Reception To Follow Concert

Announcement has been made that an informal reception on the stage of the theater will follow the concert which Miss Winifred Byrd will give in the Capitol theater on Thursday evening, March 22. Miss Byrd is a well known pianist and concert artist, who has a national reputation as a pianist and concert artist, will be greeted personally immediately after the concert.

Miss Byrd has planned the reception particularly in order that she may see and meet old friends whom she has not yet been able to visit during her Salem stay.

There are many Salem men and women who remember very clearly the childhood days of the "little devil of the keyboard" as she is called by eastern critics. They remember the days when musical opportunities in the town of Salem were practically non-existent and when the little daughter of Dr. W. H. Byrd with the all-absorbing passion for music followed the town band around the streets. They remember the summer when Frances Felton Jones of New York, formerly a Salem girl, visited in Salem and became intensely interested in little Winifred Byrd who had been studying piano with Beatrice Shelton. Mrs. Jones persuaded Dr. Byrd that his daughter had real talent and that she must study in the east.

Friends who had been interested in the little Byrd girl in her pig-tails days remember the preparations made for the trip back to Boston, where she studied at the New England conservatory with Carl Baerman. The next news that the "home folk" had was when the little Salem girl started for Europe to study in Berlin with Theresa Carreno. Much hard work followed. Then came the war which put a sudden stop to plans for a European debut.

Next was a period of which home folk know little. Without friends or influence the girl started anew in New York, never doubting her ability to reach the top in the musical world. That is a period in her career which has always interested her old friends in Salem and because it was such a hectic time of work and worry Winifred Byrd has always been uncommunicative on the subject. There is one story which she is telling now for the first time—the story of how she ran away from her first concert.

The story of how her debut in Aeolian hall became an actuality sounds like a fairy story or Horatio Alger tale. When the war made European study impossible Miss Byrd came back to New York and lived for a while at the Marlborough hotel. There she had neither friends nor relatives in the east. Living at the Marlborough were Nena Morgana, now a member of the Metropolitan opera company, and Guiomar Novaez, a Brazilian pianist. They took a fancy to this young pianist and one evening invited her to go with them to the home of a prominent and influential New York woman, Mrs. Marie Gould. During the evening Miss Byrd was asked to play. Mrs. Gould's reaction was instantaneous and she told the little Salem girl that any time she was ready, she herself would see that a debut concert in Aeolian hall was possible.

Hours and hours and days and days of work followed. Mrs. Gould had many prominent friends in New York and she would take Miss Byrd with her and they would call on these men and women. Mrs. Gould would ask Miss Byrd to play for them and if they were interested they would take a box. This Miss Byrd called "playing for a box." When all the boxes were taken the concert was assured.

All plans were made for the debut in November, 1917. The big day arrived and now comes the part that only a few of her western friends know. Winifred Byrd ran away from her first concert. Worn out by the months of practicing and the tremendous strain of her debut on which her entire future depended, she wandered in a daze along the North river docks. Her manager and friends were frantic. Late in the evening she was found by a friend and sent home in a taxi. A nervous breakdown followed but the plucky girl came back and started again. The debut was actually made on February 27, 1918, in Aeolian hall and the tremendous success which has been hers since that time is a story well known by Oregon friends.

The concert at the Capitol next Thursday will be the only public appearance of Miss Byrd in the west during this season.

Silverton — The Friday evening feature of the 29th annual convention of the Marion county Sunday schools to be held in the First Congregational church of Salem on Friday and Saturday of this week, will be the program by Dad's Quartet of Silverton, including E. A. Booth, I. B. Alfred, B. J. Day, and A. H. Smith with Mrs. Helen Comstock as accompanist.

The quartet will present the following numbers: "The Keeper of the Light," "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian," "Break My Love," "I Want My Life to Tell," "Oh, How Lovely is Zion," "Have Thine Own Way, Lord."

Mrs. A. L. Brown returned yesterday from a seven months' visit in St. Louis, Missouri, and southern California. In St. Louis Mrs. Brown was the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Matthews. After a month's stay in California, Mrs. Brown spent a short time in Klamath Falls before returning to Salem.

Mrs. Fry, Mrs. Dyer Hostesses

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was the bridge tea at which Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., and Mrs. W. C. Dyer were hostesses yesterday in the Dyer home on North Summer street complementing Mrs. John H. Carson. Bridge was in play at four tables during the afternoon. Members of their bridge club were included in the guest group and a number of additional guests were bidden for the tea hour.

Portland Organist Guest Here

Professor Frederick W. Goodrich, prominent Portland organist and head of the Portland branch of the state music teachers association, was the guest of honor at a meeting of the Salem music teachers last night in the studio of Professor T. S. Roberts.

The purpose and ideals of the state music teachers association and the necessity of cooperation among musicians were outlined by Professor Goodrich in an interesting 20 minute talk. Miss Winifred Byrd, who was also a special guest last night, gave a short talk on her plans for her concert at the Capitol theater on the evening of March 29. A description of the lighting effects which are being worked out was given by Miss Byrd.

At the delight of the 75 association members and their guests in the little audience, Professor Goodrich gave a concert of seven numbers on the Roberts' organ. The organist at St. Mary's Cathedral in Portland for 31 years played the following:

Suite from the Water Music—Handel. Little Bells of Our Lady of Lourdes—Harvey B. Oast. Adagio from Sonata Romantica—Pietro Mascagni. Concerto in G major—Grieg. Christmas Pipes of Countess Clara—Paul Chanson Louis XIII and Padane—Couperin. March of Victory—Moussoursky transcribed by Milstein.

