WOMAN LOSES LEG AS TRAIN CRASHES AUTO

West Coast Limited Hits Car on Market Street Crossing

Mrs. Charlotte Hardy Badly Injured and Two Others Hurt

Mrs. Charlotte Hardy, 23, lost her left leg at the knee when a light coupe in which she was riding Sunday evening was struck by the Southern Pacific's south bound West Coast limited at the Market street main line crossing.

Two other occupants of the car, Ward Howe of Mill City, and his girl friend, Mrs. Hardy's sister, Miss Ruth Runde, of Mill City were both cut seriously about the head and shoulders.

Mrs. Hardy's right limb was so badly mangled that doctors declared it would have to be amputated, providing she recovered sufficient strength to withstand the operation.

The accident occurred when Miss Runde and Mrs. Hardy, who formerly resided in Salem, called here.

HOUSE PASSES $151,500,000 FOR FARM AID

Washington (AP)—Without a dissenting vote, the house Monday passed a bill appropriating $151,500,000 for the new federal farm board.

Only two short speeches were made against the bill, which was introduced by Chairman Wood of the house appropriations committee.

Representative Hastings, democrat, Oklahoma, said $150,000,000 for a revolving fund and $1,500,000 for administrative expenses were inadequate, contending congress should appropriate the entire $500,000,000 authorized by the farm relief bill.

Representative Byrnes, democrat, Tennessee, also favored appropriation of the entire authorized sum.

Although one hour's time was allotted to discuss the bill, less than 15 minutes was used. The greater part of this time was consumed by Chairman Wood of the appropriations committee in explaining that President Hoover thought the sum would be adequate to start the federal farm board off in its work to solve the farm problem.

The president's budget message requesting the appropriation arrived at the house a few minutes after the bill was passed.

BLAST WRECKS IDAHO BUILDING

Granville, Idaho, (AP)—Dynamite was exploded in a deliberate attempt to wreck the Hickerson building in the main business section here Sunday night and the lives of fifty persons sleeping in apartments on the upper floor were imperiled.

The explosive was placed directly under the ice machine in the butcher shop of John Hans and wrecked the rear end of his establishment with property damage of $500. Occupants of the upper floor of the two story brick building were in many cases thrown from their beds.

The explosion came at 11:45 and by midnight the place was filled with volunteer firemen, who soon discovered a second charge of powder, fuse attached and fire laid. Had this charge exploded death inevitably would have resulted.

4 INCHES OF SNOW FALLS AT TRUCKEE

Truckee, Cal. (AP)—Snow, four inches deep, blanketed the landscape here and at Lake Tahoe Sunday night. The snow fell throughout most of Sunday, while the temperature was around 34 degrees.

High water in the Yuba river caused delay in the through service stage over Donner summit. The Placerville road to Lake Tahoe was reported to be dangerous without the use of chains on automobiles, due to wet conditions.

Good Evening! ASKS SENATE TO CONDEMN MRS. HOOVER

DON UPJOHN OFFERS Sips for Supper

It's all clear now.

Charlie Wilson in the famous saying in his pamphlet that in the Willamette valley winter time is just like springtime, merely got turned around. Evidently, from present conditions, he meant to say that spring and summer are just like winter, which, of course, amounts to the same thing.

But, if you think this is anything, we went over to the coast Saturday and Sunday. While it didn't rain all the time over there, nobody could tell when one rain ended and another rain commenced.

They also told us the waves were running the highest for any June in we don't remember how many years. We looked the waves over carefully figuring on picking one out to bring home and put in the back yard for the children to play with, but couldn't decide on which one we liked the best. On top of that we are not one of those parties who are always running around picking up a piece of nature here and there to clutter up the yard at home with.

We are glad to see that the Portland ball club is picking up a bit and got beat only 30 to 1 in a game with Hollywood. If Portland can keep whittling down the score a little more every game it may win a game by Christmas.

