Jack Kearns Suit Against Dempsey Near Settlement

New York, April 21. (AP)—Jack Kearns' suit against Jack Dempsey for $701,026.90 today seemed to be fairly on its way to settlement after months of sparring, court delays and one no-decision trial.

After the first day of the trial in federal court here Friday, Judge John C. Knox adjourned court until 10:30 a. m. Monday with the opposing counsel in a clinch over contracts.

Arthur T. Driscoll, chief counsel for Dempsey, announced that he had turned down an offer for settlement out of court, but refused to say who made the offer. Kearns' counsel denied knowledge of any such offer.

"Why should we offer to settle out of court when we've had all the better of the trial so far?" Art Sager, chief counsel for Kearns, said.

For the benefit of the boxing world, Dempsey reiterated that he would not enter the ring again if he lost the suit.

"Nothing could make me fight again," Dempsey said.

BASEBALL AND TENNIS MEETS OFF FOR TODAY

And, still it rains. Everything on the sports calendar for today was cancelled except the swimming meet between Salem and University high tonight, the golf match in the morning between Salem high and the O. A. C. varsity, and the four-team indoor track meet at the horse stadium.

Willamette university diamonders were to have engaged O. A. C. in a double-header at Corvallis this afternoon, but this was cancelled by a long distance call to Coach Keene at 10 o'clock. The games have been shifted to next Monday and Tuesday. If not played on those days, they will be removed from the slate entirely.

The Salem-University high baseball game to have been played at Oxford park this afternoon was called off.

So was a tennis meet between Albany and Salem high schools at the state hospital courts.

The Salem netters lost Friday afternoon to University high 4-3.

The track meet this afternoon at the state fair grounds in the horse stadium will find cinder path artists from Independence, Dallas, Silvertown, and Salem competing. All the standard events will be run off except the hurdles.

If the weather clears up, the sport calendar for next week will be full for all schools in Salem. Several baseball games, tennis and golf matches, and track meets are slated.