Professor Roberts also played two numbers. He gave Sturges' Intermezzo and Scherzo by Dudley Buck. Guest night was observed last night. Out of town guests were Miss Mitchell and Miss Louise Woodruff of Monmouth.

Mrs. Roberts was assisted in serving late in the evening by Miss Georgia Sneed.

The ladies' social circle of the Knight Memorial church will entertain at a tea in the church parlors Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. Hostesses will be Mrs. E. M. McKee, Mrs. Lloyd LaDue, Mrs. Edgar Lunn, Mrs. W. W. Corey, Mrs. B. F. Adams, Mrs. Dale Hibborn, Mrs. M. B. Riggs and Mrs. J. G. Merchen.

Miss Grace Babcock was chosen worthy high priestess of Willamette Shrine No. 2, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem at the stated communication held Monday evening. Other officers chosen for the coming year were as follows: Maude Scott, noble prophetess; Katherine Bernard, worthy treasurer; Miss Gladys Adams of Woodburn, worthy guide; Justice O. P. Coshov, watchman of the shepherds; Amos Vass, worthy scribe; and Zella Nelmyer, worthy shepherdess.

The new officers and the retiring officers will be guests of honor at a dinner which will be given Monday, April 16, at the Masonic temple, preceding the installation services. Members of the losing side in a recent attendance campaign will be in charge of the dinner with Mrs. Grace Crater serving as chairman. All reservations for the dinner should be made before April 13 with Mrs. Winifred Herrick, worthy high priestess.

All Eastern Star members will be invited to attend the installation ceremonies on the evening of April 16.

Special honor was given at the meeting Monday evening to Sojourner Nellie Taylor, the eldest member of the Shrine. New ritualistic work was exemplified. With covers placed for 55, supper was served into in the evening at the plucky girl centered with bowls of white spirea, green tapers in crystal holders and St. Patrick's novelties. The committee in charge included Sojourners Clea Cashatt, Zella Nelmyer, Grace Crater, Charles L. Hogmeyer, Katherine Bernard, Vera Barrick, Hazel Hughes, Elhel F. Headrick, Samuel Gillette, Joy Turner Moses and Gladys Adams. A birthday cake was featured in honor of the eighth anniversary of the organization of Willamette Shrine.

Mrs. Lucille Sweeney Hostess

Mrs. Lucille Sweeney entertained her bridge club and several additional guests at an attractive luncheon at the Elks club yesterday followed by an afternoon of cards. Special guests were Mrs. Arthur H. Moore, Mrs. H. S. Poissal and Mrs. J. A. Bernardi.

Who is She?

You simply can't keep people from wanting to know who you are when you're as sparkingly fresh and crisply beautiful as dainty Georgette Vorel, lovely New York City girl who lives at 782 Carrol Street, Brooklyn. Everyone admires her lovely figure, and her marvellously clear, rose-lined complexion; but women marvel most at the softness and lustre of her hair.

"I am so busy that I have almost no time to give to my hair," says Miss Vorel, "and I really don't know what I should do about it, if I hadn't learned how so many of my girl friends here in New York are taking care of theirs.

"It's so simple. All you do is put a few dashes of Danderine on your brush each time you see it. This wonderful preparation keeps my hair so soft and lustrous that many friends have commented on it. It makes my scalp feel just grand and all dandruff disappeared with the first few applications. It keeps my hair so clean that I don't have to shampoo nearly so often as I used to."

Danderine isn't oily and doesn't show. It makes hair easy to dress and holds it in place. All drug stores have the 3c bottles. Lovely hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents.

Members present were Mrs. Harvey Evans, Mrs. Charles Brant, Mrs. Charles McKinley, Mrs. O. A. I. Abrams, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. M. E. Estes, Mrs. John Seymour, Mrs. E. E. Buckles, Mrs. Percy Pugh, Mrs. Mark Baker, Mrs. Vern Newcomb, Mrs. C. T. Ellison, Mrs. R. C. Churchill, Mrs. Jay Woodard, Mrs. B. W. Walcher, Mrs. Frank Alley, and the hostesses, Mrs. Raymond and Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Thomas Dalke and Mrs. J. V. Lehman entertained a group of their friends at the home of Mrs. Dalke on the Silverton road on Sunday afternoon. The event honored the birthday anniversaries of both Mr. Dalke and Mr. Lehman and the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dalke.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dalke, Mr. and Mrs. John Edger, Sr., and their son, Herman, Mr. and Mrs. John Edger, and their son, Robert, of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. William Natziger and their children, Edgar, Emaline, Eveline and Ralph, of Pratum; Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Lehman, and children, Melvi and Bernice, of Hazel Green; Mrs. Fannie Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. E. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dalke and children, Harold, Herbert and Irene, Norman Falke, and Miss Clara Mae Dalke, all of Salem.

The Kensington club will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. O. J. Wilson at 1336 State street.

He Likes to Hold a Soft, Velvety Hand Not a Nutmeg Grater

What man ever got a thrill out of holding rough, scratchy hands? And what girl isn't ashamed of them? So don't neglect them—not when it's so easy to keep them always soft, lovely and alluring in looks and touch. All you have to do is rub Joint-Eks on them, working it in and between the fingers for two or three minutes until it is absorbed and you'll hardly be able to believe your eyes, so smooth and silky textured will they become. Try this two or three times a week and you'll always be the possessor of hands you are proud to show. Joint-Eks is obtainable at all druggists. Only 60c a tube. Capital Drug Store sells lots of it.
