

POPCORN AND EGGS MARKET EASING OFF ON PRICES

Portland, Ore., Nov. 21 (UP)—Egg market prices continue to reflect an easy feeling in the Atlantic seaboard trade.

While the undertone of the egg trade has been of fairly good character of late and storage sales have been the greatest on record, the market in general is much of a weather affair.

Market for butter is showing a generally steady tone. It looks as if the late decline in cubes here was a trifle premature.

With prices fractionally better the market for chickens is very firm. All sorts are wanted quickly.

Good movement of country killed meats is shown for the day. In all chickens, veal, mutton, and beef, the call appears adequate to take care of current offerings without affecting the price.

Owing to the fact that the supply of cauliflower is dwindling fast, shippers are refusing to accept further carload business.

Onions are steady at late prices. Hothouse cucumbers and tomatoes are firmly fixed.

Cabbage is firm with some quoting an advance.

Rose Marie Recognized As Leader Among American Musical Shows

Rose Marie, which will be seen at the Elsinore Wednesday, November 28, is undoubtedly one of the greatest and most satisfying musical comedies ever produced in America.

In "Rose Marie," Arthur Hammerstein, the producer, displays one of the most ambitious and worthwhile musical plays that has been shown in the American theater. It is a real musical play with a thrilling plot, a beautiful and unforgettable score and a real company of players.

The story, a deftly staged melodrama which is something decidedly different in musical comedy—and for that alone we should be thankful—is laid in the north woods of Canada where a man's man, Jim Kenyon, is accused of murder, unjustly of course, but it threatens to shatter his romance with the young French-Canadian girl, Rose Marie.

However, all ends well as it should in musical comedy. The score by Rudolph Friml and Herbert Stothart is tuneful, superb and the emotions away along with its varying moods, and glorify our theater in no uncertain manner. The dancing numbers are unique and unusual, especially the Totem-Pole number, which is unhesitatingly pronounced the most sensational thing of its kind ever produced.

You can always depend on Arthur Hammerstein to give you a superior cast, both in singing and acting qualities, and in "Rose Marie" he has lived up to that reputation, for it is proclaimed as the best sung and acted musical comedy of the last twenty years. For his leads he has an ideal of intelligent and well-known cast of players, Virginia Fox, Paul Donah, Mira Nirkka, Charles Meakins, Daisy Gibson, Houston Richards, Daisy Gibson, Sano Marco, Ross Gibson, Gus Buell, and over ninety others, including a symphony orchestra that renders the superb score in thrilling and musically manner.

HAY MARKET Portland, Ore., Nov. 21 (UP)—Hay steady, receipts, eastern Oregon 17,500; alfalfa $19 to $19.50; oat hay $15 to $15.50; clover $14 to $15; straw $12 to $13; selling prices $2 per ton more.

CASCARA BARR Portland, Ore., Nov. 21 (UP)—Cascara bark, steady, 7c per pound; Oregon grape root 1c to 4c.

BUTTERFAT San Francisco, Nov. 21 (UP)—Butter fat, f. o. b. Francisco, 50c.

SAN FRANCISCO APPLER San Francisco, Nov. 21 (UP)—Federal State Market News Service—Apples: Pearmain, packed 3 1/4-4 tier $1.25 to $1.50; alfalfa $19 to $19.50; oat hay $15 to $15.50; clover $14 to $15; straw $12 to $13; selling prices $2 per ton more.

Washington, Nov. 21 (UP)—The price and supply of Thanksgiving turkeys will be matter of conjecture for most sections of the country this year.

Due to continued warm weather packers and dealers are not securing their usual supply, reports to the department of agriculture indicate. The department's officials say that for the first time in many years the cost of the Thanksgiving piece de resistance, and the quality of the supply, may be a matter on which most markets will have little information until the holiday purchases start.

Foreign markets are also reported as more active and firmer in prunes and a cable from Hamburg of November 1 advises that unsold supplies of prunes there are small and that the trade would soon be finding the requirement of making new purchases of California stock, says the California Fruit News. In the meantime prices have been going up lately on prunes in Germany and when quantities already held there are sold, further advances in price in California are expected against new requirements. A recent report from Yugoslavia states the prunes exportable surplus there again a little smaller and flatter than in sizes, 5 per cent of total crop will run 70-75, 20 per cent 80-85 and 40 per cent 95-100, the balance of smaller size. This shows sizes, Yugoslav advises say, a little better than at first expected.

Driving directly southward for South America the Maryland will reach Guayaquil, Ecuador, about November 30, where President Isidro Ayora is expected to welcome the president-elect. After one day there the Maryland is to proceed to Callao, Peru, the official party driving by automobile to Lima, where Mr. Hoover will spend a night and a day. The goodwill party is to be welcomed there by President Augusto B. Leguia and received at several formal functions.

Reaching Valparaiso, Chile, December 7, Mr. Hoover will depart immediately for Santiago and go across country by train to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where the party will spend a day and a night. Then it will proceed to Montevideo, Uruguay, and Rio de Janeiro on the return trip northward, the itinerary for which is not yet completed.

