30 Friday evening. Because the resident of the house there did not specify that it was a chimney fire, the regular equipment had to be turned out and the siren sounded to call in the off-duty.

Charged with vagrancy, James Purcell and James Larson were turned over to Salem justice court Saturday morning by Frank Minto chief of police. Both men were committed to the county jail not having $350 bail. Larson plead guilty and his case was continued for sentence. Purcell asked time to consult an attorney.

Motion day was held in Marion county circuit court this morning with three cases set by Judge Percy R. Kelly for hearing before jury in court next week. The second week of the January term of court will open Monday at 10 o'clock with the case of Rich vs. Miller.

11 TO 20 YEARS FOR $4.65 THEFT

Longview, Wash., Jan. 21. (Sp)—George Falconer, 27, Klamath Falls, Ore., was sentenced 11 to 20 years in the Washington state prison and T. R. Robinson, 22, of Oakland, Calif., to seven to 15 years, on a robbery charge of Covilts superior court today. Both pleaded guilty. William Raffner, 16, Seattle, associated with the men in a robbery station on the Pacific highway at South Kelso, December 31, will have a hearing in juvenile court Monday. He has confessed. The robbery netted $4.65. The men were caught by sheriff's officers 15 minutes after the robbery was reported.

The car driven by Ivan Bode, of Klamath Falls, was taken over by the Pacific Finance corporation of Portland, due to delinquent payments.

Motion day was held in Marion county circuit court this morning with three cases set by Judge Percy R. Kelly for hearing before jury in court next week. The second week of the January term of court will open Monday at 10 o'clock with the case of Rich vs. Miller.
