DOCTORING ANIMALS KANSAS GIRL'S PLAN

Manhattan, Kas. (AP)—It is Helen Richt's ambition to be a veterinarian of small farm animals and pets. This freshman blonde with a boyish bob is the first girl ever to enroll in the veterinary medicine curriculum at the Kansas state agricultural college.

A girlhood spent on a farm, where she acquired an early interest in animals, led to her desire to become a small animal practitioner.

The note, which the government never has redeemed, was given Cooper's grandfather in 1776 for service in the Continental army. It was signed by J. W. Watkins and N. Sellers and is dated July 22, 1776.

On one side it "entitles the bearer seven Spanish Milled dollars or the value thereof in gold or silver, according to a resolution of Congress. The reverse side bears a picture—that of a tree standing in a square. The bill has been in the possession of the Cooper family since it was issued.

STUDENTS GIVE YOUTHFUL ZEST TO 'SEVENTEEN'

With a freshness and sincerity that professionals would find difficult to equal, 13 Salem high school students, members of the Technic club, presented Booth Tarkington's play, "Seventeen" in the high school auditorium Friday evening before an audience of 600 students and townspeople.

The students' play of the loves, the tragedies, the embarrassments and the ambitions of the seventeen year old who is "neither man nor child" was well known to practically every one in the audience but the few young people, many of whom actually are the important age of "seventeen," gave a new interpretation to the clever lines of the play. Miss Cecil McKercher, English teacher, directed the production.

Leonard Shaffer, new in dramatic work at Salem high, made a reputation for himself in his presentation of Willie Baxter, the 17 year old. Rose Peterson as Mrs. Baxter, Willie's mother, was one of the most convincing characters of the entire cast. Jean Stridger as the small and very inquisitive sister of Willie, achieved a naturalness and nonchalance that a professional actor might envy.

The audience was treated to the unusual sight of a Japanese boy with a French curl. It took the program to prove that Genesis, the "colored man" who helped about the Baxter home, was actually young Ben Teruski, a southern boy with black hair completed the impersonation.

Other members of the cast were Fred Blatchford as Willie's father; Ellis Harris as Johnnie Watson; Velma May as Mary Patcher; Loby Wilkes as Lola Pratt, the "baby talk lady"; Fritz Arman as Joe Bullet; Joe King as Mr. Patcher; Virgil DeVoe as George Cooper; Lucille Downing as Ethel Boke and Grace Holman as Mary Brooks.

Several features were presented between acts by Elizabeth Waters, solo dancer; Lucille Downing, soprano; and by Willard Moses and Orville Hawk. The high school orchestra directed by Miss Lena Belle Tartar played during the evening.

BRITISH PLANE DESIGNED FROM PTERODACTYLS

Yeovil, Eng. (AP)—Pack a million years in the Mesozoic period when the air was people with those weird flying monsters, the featherless Pterodactyls, science now has gone in its latest attempt to solve the problem of safe flight. Whether the full solution has been reached is still a question but certain it is that a wholly new form of airplane has been designed and flown.

This new type of airplane known as the "Pterodactyl" has been developed many years under the direction of Capt. G. T. R. Hill, late of the Royal Corps. During the last three years Capt. Hill has been making successful flights with experimental machines, differing in detail, but all embodying the same principle of construction; namely, a tailless monoplane wing driven by a pusher propeller, and having a position of the engine and propeller that practically eliminates any possibility of the machine "stalling" in the air. It is this non-stalling feature, it is said, which makes the new machine safer to handle than any type of airplane that has so far been constructed.

ONLY MUSICIANS NEEDED IN CORPS

The popularity of the United States Marine Corps with the young men of the country has increased to such an extent during the past few months, that the ranks are entirely filled with the exception of musicians, Sergeant William H. McClain, stationed here as recruiting officer stated Saturday.

During the past few years many members of the marine corps have been stationed in China, Nicaragua and other foreign countries, and the thrill of foreign travel and new and unusual scenes has so appealed to these men that they have extended their enlistments in preference to returning to the United States.

Enlistments are still open for musicians. Marine corps bands are stationed at Quantico, Va., Parris Island, S. C., San Diego, Calif., Hawaiian Islands, Peking, China; Haiti, the Virgin Islands and other foreign countries. In addition each regiment has its own band.

The men of these various bands were not all accomplished musicians when they entered the marine corps. Sergeant McClain states, but through study and training under competent teachers, they are now qualified to accept attractive positions upon discharge.

Mantorville, Minn. (AP)—One of the rarest bank notes ever issued by the United States government—a $7 bill—is in possession of the J. M. Cooper family here.

The note, which the government never has redeemed, was given Cooper's grandfather in 1776 for service in the Continental army. It was signed by J. W. Watkins and N. Sellers and is dated July 22, 1776.

MAKES RADIO SEARCH FOR HUSBAND; DIVORCED

Malden, Mass. (AP)—Radio has bobbed up in probate court as a factor in divorce proceedings.

Mrs. Sarah J. Edgett seeking divorce from her husband, introduced evidence to show that five different radio stations have broadcast pleas to Ernest J. Edgett to reveal his whereabouts. In spite of all this, she said, she has had no word from him since he went to work one day in 1923 and failed to return. Detectives also were employed and with a lack of success.

The court granted Mrs. Edgett a decree nisi of divorce on grounds of desertion.

DIVIDE ROUTES FOR GATHERING SCHOOL PUPILS

With a gentlemen's agreement that one high school district will not go into another high school district and solicit students, representatives from the Jefferson, Turner, Aumsville, and the other high school districts and the district boundary board have reached a decision on the routes over which each district will transport pupils under the new high school transportation law.

According to the agreement of the four contesting districts the different high schools will be allowed to furnish transportation over the following routes and territories.

Jefferson will be allowed to run high school buses into Marion as far north as the Marion-Stayton road and will draw its pupils from the territory lying south and west of that road. It will include the Sydney, Looney Butte, Parrish Gap and Talbot districts, the Fairview district below the Ankeny hill. Marion county will acquiesce in any Linn county routes approved by the Linn county district board.

The territory lying north of the Marion-Stayton road will be optional between acts by Elizabeth Waters, solo dancer; Lucille Downing, soprano; and by Willard Moses and Orville Hawk. The high school orchestra directed by Miss Lena Belle Tartar played during the evening.

BROADCASTERS' CHARGE MAY BE SET BY SENATE

Washington (AP)—The federal radio commission or any other agency that supervises wireless communication in the future probably will be made self supporting.

At the order of the senate, the commission is preparing a tentative scale of fees to be paid by all broadcasters.

The senate adopted the following resolution: "The federal radio commission is hereby requested to formulate a schedule of fees to be recommended to congress as the charges which should be made for the different kinds of radio licenses issued by the commission. This schedule shall be reported to the senate for its consideration in connection with radio legislation as early a date as convenient."

Senator Dill of Washington says he plans to take up with Representative White of Maine the early drafting of a new and comprehensive radio measure. Provision for broadcasting fees likely will be included in legislation to be considered at the next regular session of congress next December.

Ipawich, S. D. (AP)—The proposed Canada to Canal highway will, by the end of next year, connect Canada and Mexico with a concrete road. J. W. Parnley of Ipawich, president of the highway association, predicts. By the end of 1930 the road will run from Brandon, Manitoba, to Mexico, opposite Laredo, Tex.

Eventually the association hopes to extend the highway to the Panama canal, touching nine countries. From Brandon it is to run through North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, across Mexico, Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica and Panama.