We have never been able to find out just what questions the senators asked Sinclair, but if there were as much damp wool as some of the questions they ask each other, no wonder he preferred going to jail to answering them.

A dispatch to the Oregonian says that 20 years ago John D. Rockefeller's life was saved by recourse to a diet of human milk. And hasn't been milking a good share of the human race ever since?

PLANE CRASHES INTO CHANNEL; 7 LOSE LIVES

Imperial Airways Passenger Plane With 13 Aboard Dives Into Sea

Six Aboard Are Women—Several Americans Are Among Those Lost

Folkestone, England (AP)—The Imperial Airways passenger plane City of Ottawa, with 13 persons aboard, plunged into the English channel off Dungeness Monday.

Seven of those aboard lost their lives. Five others were brought ashore to a hospital.

Six of those aboard were women. Several of the passengers were reported to have been Americans.

The plane was en route from Crofton airdrome, near London, to Paris on its regular trans-channel trip. Something went wrong in mid-channel and the pilot turned back, sending out S. O. S. calls by radio as he retraced his way to the English coast.

Near Dungeness the plane crashed down into the water. The sea was calm and boats hurried to the scene.

The list of those aboard was given out by Imperial Airways as follows:

Mr. Colcum, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Madame Bessinger, Mr. and Miss Fleming, Mrs. Ickerson, Mr. Meister, Miss Roberts, Mrs. Jaracki, Mr. Tatham, Captain R. A. D. Ballari, pilot, and H. R. Barnett, mechanic.

The nationalities of the passengers had not been determined.

At first it had been reported that all aboard the plane were safe and had been taken ashore. Imperial Airways explained the error was based on the mistaken observations of one of their planes which flew over the scene, saw a trawler along.

BORAH OPENS DEBATE TO LIMIT TARIFF REVISION

Washington (AP)—Debate on the resolution to limit tariff revision to agricultural and related products got under way in the senate Monday with an opening statement by Senator Borah, republican Idaho, author of the proposal, that the house had exceeded the republican platform promises in the bill it passed.

"I look upon the tariff revision," Borah said, "as part of the program for farm relief which this special session was called to consider."

"My only purpose in offering this resolution is to have an understanding whether we are to undertake a revision as part of that relief program or whether we are to undertake a general revision."

He said he wanted to determine whether the senate would treat revision in good faith as a prime element of farm relief or merely make it incidental to a general revision.

MURDER LAID TO BOOZE OFFICER

Newport, Ark. (AP)—First degree murder charges were filed Monday against Deputy Sheriff George Johnson in connection with the liquor killing of Mickey Dillon, 22, El Paso, Texas, son of a Texas ranger captain.

Dillon died in a hospital here from two bullet wounds inflicted Sunday night by the deputy when the youth tried to escape after arrest on a charge of intoxication and possession of liquor.

County Prosecutor Hugh Williamson, who filed the first degree murder charges, said Johnson had arrested the youth and was taking him to jail when Dillon broke away. The deputy fired two shots at a distance of not more than ten feet, both striking the youth in the back, Williamson said.

Hawley Engineers Tariff on Bananas But Ignores Vetch

While Congressman Hawley of Salem, who drafted the tariff bill now before congress, succeeded in putting over a tariff on bananas and coconuts, farmers in his own home district who are to a considerable extent dependent upon returns from vetch and rye grass seed are more or less gnashing their teeth because the new bill as reported here so far, fails to show a requested increase in the tariff on the two commodities.

What makes this a more bitter pill for the farmers of Hawley's own district to swallow is the fact that this part of the Willamette

FLORIDA HOUSE PASSES MEASURE AGAINST SOCIAL POLICIES

Washington (AP)—Entertainment of Mrs. Oscar De Priest, wife of the negro congressman from Illinois at the White House last week was condemned in a resolution introduced in the senate Monday by Senator Blease, democrat, South Carolina. The resolution asks Mrs. Hoover "to be careful whom she entertains."

