

BIBLE SCHOOL CLASSES WILL START MONDAY

West Salem—The community vacation Bible school will open Monday morning, June 17 at 9 o'clock and will continue five days a week for two weeks. The Bible school classes will be held in the new grade school building from 9 to 11:30 each morning with classes from the first to the sixth grades. Each pupil is requested to bring a Bible and a notebook.

There will be no charge for the school and the children will receive excellent training under competent instructors, who have donated their services for the work. All parents who have children in any of the first six grades of grade school work are being urged to send them to the vacation school.

Mrs. A. F. Goffrier will superintend the work of the beginners and Mrs. J. R. Benton, that of the juniors.

On the closing day of the school it is planned to hold a picnic and field day for the pupils, teachers and parents, closing in the evening with a program and a demonstration of the work accomplished.

PILOT CIRCLES TEXAS IN DAY

San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—No matter how much old time Texas Rangers stretch the stories of their record rides during frontiers days, they can never make them compare with that of young Lieut. Y. H. Taylor of Kelly Field who recently flew around the state of Texas in one day, covering 2,987 miles.

Lieut. Taylor, himself a former Texas Ranger, sat in the cockpit of a Curtiss pursuit plane for 15 hours and 55 minutes. When he landed at the field near here at night from where he started in the morning he had flown from San Antonio to El Paso, to Fort Sill, Okla., to Galveston, to Laredo, to Brownville, and back to San Antonio.

The purpose of his flight was to determine the distance coverable in one day in a regular service type plane, not specially equipped for the flight. Officers at Kelly Field believe he established a record distance for one-day travel under such conditions.