After a reception at Anapala by President Miguel Paz Barahona, of Honduras, the president-elect will proceed by small boat ten miles to La Union for a welcome by Dr. Pio Romero Bosque, president of Salvador.

Mr. Hoover today sent his regrets to Panama and Guatemala for his inability to make stops in those republics on this trip. His messages told of his deep interest in them and spoke of hoping to visit them at some later time.

The president-elect has entered completely into the life aboard the Maryland. He posed for pictures with the Maryland's championship football team and was introduced to Miles B. Timmins, of Boston, the team's captain, who was described as one of the navy's great players and one that Stanford university would like to have for its big game next Saturday with the University of California. Mr. Hoover shook hands with Timmins and chatted while the cameramen got busy.

Mr. Hoover's dinner guests last night included Captain Victor A. Kimberly, the Maryland's commander. The dinner opened the formalities of the tour, all guests appearing in dinner dress.

SILVERTON WOMEN BACK Silvertown, Nov. 21.—Mrs. C. J. Rosheim and Mrs. Frank Powell have returned from a four weeks' trip to the middle west. She took Mrs. Rosheim's father, Ole Thompson's body to Flarendau, South Dakota, to be interred. They visited relatives of the Rosheims at Sioux Falls, Pipestone, Toronto, White, Aberdeen and Redfield, South Dakota. There was snow the first two weeks of their trip, but not extreme cold weather.

When "Rose Marie" comes to the Elsinore Theater on Wednesday night, Nov. 28, Salem theater-goers will have their first chance to hear the famous "Totem Pole" song. Here are three of the young women in costumes of the song and dance number.

FOREIGN PRUNE MARKET ACTIVE TURKEY PRICES ALL GUESSWORK

WOOL, MOHAIR PRIZES WON BY OREGON EXHIBITS

Three out of seven championships for wool and mohair at the recent wool show held at the Pacific livestock exposition came to western Oregon wools. Simon Kiechle of Siltrons had the championship mohair fleece and in addition to winning $25 in cash prizes, won a handsome mohair cushion presented by L. C. Chase & Co., Boston and the Angora Journal, Portland and possession for the year of the Willamette Valley Wool Growers silver trophy. H. H. Smith, of Eugene carried off a similar cup with a championship low quarter buck combing fleece as did J. B. Stump & Sons of Monmouth with the championship Braid fleece.

First place in "kid" mohair fleeces went to W. L. Parker of Elmira with the Oregon State college crowdling closely behind for second and fourth. D. W. S. Wade of Camas Valley was first in the fine wool class. J. J. Thompson of Macleay showed the first place fleece in the Shropshire ewe class and Mrs. Verne Sersanson of Portland was second in that class. Frank Brown, of Carlton, Oregon, placed first fleece in the Hampshire ram class and Charles P. Kizer & Son of Harborside, Oregon, showed first fleece in the Oxford ewe class.

Other winners included G. H. Thompson of Macleay in the Shropshire classes, L. E. Goodbourn of Roseburg in the fine staple class; A. A. Bender of Albany in the Three-Eighths Blood Comb class, R. O. Robinson of Sweet Home, Wm. B. Jr. of Monmouth and J. A. Scott of Lyons in the Quarter Blood Comb class. E. L. Pettibone & Sons of Corvallis and J. H. Vick of Molalla, in the Low Quarter Blood Comb class. H. V. Link of Airline and J. W. Smith and Son of Canby, Oregon, in the Braid Comb class. A. E. Carey of Alsea, George Watson of Eugene, W. L. Parker of Elmira, L. W. Hoffmeister of Boring, and D. W. Fite of Prospect in the mohair classes.

The wool show sponsored by the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers, the largest cooperative wool marketing association in the United States, and which markets the wools of a large percent of the western Oregon wools, is the largest wool show in the United States and is an annual event at the Pacific International Livestock exposition. The show was pronounced by George T. Willingmire, specialist in wool marketing and standardization from the United States department of Agriculture, who judged the fleeces to be the best he had ever seen. Entries came from Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Michigan, and Arizona. 150 growers having fleeces on exhibition. The first place and champion fleeces, including H. H. Smith Low Quarter Blood Combing fleece and J. J. Thompson Shropshire ewe fleece, have been sent to Chicago for entry in the international wool show to be held there in December.

Foreign markets are also reported as more active and firmer in prunes and a cable from Hamburg of November 1 advises that unsold supplies of prunes there are small and that the trade would soon be finding the requirement of making new purchases of California stock, says the California Fruit News. In the meantime prices have been going up lately on prunes in Germany and when quantities already held there are sold, further advances in price in California are expected against new requirements. A recent report from Yugoslavia states the prunes exportable surplus there again a little smaller and flatter than in sizes, 5 per cent of total crop will run 70-75, 20 per cent 80-85 and 40 per cent 95-100, the balance of smaller size. This shows sizes, Yugoslav advises say, a little better than at first expected.