Introducing of the resolution created an uproar in the senate with republicans managing to have the resolution expunged from the congressional record.

Motions to expunge the resolution from the record were sponsored by Senators Edge, republican, New Jersey and Bingham, republican, Connecticut.

Blease finally consented to have it withdrawn from the record.

TURN WATER FROM FILTER TO CITY MAINS

An immediate improvement in the quality of Salem's water supply will be noticeable within a few hours, according to officials of the Oregon-Washington Water Service company who announced that water was turned into the new slow sand filter at the island intake of the system Monday morning, and that the new supply would be turned into the distributing system between 3 and 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Tests of the water sent through the filter during the morning showed it to be of A-1 quality and entirely free of the taste and odor of which Salem people have been complaining for months.

All of the water from the old filter crib will be cut off from the distributing system as soon as the new connection is made.

The company officials also announced that an engineer to design the new permanent filter, to be located at an entirely new intake on the west side of the river above the city, has arrived in Salem and has started work on the new project. This filter will be of the forced-feed type and will be designed to supply an adequate flow of water to meet all of the city's needs for years to come. As soon as the design has been completed work will start on the new project, which the company expects to complete within a year.

The total outlay by the company for improvements now contemplated and under way will be in the neighborhood of $300,000.

$150,000 JEWELRY ROBBERY PULLED OFF

Philadelphia, Pa. (AP)—After blind and gagging two clerks and two customers in the Brooks Pawnshop Monday, six men robbed the safe of more than $100,000 in jewelry and cash and escaped.

The men were believed to have hidden themselves in the building over night.

At least six policemen were directing traffic near the store during the hold-up, it was said.

Joseph Goodman, manager of the shop, freed himself within half an hour, released the three other men and notified police.

HOOPER ACTS ON SLAYINGS BY DRY AGENTS

Washington, (AP)—President Hoover moved Monday to quiet the protests which have arisen during the past ten days over prohibition enforcement shootings.

Finding on his desk at the executive offices this morning a telegram from a group of citizens at International Falls, Minn., asking for "protection" against over-zealous border patrol officers, the chief executive dropped all legislative and administrative business for a time to give personal attention to disposal of the message.

The International Falls telegram was a direct appeal to President Hoover for vigorous action to place responsibility for the killing of Henry Virkula, Big Falls, Minn., confederator, by Border Patrolman Emmett J. White.

The telegram ended with the plea: "For God's sake, help us."

Treasury officials declined to confirm reports that the White Horse had asked for a detailed report on the Virkula slaying, but it was learned that President Hoover conferred with both treasury and justice department officials relative to possible course of procedure.

While the whole matter of prohibition killings was before the president, two of the foremost dry leaders of the nation were White House callers. They were Senator Wesley Jones, republican, Washington, author of the Jones "five and ten" law, and Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church south.

QUAKE SHAKES NEW ZEALAND

Wellington, New Zealand, (AP)—At least half a dozen lives were lost in a disastrous earthquake which rocked northern New Zealand Monday.

Four men were reported to have been killed by a heavy landslide which blocked the Westland river. Two other men were missing in the Westland district. Another man was killed at the Fall Rock cement works.

The main tower of the boys' college at Nelson collapsed and the principal building was reported unsafe for further habitation. Several boys were injured by falling masonry, but none seriously.

Cracks appeared in the walls of numerous business houses in the center of Wellington.

The post office at Westport was badly damaged. A pupil at one of the Westport schools was seriously injured when one of them toppled over. It was necessary to amputate one leg.

BIG STEAMER GOES ASHORE BREAKS APART

One Member of Crew Lost and Many Hurt In Rescue Work

Coast Guardsmen Battle Storm In Effort To Reach Survivors

North Head, Wash. (AP)—All members of the crew of the wrecked steamer Laurel had been removed shortly before noon Monday except Captain Louis Johnson who refused to leave the derelict after-part of the vessel which was pounding on a sand spit just outside the Columbia river.

