

BUTTER STEADY; EGGS HIGHER; POULTRY FIRM

Portland, Ore., April 21. (AP)—Hovering around the 39-cent mark the butter market remained steady today with prices of prime firsts 38 1/2 and 39 cents. There was a good demand for butter for shipment to Seattle, Tacoma and other cities in western Washington and a number of local creameries were billing their product direct. This had the effect of building up a firm market on all grades. Remaining firm, the egg market was in healthy condition. Standard extras and standard firsts were chalked up at 24 and 25 cents. More than 800 cases went into storage. Poultry retained its somewhat firm level with top price broilers bringing 28 to 30 cents. Light lights at 17 cents counterbalanced the market.

WILKINS FLIES OVER POLE TO SPITZBERGEN

Portland, Ore., April 21. (AP)—The American Red Cross today transmitted $5,000 through the state department to the Bulgarian Red Cross for relief of earthquake sufferers. Washington, April 21. (AP)—The American Red Cross today transmitted $5,000 through the state department to the Bulgarian Red Cross for relief of earthquake sufferers. Success came to Wilkins on his third expedition. Two previous attempts at aerial exploration of the "blind spot" lying north of Point Barrow were unsuccessful. In the first of these in 1926, Palmer H. Hutchinson, a Detroit newspaperman accompanying the expedition was killed at Fairbanks when struck by the propeller of one of Captain Wilkins' planes. In the second attempt, made the following year Captain Wilkins flew out into the Arctic spaces and was forced down. Several days later he returned to Point Barrow, reiterating his conviction that a plane could fly to Spitzbergen and his determination to try again. Captain Wilkins' expedition is sponsored scientifically by the National Geographic society and financially by The Detroit News and by a fund raised in Detroit. A wooden plane was chosen by Captain Wilkins for his latest quest because he believed it would be less affected by ice, and hence more manageable than the all-metal ship he had used in the past. The plane is a trim, fast craft with bullet shaped fuselage. Its cruising speed is about 115 miles an hour and its cruising range 3,300 miles. Hatten, N. D., April 21. (AP)—O. Eielson, father of Lieutenant Carl B. Eielson, received a cablegram today from his son at Spitzbergen saying "arrived safely, will be home soon." Hatten, the birth place of the pilot of Captain George H. Wilkins' Arctic expedition, celebrated the success of the flight it has watched with unusual interest. Eielson is 37 years old and spent his boyhood in the outdoors of North Dakota before studying at the University of North Dakota, Georgetown university, and the University of Wisconsin. The cold rains, however, checked the sap flow, started the blossoms, and when the rain is as heavy as it has been during the past three weeks it washes the pollen out of the blossoms as fast as it becomes free enough to be picked up by the wind and scattered. Meanwhile it has been so wet the bees have not had much chance to work and conditions generally are extremely unsatisfactory. "In the berries the same condition prevails. It has rained so constantly that practically none of the berry fields have been cultivated. Strawberries have not been hoed and the weeds are rampant among the vines. The time to train these vines is when they are dormant at which time they are capable of standing a great deal of handling without any damage. The handling of the vines, however, after the lateral shoots have made three or four inches of growth results in heavy damage on account of the breaking off of large quantities of tender fruit growth. The same conditions prevail in raspberries and loganberries. It has been so wet that it has been impossible to do any work in the fields and quite a number of fields have not as yet been tilled, which means that the vines are still lying on the ground, new growth is coming out and will be injured when the weather is good enough to permit the growers to train these vines on the wires which carry them about three feet above the ground, so as to permit easy access for picking, and also keep them out of the way when the cultivation is being done."

RAIN REVERSES FRUIT OUTLOOK PAST 3 WEEKS

While three weeks ago the prospects indicated the biggest crop of fruit in western Oregon and Washington that those sections have had for many years, conditions now seem just the reverse, according to a letter sent out by Robert C. Paulus to the brokers of his company. "During March we had 7.65 inches of rainfall, the heaviest rain we have had during March for probably 25 years. This was followed by clear, warm weather which brought the fruit to blossoming with a rush. Just about the time, however, prunes, cherries and pears came into bloom, it started to rain and hasn't done anything else since, except occasionally to hail and on the higher elevations, snow," writes Paulus. "A warm rain after sunshine would not have done much damage. The cold rains, however, checked the sap flow, started the blossoms, and when the rain is as heavy as it has been during the past three weeks it washes the pollen out of the blossoms as fast as it becomes free enough to be picked up by the wind and scattered. Meanwhile it has been so wet the bees have not had much chance to work and conditions generally are extremely unsatisfactory. "In the berries the same condition prevails. It has rained so constantly that practically none of the berry fields have been cultivated. Strawberries have not been hoed and the weeds are rampant among the vines. The time to train these vines is when they are dormant at which time they are capable of standing a great deal of handling without any damage. HOMECOMING IS HELD BY AGATE REBEKAH LODGE

Monmouth, Apr. 21.—The annual homecoming of the Agate Rebekah lodge No. 17 was held Thursday evening in the Odd Fellows hall at Monmouth. About 260 were present and the members who could not be there sent in messages to be read for them when the roll was called. There were also visitors from the Independence and Albany lodges. The following entertainment was given: violin solo by Mildred Scott; vocal solo by Mrs. E. J. Partlow, reading by L. B. McCluedon, two vocal selections, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," and "Give Me Your Smile," by John Lehman; a feature dance by Miss Murdoch and Miss Sloan, and a vocal solo, "Baby You're a Mystery," by Bob Allen. After the program, refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was enjoyed by dancing and card playing. The Traveler's orchestra furnished the music.

METHODISTS BAN MARTIAL MUSIC

One of the important matters of business will deal with the Episcopacy. Five bishops, having reached the age limit, will retire. One faction in the church favors returning bishops in foreign lands to the United States to fill vacant places, sending nationals to succeed them in the other work. It is probable that not more than three bishops will be chosen. None is likely to be a western man. Dr. Doney and Dr. Steeves are on the Episcopacy committee.

It is believed that action will be taken to have district superintendents elected by the annual conference instead of appointed by the bishops as at present.

If such action is taken, Dr. B. S. Leach, whose term in the Salem district expires this year, must stand for re-election by the next Oregon conference. He was appointed by Bishop W. O. Shepard. Action also probably will be taken to admit laymen to the annual conferences along with pastors to participate in business matters of the churches.

While in the east, the Oregon lay delegates will attend sessions of the national men's council of Methodists.

May 12-13. Sixteen speakers of national reputation will be on the program.
