BOMB INTENDED FOR A. RENHOLD SHERIFF THINKS

Albany—That the bomb hurled into the Grant Thomas yard, near Lebanon last week, was not intended for Thomas but for A. Renhold, hired man who slept in the yard in a tent, was the theory of Sheriff Herbert Shelton and Deputy Sheriff W. H. McClain, who returned Tuesday night from the Thomas farm.

However, after a further investigation the officers are not yet ready to make any accusations, they stated.

Renhold, it was said, in Lebanon had a number of personal enemies and one party suspected of the attempted crime is said to have volunteered the information that the bomb was thrown because Renhold had been considered the instigator of a booze search conducted in Lebanon some time ago.

Officers stated they believed the missile had struck a guy wire from a telegraph pole just outside the Thomas yard, and had it gone farther into the yard serious injury would have been inflicted upon the intended victim.

Blended richness that has won America

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE has that "difference" in flavor which makes it the favorite wherever tastes in food are cultivated.

For Maxwell House is not a single coffee flavor, but a rich, deep, sparklingly mellow blend.

A gentleman of the Old South, familiar with all the choice kinds of coffee, found none of them completely satisfying. So by combining and re-combining, he achieved a new coffee flavor.

The old Maxwell House in Nashville—where this coffee was first served—had a reputation far and wide for its wonderful coffee. Now the fame of Maxwell House Coffee has spread from coast to coast. It is pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale.

You yourself can get Maxwell House Coffee today from your grocer.

BOILED COFFEE—Many people prefer to make coffee this old-fashioned way. Use a heaping tablespoon of Maxwell House Coffee in each cup of water, with one additional spoon "for the pot." Let it just come to a boil and set aside in warm place for 3 to 4 minutes.