Six members of the crew who spent the night on the ship were removed by the life saving crew of the Willapa harbor coast guard station and transferred to the coast cutter Redwing.

Johnson refused to leave the ship despite the pleasings of the crew and the rescuer.

Astoria, Ore. (AP)—One man was killed, 24 were rescued and seven were thought still aboard the after part of the steamer Laurel of the Quaker line as the coast guard cutter Redwing, and the power lifeboat from the Willapa harbor coast guard station, prepared to attempt to rescue those still aboard.

Eighteen of the men were brought here Monday morning by the Redwing. Six were at the Fort Canby life saving station on the Washington shore.

The man who was drowned was Russell Smith, 19, of 20 Holton street, Dorchester, Mass.

Four of those brought here were.

DAWES CONFERS WITH M'DONALD ON DISARMING

London, (AP)—America's new ambassador, Charles G. Dawes, and Great Britain's new prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, have launched a new movement toward broad naval disarmament in a luncheon at the little town of Fortrose, Scotland, Sunday. General Dawes and Mr. MacDonald, arrived at an understanding which will prove the basis and beginning of negotiations for their two governments, joined by the other naval powers.

Bare announcement of the accord between General Dawes and Mr. MacDonald was contained in a statement after their conference. The details, they said, would be left to two speeches, both to be delivered Tuesday night. The former vice-president will speak before the Pilgrims at London, Mr. MacDonald before the town council at Lossiemouth, Scotland.

The prime minister, with his own hand, wrote out the summary of the conversation with the new ambassador. He said:

"We have had a conversation regarding the present position of the question of disarmament as between the United States and Great Britain. It has been informal and general, and most satisfactory."

"His excellency, General Dawes, proposes to refer to the subject at the Pilgrims' dinner on Tuesday night, and I shall do the same at Lossiemouth and that is intended to be the beginning of the negotiations. We both wish to make it clear that other naval powers are expected to cooperate in these negotiations upon the successful consummation of which the face of the world depends."

JAPAN AGREES TO COOPERATE IN NAVAL CUT

Tokyo (AP)—Japan's cooperation in any disarmament program negotiations that Ambassador Dawes and Premier Ramsay MacDonald may have begun Sunday at Fortrose was promised Monday by Tanaka, premier, in a statement to The Associated Press.

The premier said: "I cannot fail to be gratified at the report Premier MacDonald and General Dawes have had an important conversation which is to be regarded as beginning negotiations among the powers concerned for the reduction of naval armaments."

"Japan will be quite ready to offer cooperation in such negotiations as she is always anxious to do her utmost to promote universal peace."

Later, addressing Japanese newspapermen, Premier Tanaka said that Japan welcomed the opportunity of further reduction in armaments with a view to lightening the national burden as well as making a contribution to world peace.

He expressed gratification that Premier MacDonald and Ambassador Dawes had emphasized the expectation that all the naval powers would cooperate.

High naval officials received the news with customary caution, a navy office spokesman merely reiterating in general terms Japan's oft repeated willingness to cooperate fully in further reductions.

French Forgive and Forget and Idolize Stowaway In Paris

Paris (UP)—The American youth who staked his own life and endangered that of three others for the glory of sharing in a trans-Atlantic flight was the hero of all Paris Monday, forgiven by the French government for his foolhardiness and cheered by the Parisian crowds for his audacity.

Arthur Schreiber, the Portland, Maine, lad who stowed away on the monoplane Yellow Bird and made the flight from Old Orchard, Maine, to the coast of Spain, was brought along by the French aviators—Jean Assolant, Rene LeFevre and Armino Lotti, Jr.—when they completed their trip to Paris Sunday night.

The fear that the youth would get a cool reception here for endangering the lives of the three fliers on their hazardous journey across the Atlantic by adding his extra weight to the ship was quickly dispelled.
